

Personal

Miss Mamie Richardson has returned from a visit to her brother, Mr. Will Richardson, and his family in Ensley, Ala. On her return she stopped in Greensboro for a visit to her niece, Mrs. Craver, and Dr. Craver.

Mrs. Maurice Honigman of Gastonia, state president of the North Carolina Association of Jewish Women, will come to Goldsboro Saturday and will be the guest of Mrs. N. A. Edwards, past president, for several days. On Sunday Mrs. Honigman and Mrs. Edwards will go to Kinston to attend a district meeting, and on Wednesday will attend a district meeting of the Northeast Territory in Weldon.

Mrs. A. Roseover of Jamaica, L. I., arrived in Goldsboro Wednesday to be here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Styron Harris of Elizabeth City spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hinton on Georgia Avenue.

Mr. Henry Bplik returned Saturday night from Lexington where he had attended a press meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Tripp has returned to her home in Core Point after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Haynes in Goldsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Broome and daughter, Ruth, of Aurora, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barden in the Ham Springs section.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lee and Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. J. H. Reeves, visited relatives in Warsaw Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Woodard visited their son and his family at Pendleton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Vick have returned from a holiday visit to Dr. and Mrs. Wade H. Atkinson in Washington, D. C. On Sunday they had as guests Mrs. Vick's niece, Mrs. Wiley C. Crawford, and Mr. Crawford and little daughter, Karen, of New Bern.

Worth Boyce, small son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Boyce, is ill with sleeping cough at his home at 201 W. Vine street.

Miss Julia Mae Raney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Raney of Winton, is in the Goldsboro Hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis a few days ago.

Among Goldsboro people who attended the funeral of Mr. Frank Broadhurst in Smithfield Monday afternoon were Messrs. Frank and Edwin Borden, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, Mrs. Leslie Weil, and Miss Hatlie Dillon.

Mr. Brogren Spence, proprietor of the Bank at Greensboro, is ill with influenza at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. George Spence, in Goldsboro.

Hospital Services

(MRS. ROGER HINSON)

I wish through the Open Forum to express my appreciation for all that has been done for me at the Goldsboro Hospital. I sometimes feel that a great many people of this vicinity know very little about the greatest institution in our community. This lack of knowledge on the part of so many is in no way due to their deliberate purpose to remain uninformed concerning the functions of this institution. It is because they have been blessed to such an extent they have not required the services of the Hospital. They are so busy that many of them have never taken the time to visit the Hospital in order that they might become informed relative to the splendid services the institution is rendering for the relief of suffering humanity.

On the 24th of last December I met with a tragedy in my home. For months I remained in the Hospital. Since then it has been necessary for me to go back and forth for certain attentions. These experiences have enabled me to make observations of the Hospital and its services which I could not have possibly known otherwise.

I have found a most beautiful spirit of cooperation between doctors and nurses. My doctors have done a most wonderful work for me. This has been possible through the facilities made available by the Hospital.

I am writing these lines in order that I may not only express appreciation of the wonderful services rendered by my doctors, but that I may also express my appreciation of the services which the Hospital has rendered to me and others. These services were made possible through the courteous and efficient direction of the superintendent, Mrs. W. M. Vaughan, and her splendid corps of nurses. I most heartily commend them for the work they are doing, for their interest in the patients of the institution and their efforts to establish a Hospital upon which we may all look with pride. The community is indeed fortunate to have such an institution in its midst and such capable superintendency directing its activities.

WEST-CARRAWAY

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Carraway of Goldsboro have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Correnner, to Mr. Jesse Alston West, Friday, January 6, 1939, Clinton, North Carolina. At home 906 N. George street, Goldsboro, N. C.

ITEMS and IDEAS by A Country Physician Dr. W. B. Crawford

Mr. Willie Ezzell, who has recently moved to Belfast with his mother, Mrs. W. L. Ezzell, wife of our good friend Billie Ezzell, whose sudden death a few weeks since grieved this community, has taken charge of the Pure-Oil Filling Station at Oak Heights, which is connected with the Cotton Garage, and Mr. Alton Glen Smith who has heretofore been with his brother-in-law, Mr. Herman Thompson, who runs the station as cross roads here, has a position with Mr. Ezzell. Of course all their many friends here wish them all sorts of success in their new work, and that their fondest hopes of prosperity in the field of dealers of gas and oil, and accessories to the motor trade may be fully realized. They are both worthy young men, and we surely wish them success.

Mr. and Mrs. Hargrave Howell from the Casey's Chapel community, were very pleasant visitors at Oak-Glen Sunday afternoon. They had their two smaller boys with them, and the baby one, but the older two were off on a visit elsewhere and we missed them.

Mr. Bayard Woodard, son of Mr. H. M. Woodard here, left last week for the Navy, and will try out his luck on the high seas, and we wish him all the success that can come to one in that useful life, but we much prefer taking ours on dry land as we do not think we could ever get accustomed to such a big pond that it cannot be crossed as easily as might be supposed, and then if you had to take it afoot, it would be a rather long winded journey, not to say anything about the probability of having to dodge a school of sharks. But a great many that go to the sea in ships say it is a great life, and one of our very best loved boyhood friends owned and sailed a vessel from America to the West Indies, but was lost in a storm, just out the bay at Hatteras on the North Carolina coast.

