THURSDAY, NOV. 4th, 1909.

The schools in the country districts are beginning to close.

When you are considering a question always weigh the two sides.

Now's the time to think about the putting of water into your house.

Application is the sesame that unlocks the hidden treasures of knowledge.

Every government ought to have the right to ask every citizen what he does to make a living.

There are few idle men just now. If they are idle it is because they want to be.

Prosperity has struck Marshall street work. Power dam—water works—sewer—every one now can do something.

Remember Marvin Williams the humorous lecturer will be with us on next Monday, Nov. 8th. Everybody come out.

When the steam roller gets ahead of a thing it moves. We can appreciate now what the papers said about Taft's nomination.

Parasites sap the life from everything whether plant or animal. Some men get their life and living off of the other part of the race.

What kind a man is there for honest poverty

Who hangs his head and a' that? The coward slave, we pass him, by,

We dare be poor for a' that For a' that, and a' that, The rank is but the guinea's stamp—

The man's the gowd for a' that. What though on homely fare we dine,

Wear hoddin gray and a' that? Gie fools their silks, and knaves their wine

A man's a man for a' that For a' that and a' that, Their tinsel show and a' that The honest man, though e'er sae poor

Is king of men, for a' that.

Ye see yon birkie ca'd a lord, Who struts and stares and a' that?

Though hundreds worship at his word He's but a coof for a' that; The man of independent mind He looks and laughs at a' that;

A prince can make a belted knight A marquis, duke and a' that; But an honest man's aboon his might

Gid faith, he maunna fa' that! For a' that and a' that; Their dignities and a' that The pith of sense and pride o' worth

Are higher ranks than a' that Then let us pray that come it may—

And come it will for a' that That comes and worth o'er a' the earth,

May bear the groe, and a' that; It's coming yet, for a' that— Which man to man, the world o'er Shall brothers be for a' that

Lecture Course
 Some people object to every thing. It is doubtful if they will be satisfied when they come unto celestial glory. They will object to the harps in the angels hand since the music that rises daily will grate on their ears. Some people cannot see any good in the educational course we are having and object although we cannot see what objection they can have. Perhaps our editorial mind is too narrow or too broad to be a fair judge of these things: But to us it is only prejudice and a sign of a lack somewhere. Our course gives us music instrumental and vocal. It gives us an intellectual treat and something to delight the eyes. Now what is there that can be objected to.

Marvin Williams who comes on the 8th of November is giving his lecture in Y. M. C. A. S. and in churches. The Ladies who gave the concert last week had just returned from Panama, where they had given this concert before the Y. M. C. A. in the Canal Zone and were sent there by the Government. They go soon Washington New York and Chicago to give their concerts in the Y. M. C. A. The Robley Male quartette sing for Church Societies. Where is there any ground for objection? We have these concerts and lectures for our good and pleasure and if there is any wrong in them, will some one please tell us where it is.

Development
 In our life it is necessary that we consider the three parts which make up our nature. We have the intellectual, the animal and the spiritual and these parts should be developed in order that we may get the greatest and best out of each of them. Unless we have a sound body we can not develop our greatest strength in the other parts. A man may be a great animal as to strength but a pigmy in intellect or spiritually and he may be a weakling as to bodily strength and a giant in intellect. But these two things are nothing if we are of Lillaputian size spiritually. So when we see school houses we say that is for teaching the intellect. When we see athletics or work, we say that will develop a man in body. Strong as an ox is current expression. When we see the church, we say that is for spiritual development. But when we see the disparity between the attendance at school and the attendance at church, when we see how little time is given to religious duty, we realize that most people do not seek to develop their spiritual nature as they develop intellectually or physically and the knowledge of the things of the spiritual world are woefully in the minority. We have no all around development.

Hook Worm
 The News a few weeks ago had an article on the Hook Worm and its influence on the people of our mountain district. The papers of the last week had the announcement that John D. Rockefeller has given a million dollars to a commission of which the State Superintendent of Instruction of North Carolina has been invited to form a part as also Prof. Claxton, who is known to so many of us and that this commission is to study the question and try to remedy this great disease which is attacking the people of our Southern land. We may say that the head of the Standard Oil is taking the money off the people but on the other hand he is returning it in large sums for the benefit of the people. We trust that this commission will find the means to stop this dread disease which is sapping the life from the young of our land and is sending a great many to untimely graves by making them more subject to tuberculosis and kindred diseases. The Commission is one that inspires respect and we are sure will do its work well. If laziness and shiftlessness is a disease, let's get rid of it.

