No Dodging The Issue Now

We have recently been told by Treasury officials that it is "necessary" to inflate the national debt to $45,000,000,-000 this year, but that we needn't worry for this is not the danger point.

But what is to prevent it going up again | man and a far more powerful dictator in Europe next year and the year after-like a snow- than either Hitler or Mussolini, lasted only twenty ball, the bigger it gets the faster it grows? years. And no employer can be comfor such a reason.

There doubtless will be outcries against this ruling of the court, by people who talk loudly about the superiority of "property rights."

There has been an increasing amount of that sort of talk in the United States in recent years. How far it has been inspired and stimulated by Communist workers, following that group's policy of trying to plant revolutionary ideas in people's minds, we have no way of knowing. But the notion that there is something peculemployers is Communist doctrine.

"All Dressed Up"—
From The Christian Science Monitor

The inventive Mayor of New York has an answer to the private army threat in America. As was recognized at the Bund meeting at New York a few days ago, the right of free citizens to wear military uniforms can be abused. Americans don't relish the idea of storm troopers taking the place of police, ostensibly to preserve order but free to

In more than one European country the path to dictatorship has been pioneered by private armies. Usually their excuse was that government could not protect their political meetings. Their larger purpose was to enthrall the unthinking with color and music or overawe the unorganized with regimented force. But the Bund meeting proved that America is neither so intolerant nor so unable to preserve order as to justify private armies. New York made one mistake, it allowed the Bund boys to police the inside of the

Now Mayor LaGuardia has removed this last excuse for fancy uniforms representing political groups; henceforth owners of public halls are to supply ushers. The Bund boys can forget the Horst Wessel song. The tune for them now is "All dressed up and no place to go"-at least no place where their folderol won't look as unnecessary and foolish as it is.

Peace Crusader

Abe (Don't write-phone) Pickis, of Cleveland, who telephones the heads of foreign governments to urge peace, blew into Washington the other day; but all he got was a run-around.

At the White House he was told the President was out of town. Secretary of State Hull sent word he was too busy to see the selfappointed peace-promoter. So did GOP Chairman John Hamilton and Capitol Hill leaders.

Finally Abe made a connection at the Japanese Embassy, but it didn't last long when they learned that all he wanted was to induce Ambassador Horinouchi to sit and "talk things over" with Chinese Ambassador Dr. Hu Shih.

Though Abe's sortie at the Capital was a total loss, he is not discouraged. A pleasant little man of 49 with black, curly hair not a hobby but the great passion of his life. The horrors of war in France, where he was wounded twice, inspired his campaign and his blue eyes glisten when he talks about it.

He spent $3,000 last year in overseas telephone calls. Among those he rang up were Hitler, Mussolini, Franco, Chamberlain, and President Lebrun of France.
