Wayne Citizens Will Vote On Whiskey Stores June 1

Date Set By Board of Elections In Special Session Here Yesterday

DATES SET FOR REGISTRATIONS

To Cast Ballots "for" Or "against" Liquor Control Stores For County

Voters of Wayne county will decide on Tuesday, June 1, whether or not the county will have Liquor Control Stores.

This was determined yesterday (Wednesday) when the County Board of Elections met and set the date for the elections.

This call meeting of the Board of Elections came as a result of the County Commissioners having requested, on Monday, the calling of the election.

The Commissioners decided to ask the Board of Elections to call the election after they had received a petition signed by more than 300 people who asked that an election be called.

In the election June 1 the voters will have only two questions to decide between. They are:

"For County Liquor Control Stores."

"Against County Liquor Control Stores."

The election will be held by the regular election officials in each precinct, according to announcement of the Board of Elections, composed of Scott B. Berkeley, chairman; Milford Aycock and E. G. Outlaw, after the special call meeting yesterday.

Registration books will be opened on May 8 and will remain open until May 22 for the registration of all unregistered qualified voters; and May 29, the last Saturday before the election, will be challenge day.

There will be no new registration for the liquor store election, but the books will be open for those who are entitled to qualify for the election because of removal from one precinct to another, because of becoming of age since the last election, or because of any other reason which would entitle them to vote.

Public notice of the election is being given this week as the law requires that notice shall be given at least 20 days before the registration books shall be opened.

The county liquor control stores law passed by the last General Assembly provided that an election might be called by the Board of Elections upon written request of the Board of County Commissioners or might be called by the Board of Elections upon being requested to do so by a petition signed by 15 percent of as many voters as voted for the governor in the previous election.

In Wayne the calling of the election, as stated above, comes at the request of the Board of County Commissioners.

CHIPS OFF THE OLD BLOCK

(By MAURICE L. BLOCK)

Oh, so much beauty goes to waste, We travel in too great a haste, Along the highway we don't see, The flowing plants each with its bed.

We see the blank, burnt over fields, But not the beauty each one yields; We get a blizzard, a heavy view, Nor see the violet struggling thru.

The pastel shades of spring are missed, The dewdrops where sweet Nature's kissed; We see the gnarled persimmon tree, But not the rainbows dance with glee.

We blindly speed, and dash right by, For passing beauty there's no sigh; On drab, grey road our eyes are bent, Too fast we go for honeyed food.

Too fast we go to sympathize With trouble right before our eyes; Too fast to helping hand extend, No faster pace, please God, defend.

Cherry Blossom Queen

WASHINGTON, Miss Sakiko Saito, daughter of the Japanese Ambassador, has been chosen Queen of the Cherry Blossom Festival at Potomac Park to be held early in April.

IN WASHINGTON

WHAT IS TAKING PLACE BY

Put R. Ruffin

UNITED STATES SENATOR

The big drive is on in Congress for action on legislation that may have the effect of virtually reshaping national affairs. The fact that this drive is along many fronts and without the noise of verbal "big guns" does not lessen its significance. And "behind the scenes" is much feeling as legislative generals map plans, form their lines, and prepare for the "zero hour" of voting on measures that affect all our citizens.

The situation in Congress is all the more acute because Congressional procedure is naturally affected by the acts of the legislative and judicial branches of the Government. What will be the final Government policy with regard to the sit-down strikers that may cause concern in the South? What changes, if any, will be made in the President's court plan before it comes up in Congress for a vote? What will the Supreme Court do with regard to the Labor Relations Act, which is certain to influence action on the court plan? Not even the most optimistic member of Congress will attempt to answer these questions today. And they must be answered before the present uncertainty in Congress gives way to certainty—that is before the objective of the "big drive" is clear.

As a result members of Congress are unable to give satisfactory answers to many questions raised by constituents. They are unable to hazard a guess as to what will be done about this or that. They find it difficult to term their own final decisions.

The reason is simple. It is because factors outside of Congress are perhaps more than ever before having a strong effect on legislation. In other words, conditions that are acute today may become less serious tomorrow and make drastic legislation unnecessary. However, they may become more serious and require swift movement in the "big drive."