Won't Take Their Own Medicine
 A Fire Insurance solicitor remarked that if he could have his way about it, there wouldn't be any insurance written on saloon property, but the company wanted that kind of business and so he went to get it from time to time. "That way I get some queer glimpses behind the scenes said he. "The other day, after I finished writing up a policy, the saloonist said to me, 'What will you have to drink?' "I thanked him and told him I didn't drink. "That's all right," he replied 'You're wise. I don't either.' "What's that said I; you keeping a saloon here and don't drink your own goods—what's the reason?" "He swept his hand around toward his shelves and sneered 'Think I'd drink all that dope there? A man's nothing but a fool to drink that lot of slop. That's the worst stuff on earth all fusel oil and every other kind of poison you ever heard of. I think too much of my stomach to pour such garbage into it.' "What are you selling it for to other men for, then, if you know it's not fit to drink?" His answer was what I expected: "For the money that's in it." "Another day I happened in at a very elegant 'family liquor store' on the South Side—a place where nothing was sold to drink on the premises, and which made a specialty of catering to the trade of ladies out shopping for their home tables. As I talked with the proprietor he happened to mention in some way that he was a teetotaler. I asked him how that was. He answered with a crisp laugh: "Oh, I know how the stuff is made." "And he was selling high-grade goods for the best trade." A gentleman who heard these stories remarked: "I have a business acquaintance who is connected with the Schlitz brewery. He told me the other day that the Schlitz Company is practically out of business South of the Ohio River; they are selling virtually nothing in all the Southern region."

Probably the best known criminologist and alienist in the world was Cesare Lombroso, who died at Turin, Italy, on Tuesday of last week. Lombroso, born in Venice of Jewish parents seventy three years ago, was educated at the University of Turin and became an army surgeon after he had gained considerable reputation as a scientist while still a youth. In 1862 having been called to the department of mental diseases in the University of Padua, he began the studies of insanity which led to his fame. His theory that criminals are born to their fate and that they should be treated for disease instead of being punished, for a long time aroused much more ridicule and criticism than approval. But while the idea never has been fully accepted, the world came to recognize in Lombroso a genius whose utterances were always worth consideration. It is interesting to recall that Lombroso many years ago investigated the disease pellagra, tracing it to badly grown maize. For a long period Professor Lombroso held a chair at the University of Turin, also maintaining his medical practice. In later life he became interested in spiritualism, but is said never to have definitely accepted the theories of the spiritualist sect.

Debate of Skyland
 On last Monday evening the announced debate or open night was held at Skyland School House. A large audience was present and music was furnished by a string orchestra. The meeting was opened by prayer and a fine oration was delivered by Mr. Rice teacher of the school. After music the debate was announced. It was impossible for Mr. Murray and Mr. Bunker to be present and the editor of the News and Mr. J. C. Ramsey took their places. Prof. Mitchell of the Marshall Public School took Mr. Henry Ramsey's place. The debate was warm and ably presented and debated and after the judges... (text partially obscured)

Do You Know That
 The South's agricultural production now exceed the total value of the agricultural output of the United States in 1880, and are almost as great in value as the total of the United States in 1897.
Do You Know That
 The South is mining more than twice as much bituminous coal as the United States mined in 1897.
Do You Know That
 Southern railroads must spend $2,000,000,000 in ten years to provide facilities needed in Southern growth?
Do You Know That
 The most comprehensive and remarkable warehousing system in the world is in operation in a Southern town?
Do You Know That
 The South is building two of the most remarkable railroads ever constructed in America, and that one of them is the most unique ever built in the world?
Do You Know That
 The South is now spending 20,000,000 in building cotton mills?
Do You Know That
 The Steel Corporation having $50,000,000 invested in Alabama is carrying out vast improvements which will add immensely to the prosperity of the whole South?
Do You Know That
 Good roads, which mean more for agricultural prosperity than anything else before the public are being built all over the South as never before at a cost of many millions of dollars?
Do You Know That
 All of the present development of the railroad and industrial work in the South is only the revival of what was being done prior to 1860 on a relatively still larger scale which shows the born trait of Southern people to turn to industrial work.
Do You Know That
 The South lost by emigration between 1865 and 1900 about 2,500,000 of its own white people and that this was a far greater loss than the ruin and destruction by war?
Do You Know That
 This drain has largely stopped and that Southern men and boys are now finding more avenue of employment at home than elsewhere?
Do You Know That
 The tide of investment of American and foreign capital and the movement of population is turning southward as never before, and that wonderful things are in store for this section?
Do You Know That
 The biggest immigration movement in the country's history is going on in Texas, where 300,000 people a year are settling, coming in from the North and West, and that this movement of population is tending to other Southern States as well as to Texas?
Do You Know That
 Though the value of the South's cotton crop with seed is between $700,000,000 and $800,000,000 a year, that value is less than a third of the total value of the South's annual agricultural production?
Do You Know That
 With a population less by 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 than was the total population of the United States in 1880, the wealth of the South is $5,000,000,000 greater than the total wealth of the whole country in 1880?—Manufacturers Record.
