Camp Tuscarora Closes After Six Weeks Outstanding Work

Camp Fire Which Had Burned For Seven Days Is Extinguished At Close

PRESIDENT KEMP AND OTHERS TALK AT CLOSE

Many Receive Awards At Close, Presented By S. F. Teague, of Honor Court.

Following the banquet and campfire Court of Honor, Camp Tuscarora was officially closed Saturday night as the campfire, which scouts had kept burning for seven days, was dashed out with water. At the banquet held in the camp mess hall Mr. W. P. Kemp, president of Tuscarora Council, made a short talk to the campers. Following that Mr. George Hamer introduced the guests present. Several talks were made by counselors and campers, who had been outstanding during the six weeks' camp.

Following the banquet the campfire and Court of Honor was held. The Kiwanis cabin presented a western thriller, the Rotary, "Who Made Five a Hot Dog?", the Legion, "St. George and the Dragon", the McClure, "The Foreclosed Mortgage", "The Elks cabin pantomimed "She'll be Coming 'Round the Mountain".

The jug band played several selections, which included "Under the Double Eagle", "Washington and Lee", and "Taxi Fare". The quartet presented "Ain't Gonna Study War No More", "Gasoline", and the old favorite, "Auld Lang Syne".

Mr. S. F. Teague presided at the Court of Honor and presented the awards to the campers. Those receiving awards are as follows:

John Narron, Swimming; James Cobb, Bird Study; William Wallace, First Aid to Animals; Billy Hollowell, Swimming; Tom Darron, Life Saving; George Ham, Jr., Electricity and Signaling; Ernest Hussey, Athletics; Roy Liles, Archery; Andrew Smith, Swimming and Personal Health; Billy Weirons, Basketball; Alber Smith, Gardening; Public Health; Personal Health; Henry Stevens, Basketball and Swimming.

Ed Woodall, Civics, Safety, Public Health, and Personal Health; Bill Gardner, Farm Mechanics, Personal Health, and Life Saving; Jack Easley, Life Saving and Carpentry; Vivian Johnson, Swimming and Athletics; Thomas Heyward, Farm Mechanics; Bobby Heyward, Forestry and Bird Study; Harry Ward, Swimming, Life Saving, and Canoeing; Basketball and Farm Layout; James Lane, Basketball; Personal Health, and Gardening; Rivers Johnson, Pioneering and Life Saving.

Jimmie Cobb of Mt. Olive was recognized by Mr. Teague as having completed the 21 merit badges required for Eagle Scout. Jimmie will receive his badge at a later date.

Mrs. W. G. Britt, Sr., Dies Tuesday After Stroke Of Paralysis

Member Of Prominent Goldsboro Family Had Suffered Stroke Two Weeks Before

Mrs. W. G. Britt, member of a prominent Goldsboro family, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Garland Yelverton in Goldsboro last Thursday morning following a stroke of paralysis suffered two weeks ago.

Mrs. Britt was a member of the First Baptist Church. She was the widow of W. G. Britt who was for a long time register of deeds for Wayne county. She is survived by four children, Leslie, Sam, and W. G. Britt, Jr., and Mrs. Garland Yelverton, all of Goldsboro, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services are conducted from Mrs. Yelverton's home in Park Annex Friday morning by the Rev. A. J. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Interment was in Willow Dale cemetery.

Hilburn Child Dies Thursday

Janie Fay Hilburn, seven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hilburn and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. David VanHoy of Goldsboro, died at the Goldsboro Hospital last Thursday morning. She entered the hospital as a patient Monday. Funeral services were held late Thursday afternoon, and burial was in Willow Dale cemetery.

Rain Delays The Opening Exercises Of Swimming Pool

Even If Exercises Could Not Be Held Yesterday 100 Were Present For Swim

Although the formal opening exercises for the Salvation Army Swimming Pool had to be delayed yesterday on account of a down-pour of rain, approximately 100 children were there to take a swim in the newly reworked pool. What was known as the Presbyterian Swimming Pool has been taken over by the Salvation Army and opened for the benefit of those children who are not able to pay for swimming privileges.