Whatever else may be said, it can be stated that the President is keenly alive to the situation and his record for action clearly indicates that he will be ready to move at a moment's notice. The fact that all his plans have not been disclosed does not minimize their sweeping character. It has been amply demonstrated that our people by and large have confidence in the President's recommendations and that the Congress, in the final analysis, will be in accord with his more important policies. This will be more in evidence during the weeks ahead.

Our people should not be alarmed by the evidences of the present uncertainty in the legislative branch of the Government. It is in reality a most hopeful sign. It indicates that members of Congress are studying and weighing the various proposals. It is a sign that members have the courage of their own convictions as to what is best for the country. And it is a refreshing indication that this is not a "rubber stamp" Congress.

With it all is new evidence that the day of temporary expedients to meet emergencies is over. The mere fact that the Congress is moving slowly toward final objectives is really a hopeful sign—a sign that the experience of the last decade and all the lessons learned are not being forgotten. That in itself, should allay many fears with regard to Federal activities in the future.

$50 Reward Offered For Old Man's Body

Reward of $50 was offered Monday by the Wayne County commissioners for the discovery of the body of Jim Williams, elderly respected negro of near Fremont, who mysteriously disappeared from his home more than a week ago.

Williams, 60, a basket maker, lived alone, and after neighbors failed to see him for several days, they went to his house and broke open the door. Inside there was pool of blood on the floor, and evidence of a terrific struggle. A small iron safe had been broken open and the place ransacked. It was reported that Williams kept a considerable sum of money in the house.

It is believed that someone robbed Williams, killed him, and hid his body. Neighbors and officials have searched in vain for clues leading to the body or the robbers.

Grange Master To Speak At Belfast School Monday

L. J. Tabor, known as "Smiling Jim," head of the National Grange with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, will speak at a mass meeting of Wayne county farmers at Belfast school on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

This is one of two addresses he will make in this state.

For 14 years Mr. Tabor has been master of the Grange which ranks as the oldest and largest farm organization in this country. It has 8,000 local units with more than 800,000 members. A number of chapters of the Grange have recently been organized in this county.

The farmers of this section are urged to go to Belfast and hear Mr. Tabor.

County 4-H Club Council Organizes in Meet Here

Curry Smith Of Mt. Olive Is Elected President Of The Council

COUNTY OBJECTIVES OUTLINED AT MEET

Other Officers Chosen In Meeting Held At Community Building

The Wayne County Council of 4-H Clubs set up an organization in a special meeting at the Community Building last night.

Curry Smith, of the Mt. Olive club, was named president of the Council which is made up of officers of all the 4-H Clubs in the county.

Other officers named were: Miss Edna Earle Ellis, Rosewood, vice-president; Dewitt Korngay, Seven Springs, secretary; Miss Beulah Davis, Nahunta, treasurer; Miss Luta Belle Smith, Rosewood, historian.

Miss Martha Troutman of Mt. Olive was named chairman of the recreational committee; Miss Edna Earle Ellis chairman of the committee on music; and J. W. Flowers, Mt. Olive, chairman of the program committee. Other representatives from the various clubs will be selected to serve with these chairmen.

Around 20 members of the council were present. Assistant County Agent C. S. Knowles presided over the meeting and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Gertrude Bundy assisted with carrying out the program of the evening.

Mr. Knowles announced that the beautification of school grounds in the county would be a special project for work of the clubs. He outlined county goals as being: 4-H Club in each community; 10 meetings held each year; community project for each club; better project work; organization of county council; plans for 4-H encampment; representatives from each club attending short course; have 100 per cent completed records for club members; and county achievement day.

Joe Braswell, colored, stole six chickens from a backyard in the Georgetown section of Goldsboro one night this week. The next morning he took them down town to sell them and offered them to D. F. McLawhorne, who recognized them as his own chickens that he had missed.

