Rev. Kermit Wheeler, and Mrs. Wheeler, were at Ebenezer Church's fifth Sunday morning, when Mr. Wheeler held services, and preached a very fine sermon. They were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Lala Baker and her mother, Mrs. Etta Smith, near the church, Mr. Wheeler is popular with the people here, and all are glad the mantle of the late Rev. J. B. Thompson fell on his shoulders, as he is a very worthy young man, and will make his mark in the ministry, if nothing happens.

Mr. Phil Crawford, Jr., of Kinston, was a very pleasant visitor at Oak Glen, his old home, last Wednesday afternoon, and while here drove over to Rosewood to see how it looked since he was a student there, preparing for college and graduation from Duke, and also as one of the state's young attorneys, although he took the law examination before he finished at Duke, and then spent three years in New York City before locating at Kinston. He came to Oak Glen at seven months of age, after the sudden death of his good mother, and of course feels just as near to us as if our own child, and has always been obedient and dutiful, and that draws him nearer our hearts.

barking just before the midnight hour. He was a full blooded Spitz dog, and as sensible as any we have ever seen, and belonged to Mrs. David Pearce, as he was given to her before her marriage, and all of us here loved him, for his many fine traits of kindly dogship. This makes just fifteen killed here, since the building of the highway and he was among the four finest. Ever since we found him very dead, we have had the following lines running in our mind, as they're as old as we are, and our sainted mother often repeated them, on such occasions as this has been to us.

"Twas ever thus from childhood's hours,
I've seen my fondest hopes decay,
I never nursed a tree, or flower,
But 'twas the first to fade away.
I never loved a dear gazelle,
To glad me with its soft black eye,
But when it came to know me well,
And love me—it was sure to die."

We are strictly out of the dog business right now, and surely do miss Scottie's morning greeting, as we open the doors, and go out on porch. But we know that if there is a real dog heaven, that he is there for he had everything necessary to gain admittance.

Our good friends of boyhood days, Cicero Gurley, has been an operative patient in the hospital, and is still there, recovering, we are glad to know. Well, he said he wanted to see us, and one day last week wife and I went over to see him. We found him in good spirits, and as glad to see us, as any one we ever visited, and his brother says he has talked about our visit more than anything he has seen, since he went there. He wanted to come home Sunday, but was not strong enough yet, and will be there some days longer. As soon as he comes home, we intend seeing him again, as we have known him all his life, and he has always been as honest and upright as any man that ever lived in the community, and has also been one of the community's most industrious and hard working men, and he holds the high esteem of every one who knows him. He bought land from the late Joe Perry, and not only paid for it, but cleared a good deal of it, and many of the acres cleared were cleared on moonlight nights, he working right around his home, from supper till bedtime. We told him more than once, that when he got to heaven, he would try to find a new ground to clear. We were boys and young men here in the community in the very long ago, and when we came back here in 1895 he was one of our best friends, and we were his family physician all during the time he was raising his children, and never had a more loyal or appreciative family to serve. We shall be glad to see him back home again, and hope lengthened years of happiness may yet be his to enjoy, and when he shall have finished his course, may he be given an abundant entrance into the home beyond this vale of tears.

Well, we feel that we have something very special to be thankful for just now, as we have been very much depressed on account of the scarcity of blue birds and wrens here at the old home for the past five years. But this year, we are strictly in it, as the saying goes, as two beautiful wrens have built in the back porch, on top of the small cupboard, having decided to furnish an empty boiler up there, and we rather think they are some of the same breed that built in a helmet of the world war, several years ago, which hung from the strap in the office, and right near there was a broken light through which the birds entered and left the nest. At any rate, we have the wrens, and also a family of blue birds, at the smoke house, and we are a great deal more calm and serene than we have been in several springs.

Her many friends will regret to know that Mrs. Emma Sasser has been quite sick for a few days at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Radford, beyond Pine Forest.

Mrs. Lillie Cotton McCloud and two friends whose names we did not get called to see us one evening last week, on their way from their home in Lumberton to Goldsboro. Mrs. McCloud is very pleasantly remembered here as Miss Lillie Cotton, and her parents lived right at the junction of Capt. Jack's railroad, and the Southern, on the land then the Grantham estate, but now owned by, and the home of, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, Jr., spent Friday night in Greensboro, returning Saturday afternoon, and then went on to New Bern, where they will be at the home of Mr. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, Sr., till sometime this week, when they will return to Oak Glen. They are expecting to move to New Bern some time this month, or first of next, as it is more central for Mr. Scott, in this traveling area, and more accessible to his work.

His many friends are glad that Mr. Elton Rose has come to his home near Ebenezer, after quite an ordeal in the hospital and also a stay at the home of a niece, after he left the hospital. He is slowly improving and every one hopes he may soon be fully restored to his former health, as he has been very sick since the first of the year, and is still feeble from his long continued illness.

Little Willie Bonham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bonham, just above Ebenezer, had a fall at school one day recently and injured his left arm very badly. He was brought here, but we advised taking him to hospital for X-ray examination, and we have been informed that the arm was broken right in the joint, but the account in papers say it was dislocated. At any rate it was a badly banged up arm, and we are glad we sent him to the hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Gurley and children were very pleasant visitors at Oak Glen Sunday afternoon, where we were glad to have them.

Well, we are doing our own grinning again now—as our dog is dead, having had the stuffing knocked out of him Saturday night, and we miss his friendly companionship. He has been struck by a car twice before, the first time producing a compound fracture of the left hind leg, but this was put in plaster Paris, and got entirely well. Some months ago, he was struck again, but only knocked down, and bruised some, but this time he was found dead under the house, near the step, and surely was hit again after midnight, as he was not insist on their doing work for us, unless we are willing to do as they think best. So under the circumstances, we can fully appreciate Mrs. Gardner's condition, and shall do all we can to help her back to her former health, and hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.