The pool will be dedicated at a future time and will be named the "McIntyre Pool" in honor of the late Rev. Peter McIntyre, beloved Presbyterian minister, who made possible the building of the pool a number of years ago.

Col. E. H. Bain was to preside at the exercises yesterday morning and F. P. Parker, Jr., was to speak for the advisory board of the Army and Dr. W. H. Smith was to give a talk of the work of the late Mr. McIntyre. The invocation was to have been by Dr. Leigh Scott, new minister at the Presbyterian church.

Captain Ernest LaMar of the local post of the Salvation Army had not worked out plans for the postponed exercises last night, but said he was thinking about the services for sometime in the near future.

New Plumbing And Heating Business Reorganized Here

T. L. Blow Heads Company With Large Display Room In Uptown Section

The new firm, Goldsboro Heating and Plumbing Supply Company, located next to Royall Furniture Company on West Walnut street, is one of the most up-to-date businesses of its kind in this state.

The firm has the largest display of plumbing and heating equipment of any house east of Raleigh. Now one may walk into this establishment, select the type of heating or plumbing fixtures he wishes, without having to turn through the pages of a catalogue to find from pictures what he wishes.

There are not just a few items to select from—there are scores of them, completely filling the spacious showroom in the building which has been fitted especially for the firm.

To the rear of the large show room is a large room, occupying the back part of the building, for the various pipes and other parts needed in the installation of the fixtures sold by the firm. In a fenced lot to the rear of the store is a big supply of the heavier equipment which is used in the trade.

Citizens of this section will welcome such an up-to-date and complete establishment where they can go to supply their needs. At the head of this firm is T. L. "Buddy" Blow, who has built an enviable reputation as a leader in his line of business and for his integrity of character. A more dependable man cannot be found with whom to deal.

More Than 200 Attend Weil's Field Day Program on Friday

Fertilizer And Variety Tests Studied On Firm's Extensive Farms

AGRICULTURAL LEADERS ATTEND THE MEETING

Big Barbecue Supper Served After Tour Of Inspection Of Nine Farms

Fifty automobile loads of people, totaling more than two hundred leading farmers, fertilizer dealers and farm specialists, attended the annual Weil's Field Day held last Friday afternoon.

Early in the afternoon a picture in colors was shown at Weil's store, illustrating the growing of tobacco and the effect of fertilizers of different kinds; and after that the motored visited the Murphy farm south of the city where visitors saw fertilizer and crop variety tests which Weil has carried out this year in cooperation with the Extension Service of State College. Following these instructions the 200 or more people visited the Weil Stock Farm and saw the fine herds of Hampshire hogs and Hereford cattle and then they visited seven other farms, inspecting some of the finest tobacco and cot-

James Southerland Dies Sunday Night Of A Heart Ailment

Has Been Ill For Some Weeks But Was Thought To Be Improving

James Southerland, a prominent citizen of Goldsboro, died at the Parkview Hospital in Rocky Mount Sunday night following an illness of several weeks with heart disease.

Mr. Southerland had been in the hospital for about two weeks and was thought to be improving when the end came unexpectedly. He is survived by his widow.

He was the son of the late John F. Southerland and he was born and reared in Goldsboro and spent most of his life here.

He spent many years in road construction work as an engineer but for the past few years he had been associated with John F. Hobbs in the male business here.

Mr. Southerland was a likeable fellow and numbered his friends by the hundreds. Funeral services were held from the residence on North James street Wednesday morning with Dr. Leigh Scott, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in charge.

Active pallbearers were: Sam Britt, Arnold Edgerton, Fred Parker, Jr., Talbot Parker, Ambrose Humphrey, Edgar Bain, Jr., Norwood Holmes, H. O. Null and William Bizzell; honorary, Dr. Charles B. Miller, Dr. J. N. Johnson, James S. Crawford, Spicer Holmes, W. H. Griffin, T. M. Black, H. L. Bizzell, D. E. Richardson, F. P. Parker, Sr., John F. Hobbs, N. J. Edwards and H. V. Parker.