Mr. McLawhorne and others in the store attempted to take Braswell into custody but he ran and jumped into the first car he saw and stepped on the gas. Mr. McLawhorne and several others followed in another car and chased him for five miles. Braswell drove his car into a ditch in Grantham township and ran and jumped into the Neuse River. Those after him divided, some staying on this side and others crossing the bridge. They caught him and brought him back to face trial.

Rabies Prevention Clinics Are Scheduled For County

They Open On April 19 And Close On May 13, Announcement Says

THREE MEN TO HAVE CHARGE OF CLINICS

Law Requires Every Owner To Have His Dog Vaccinated; Cost Refunded

A series of "Wayne County Rabies Prevention Clinics" will be held at all the schools in the county, beginning Monday, April 19, and closing Thursday, May 13, according to an announcement by Health Officer Dr. S. B. McPheeters this week.

According to the state law every owner of a dog should have the dog vaccinated against rabies and it is in line with this law that the series of clinics is being scheduled.

(A half page advertisement in this issue of The Herald explains the law and gives the dates for the clinics.)

The W. H. Pate, member of the health department in chief rabies inspector, and he will be assisted in his work by Dr. T. A. Monk and Dr. R. M. Bailey, all registered veterinarians.

In 1935 clinics were held and a number of persons were licensed to conduct the clinics; but the licenses of those persons expired with that year and during this series of clinics all the work will be done by the three men mentioned above.

A fee of 50 cents will be charged for each dog vaccinated, but this will be credited against the owner's dog tax so that in reality he will pay nothing for the vaccination.

Those who served in 1935 as instructors were: Wiley Dees, Goldsboro; Charles Bryant, Stone Mountain; Cooper Bryant, Grantham; Henry Kennedy and J. L. Parker, President; T. B. Aycock, Green Swamp; Ira Dale, Pikeville; C. F. Lewis, Buck Swamp; Herman Best, Fork; Lube Denton, New Hope; Sidney Lancaster, Saitstan; Kermit C. Thompson, Nahunta; and W. I. Crow, Indian Springs.

Dr. McPheeters will supply all supplies to prompt themselves with the law and meet its requirements. In addition to the advertisements in the paper and the news stories, posters giving the law and the schedule have been distributed to every school child in the county so that the structure may be taken to the parents of the county.

Hamilton Lancaster Dies At Age of 55

Hamilton Lancaster, 55, well known farmer, died Wednesday morning following an illness which lasted over a year. Funeral services were conducted from the home at 1:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Lancaster, former pastor of Riverside Free Will Baptist Church. Interment was in Big Hickory cemetery.

Mr. Lancaster is survived by his widow who was Miss Nancy Williford of Neuse Island; several children, Mrs. Henry Griffin of Four Oaks, Mr. J. B. Lancaster of Charlotte, Mrs. Waverly Mitchell of this county, and Morrison, Levi and Richard Lancaster, six grandchildren, Harvey, H. A., James Everett and Joseph Howard Griffin, Royal Parker Lancaster and Doris Mitchell.

Mr. Lancaster was a man of sterling character and a sunny disposition and was always ready to lend a helping hand. He will be greatly missed by his intimate relatives and friends.

Miss Odum Dies

Funeral services for Miss Margaret Odum, 20, were conducted from Falling Creek Methodist Church in Grantham township Tuesday afternoon by Rev. E. L. Parker, Baptist minister. Interment was in the family plot. She died Monday morning at the home of her brother-in-law, Grover Overby, near Fremont, this county, following a short illness.

Surviving are two sisters and five brothers.

Life Saving Class Opens Monday Night For Folks of County

A series of 10 life saving classes will open at the Community Building here Monday night at 7 o'clock and will continue each Monday night until the series is completed.

The classes are being held under the auspices of the local chapter of the Red Cross and L. L. Hallman and Ralph Casey, Red Cross examiners for Wayne county, will be in charge of the training.

The class Monday night will be the first of the spring session. Periods will be two hours long and for one to pass the course he or she will have to take 10 hours of lessons, and pass the test given at the end of the course. Both senior and junior tests will be given.

Boys and girls of the rural communities of the county are especially invited to attend the series of lessons for which no charge will be made.