We shall miss the weekly "Chips Off the Old Block" and will be glad to know that Mr. Maurice will remain in Goldsboro, if not associated with the paper. Of course we well know that he will be doing something, as you cannot keep one of his energy and disposition satisfied without something that will spread good will and cheer, and a ready helping hand to any who may need it. We have often said that it seemed such a pity that one with his talents should not have perfect health, but of course he is filling a place in life that would be highly commendable in anyone with all the perfect health needed, and personally we wish he may keep his pen busy even if there is other work that may profit him more. Good luck to you Mr. Block, no matter what you decide to devote your time and talents to keep you busy. We wish you not only a very Happy New Year, but several of them, and all the success that you so justly deserve, in any work you may see fit to attempt.

A new filling station has recently been opened and is now doing a good business just over the river at Capps bridge, on the highway leading to Princeton from Pikeville. The building and grounds belong to Mr. Claud Sullivan, who lives right near, but we could not get the name of the party who is operating the station, as we tried to do. At any rate it is in a very scarcely station-filled community and should be profitable, as we do not think there is another station anywhere in that immediate section. And probably only two others between Pikeville and Princeton, on the road, and it ought to be a good business, it seems to us. As a general thing the filling station business is already over-run, as in this community, where there is one for every mile or less from Goldsboro to Princeton.

We regret to know that Mr. Elton Rose, son of Mrs. Katie Rose, is very dangerously sick with double pneumonia and abscess of the ears, and his condition is very serious. His many friends here and wherever he is known surely wish him a full restoration to his usual health, and that this trouble may soon be thrown off. He has been a sufferer with rheumatism for sometime, and this may more or less aggravate his present trouble, even if he does not have a rheumatic heart. He is a very worthy young man, and we wish him an early recovery.

The optimistic farmers are as usual as busy as can be, and are making preparations for their tobacco beds, just as if there had not been disagreement in regard to the number of acres they may plant. We hope that something, we do not know just what, may come in for their future good, and that a good price may come to them this year to help them over what they have lost on the past few years. But it remains to be seen what will be done, and just what steps the parties in power will take, and also the will of the farmers concerned, as to whether they shall abide by what others say, or hold out for their rights, as many have been trying to do. But no matter which way it is ended, we suppose everything will move along as it has done before, and that the farmers will get about the average of what they have had for many years. Still, we do not believe they have received the prices either for their tobacco, or cotton, that they should have received, taking everything into consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Becton and children have arrived at home from near Statesville, where they have been detained on account of the extreme illness of Mr. Clement, father of Mrs. Becton. We are glad to know that he is better, and hope he may soon be fully restored.

We have been informed that Mr. Leon Thompson of this community is an operative patient at Duke Hospital in Durham, where he has been for several days or a week, and that his condition is improved, and he will soon return if no complications arise. His many friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor and Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Mary Warley, who have been living at the Nathan Crawford place, have moved over here and are occupying the bungalow of Mr. George Gardner, near the place of his late father, Elder Gardner, and George is boarding with them. The place where they have been living will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Crawford, son and daughter-in-law of the owner. We are glad Mr. Taylor and family have moved over here, and also glad that Mrs. Warley is with them. She made her home at Elder Gardner's the greater part of the time before his death, and no doubt but that friend George Gardner is also glad that Mrs. Mary is back in the community, where she was such a great help and company in the home before his good father's death. She is one of the best women we know, and we surely are glad she is back nearby, as we shall never forget her kindness and close attention given our good wife, before she had to go to the hospital, and the real motherly devotion she manifested in her daily nursing and other attentions.

Mr. Phenza Phillips, who has been exceedingly sick for several days last week with high fever and symptoms which kept all in fear of pneumonia day and night when it appeared that he was not responding to treatment, has started on the road to recovery, and will be himself again in a few more days. He is moving to the Charlie Collins place, near the Southern Railroad, just west of the Perry Cox place. He has lived at the Lon Dale place for several years. Mr. Ed Mitchell will move there after Mr. Phillips vacates.

Our near neighbor Mr. Dick Ingram had the misfortune to lose his mule the past week with some trouble on the animals leg, which finally had the mule so he could not get up when down. We never found out the exact cause of the trouble, but fully sympathize with the owner in regard to his loss. We have had just such here for many years, and well know that when one loses a mule, or fine cow, that he just as well put the amount either was worth in the fire as it is a distinct loss, with no ifs and ands about it. He had traded his other mule for this one, and paid difference, so we are informed, and that makes the loss greater. Still, while we regret that he lost his mule, there was one thing about we never heard the like before. Our farmer here at Oak-Glen, Mr. Wright Fields, asked us if we objected to his pulling the mule off with our mules and wagon. We told him that we surely would not object and to help in any way he could. When we reached home at noon, and asked about the mule being pulled to our lower pasture, we were told that Mr. Fields hitched his Ford to Mr. Ingram's Ford, and then coupled the mule on the second Ford, and away they went in high gear, and then pulled the mule right into the hole which had been dug to bury him. We told Mr. Fields that we had seen a pair of mules pull a Ford many times, and had had them pull our car several times and also had seen live mules riding in trailers, or trucks, and apparently seeming to enjoy it as much as a passenger in the truck, if not better. But we had never seen a pair of Fords pull a very dead mule, and that they had carried the mule to his last resting place different from any we had ever seen moved. It just increases our wonder in regard to FORD cars, as it seems that they can do anything that can be done, and then some. If we had

David Goodman, 76, Dies Last Thursday

Funeral services for David Goodman, 76, of the southern part of Wayne county, were conducted at the home Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Johnson of Duplin county. Interment was in the family burying ground near Summerlin's Cross Roads. He died at his home Wednesday afternoon from the infirmities of age. His widow and several children survive.

FAIL-TOLER

Miss Hazel Toler of Goldsboro and Emmett Fall of Pork township were married on Wednesday, January 4, by Dr. L. R. Scott, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Goldsboro, at the Manse on North George street.