Many out of town relatives and friends were present for the funeral, among them:

Mrs. Southerland's three sisters, Mrs. Charles T. Lawrence with her husband and son, Jack of Scotland Neck; Mrs. Mary Shaw Gibbs of Washington, D. C. and daughter, Miss Helen of Raleigh; Mrs. R. A. G. Barnes and husband and son, R. A. G. Jr., of Petersburg, Va., and her brother, L. Y. Shaw, Washington, N. C.

Others were: Mrs. Gertrude R. Exum and son John B. Exum, Fremont; Mrs. Guy Penny, Garner; Mrs. Paul Sparrow, Aurora; Mrs. C. W. E. Pittman, Raleigh; Mrs. E. R. Austin and sister, Miss Gary Henderson; Mrs. R. V. Weis and daughter, Miss Louise, Kenansville; Mrs. Henry Southerland and daughter, Rosilyn, and Mr. Robert Southerland, Mt. Olive; Mrs. Susan C. Southerland and daughters, Miss Adelaide, Chapel Hill, and Mrs. Paul Stewart, Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wood and son, Wilmington; Mrs. George Warren, Mrs. Albert Ottenger, and Mrs. John W. House, Wilson.

Lewis Reunion Plans Complete

Hundreds Are Expected To Attend Family Meeting To Be Held Tomorrow

Final preparations have been made for the annual Lewis Family Reunion to be held tomorrow, Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Howell of the Daniels Chapel section of this county.

Rev. J. B. Roberts, president of the family organization, urges all kindred to be present for this, the second annual meeting of the family.

A good program, plenty to eat and a general good time is promised those who attend. All are asked to take well filled baskets and jars of sweetened tea.

CHIPS OFF THE OLD BLOCK

(By MAURICE L. BLOCK)

What is so rare as a dime in June, Then if ever come dead-broke days, Then everything seems so out of tune, And nobody ever pays.

Whether we look or whether we listen Money is so glaringly missing, A dollar looks as big as a million, A hundred anything up to a billion.

And July is better and even worse, Every penny we have verily to nurse, It is a blessing that peas are cheap, For body and soul together THEY'LL keep.

The farmers cuss if there is no rain, Then too much of it drives them insane, The death-rate mounts from runs and wrecks, Mosquitoes come our lives to vex.

Some like it and swear by the old summertime, But I'll take the cool days of old winter for mine.

Warden E. D. Ham Tells Of Meeting Of Fire Fighters

He And J. B. Crawford Attend Annual Meeting In Washington Last Week

(E. D. Ham, County Forest Warden) The country forest wardens of Eastern North Carolina met in Washington, N. C., last Wednesday and Thursday, July 21-22, in their annual meeting.

J. B. Crawford, the Dudley town-erman, went with me. The weather conditions were fine for us both to be out of the county at the same time. What we forest folks call fine weather is a drizzly rainy day. J. B. and I enjoyed the meeting and the trip because we did not feel uneasy about finding everything burned up when we returned home.

We went to Washington by way of Snow Hill, Farmville, Greensville and Grimesland. Our meeting place was the C. C. Camp just out of Washington. This camp is near enough to town to have electric lights and water works.

About 20 county wardens attended this meeting. These are a fine set of men. I found them to be intelligent, high class men. I was glad to see all the boys again. They were all so kind and friendly and nice to us.

There are a few of the boys about my age and, like me, have been in the forest service for about ten years. It was a pleasure to be with them and swap experiences with them.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. W. C. McCormick, chief of forest fire control for the state. He was very ably assisted by Mr. W. K. Reichler, forest inspector. Mr. McCormick makes a splendid presiding officer. He seems to know exactly what he wants to impress on our minds and he knows how to do it. When a county warden takes instructions from him for two days he goes back to his work in his county better able to handle the work in his county than before.

The protection of the forests in our state is no longer carried on in a careless, haphazard way. Every county forest warden must know his work thoroughly and be able to meet any emergency that may arise in his county.

If we fail to perform our duty as county wardens, Mr. McCormick and our district forester don't fail to tell us of it in plain words. They also give us commendation and praise when we do our work in the right way.

In Wayne county about 50 percent of the total acreage is woodland. The value of this is increasing all the time. It now has a cash value of several million dollars and is one of the county's largest assets. I fully believe that Wayne county is getting more benefit from the $1,250 of the peoples' tax money to protect our forest lands than from any other one thing that several times this amount is being allotted to each year.

We hope to continue to keep Wayne county as one of the leading counties in the prevention of forest fires. We have thousands of acres of young trees in the county. If we can save these from fire we will soon have all the wood and lumber we need for home use on our farms. Since my annual report to the county commissioners of last year's work, I have received several nice letters from farmers and business men of the county expressing their appreciation and approval of the fire prevention work being done in the county. We are being done in the county. We are very thankful with approval of the work because there can be no success with anything unless public sentiment approves and helps uphold it.

Governor Hoey To Deliver An Address Here Tuesday a. m.

He Will Speak Here At 9:20 As He Is On Way To Cotton Road Opening

Governor Clyde R. Hoey will deliver a 10 minute address in Goldsboro at 9:20 Tuesday morning at a program which will launch the "Cotton Road" celebration, which will begin in Goldsboro and close in Clinton.

The program will begin with music by the Goldsboro Municipal Band in front of the Hotel Goldsboro at 8:30 a. m. Mayor J. H. Hill will welcome distinguished guests, and Attorney W. A. Dees will present the guests. Representative Graham A. Barden will introduce Governor Hoey.

Among state officials and other distinguished guests to be present are Governor Hoey, State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, Secretary of State Thad Euro, Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott, and Mayor Burnett H. Maybank of Charlotte, S. C.

Following the exercises in Goldsboro a motorcade will move on to Mt. Olive, Calypso, Faison, and Clinton. Members of the Sea Level Highway Association, who will hold their annual convention in Goldsboro Monday night, are expected to join the motorcade Tuesday morning.

4-H Club Members In Raleigh Meeting

Twenty-seven members of Wayne County 4-H clubs under the direction of Miss Gertrude Bundy, county demonstration agent, and A. S. Knowles, assistant county farm agent, are attending the 4-H club short course at State College, Raleigh this week.

Wayne clubs have been appointed to put on two demonstrations during the week. I. J. Crawford and Lester Hinnant of Pikeville will conduct a demonstration on Dairy Production. Beulah Davis of Nantuxta, J. W. Flowers of Mt. Olive, and Milton Bass of Rosewood, will give a home water system demonstration on Achievement Day, Friday, July 30. The latter demonstration will be the only one of its kind from the northeastern district of the state clubs.

Dr. Leigh Scott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Goldsboro, will preach at Antioch Presbyterian church in Fork township Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to announcement of W. H. Best, Jr., who is active in the Sunday school work at Antioch. The people of that and other sections are invited to attend the services.

Dr. Leigh Scott To Preach At Antioch

Dr. Leigh Scott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Goldsboro, will preach at Antioch Presbyterian church in Fork township Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to announcement of W. H. ## Safety Parade Scheduled For City on Next Monday

Car Driven by Remote Control To Lead Parade Over The Streets Of City

"WILD JIM" LYNCH CONTROLLER OF CAR

Wayne Post Of American Legion Sponsors Program For Citizens Of Section

Hundreds of people of Goldsboro and surrounding sections are expected to line the streets of Goldsboro next Monday afternoon to see the safety parade which will be staged at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Sponsored by the Wayne Post of the American Legion in cooperation with the State Highway Department, the safety parade, planned to make the people of this section more conscious of safe driving rules, the parade will get underway promptly at the scheduled time Monday.

Heading the parade will be the "magic car" which will be seen observing all traffic rules despite the fact that it will be absolutely driverless and entirely unoccupied. Captain John J. (Wild Jim) Lynch will operate the "magic car" which will be a Ford, entered in the parade by the Wayne Motor Company, from his position behind in another car, using remote control.

A long line of decorated cars, all carrying out the safety idea, will compose the parade, which will be flanked and escorted by state and city motorcycle patrolmen and in which city officials and other local dignitaries will ride. Detailed parade arrangements are now being worked out for the parade.

Safety Driving Important State and local authorities agree that anything that tends to increase safety of automobile driving is worthwhile and worth everyone's support. If the "magic car" performance and the safety parade helps even a little bit, it is an excellent idea, says Captain Lynch, driver of the car.

He says, "If drivers of automobiles will just realize that the car they are driving is no safer than they drive it, maybe they will not take unnecessary chances and trust too much to luck to pull them through out of tight places." Not only is this parade backed by the American Legion, but City Manager Zeno Hollowell is in charge of arrangements for the Legion, and Mayor J. H. Hill has issued a proclamation designating Monday as "Safety Day."

In the interest of the safety of the citizens of Goldsboro and Wayne county, while traveling or walking on our streets or on our highways; as a memorial to those who have met a violent death caused by the wheels of traffic, with a feeling of remorse for those who have been crippled for life by the same causes, and as a tribute of thanks to those who are respecting the rights and lives of others, by driving and walking safely, and as a plea to every human being in our city, county and state to do their part in making the streets and highways of North Carolina safe for everybody, and whereas, the Wayne Post of the American Legion of Goldsboro is sponsoring a spectacular Safety Parade, I hereby proclaim August 2, 1937, as SAFETY DAY, and ask that every citizen, business firm, institution and organization, give every possible cooperation in making Safety Day and the Safety Parade a success that will long be remembered. J. H. HILL, Mayor, Goldsboro, N. C.

S. A. Fields Dies Tuesday In Florida; Sick For Two Weeks

S. A. Fields, 50, native of La-Grange, twelve miles east of Goldsboro, and brother of M. D. Fields and Mrs. Eula Swanson of Goldsboro, died Tuesday morning at a hospital in Leesburg, Florida, following an illness of two weeks of complications. Funeral and burial took place in Leesburg, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Fields was a prominent business man in Leesburg. He had lived in Florida about fifteen years and was in the fruit business. He is survived by his widow and one son, both of Leesburg; four brothers, Horace and Arnold Fields of LaGrange, C. D. Fields of Atlanta, and M. D. Fields of Goldsboro; Mrs. J. R. Walters of LaGrange, and Mrs. Swanson of Goldsboro.

Honor Scout

(By GEORGE HAST, Jr.) Receiving his 101st merit badge at the Camp Tuscarora Court of Honor Friday night, Roy Liles, became one of the few honor scouts of the world.

In order to become an honor scout it is necessary to receive all the merit badges offered by the Boy Scouts of America. Of the millions of scouts who have set out with this goal in mind, only 15 or 20 have reached it. Mr. Liles received three merit badges this summer. Sculpture, Cotton Farming, and Archery. Archery, his last badge, was received Friday night.

Joining the Boy Scouts in 1928 Roy advanced and became an Eagle when he was 14. The Eagle Palms came in rapid succession as his merit badges increased in number. The turning point came last summer when Mr. Liles received Insect Life, which is thought by most scouts to be the most difficult badge.

Roy Liles is a member of the famous Liles Eagle quartet, David Liles, Executive of Cape Fear Council, Henry Liles, Greensboro food inspector, and Charles, up-and-coming scout of Troop Six. David Liles was also an honor scout before he became a scout executive. There is probably no other family in the United States which can boast of two Eagle and two Honor scouts.

Uncle Jim Says

By liming and fertilizing old permanent pastures, some of my neighbors got about 40 days of extra grazing a year.
