Goldsboro Swimmers Are In High Position For State Meet

Prince Nuffer and Eddy Crono Lead Goldsboro's Outstanding Stars.

FOUR ENTRIES HOLD STATE AAU RECORDS

Meeting Is Held on Friday and Saturday of This Week: Many Entries.

(Special to The Herald) By Fate Sasser

High Point, Aug. 9.—The annual Carolina AAU swimming meet which will be held here Friday and Saturday has drawn national attention.

Entries have already been registered from Jacksonville, Fla., to New England.

They have registered for the three Junior AAU national swimming championships to be held in conjunction with the annual Carolina AAU at City Lake.

Teams from the Broadwood Athletic Club of Philadelphia and the Sandpiper Club of Jacksonville, Fla., have officially entered the meet.

Bernard Kelly, Sr., New England champion in both high and low board diving, will seek the national junior championship, along with Pete Hayward, Jr., of the Greenwood Memorial Men's Club, Gardner, Mass.

Peter Christolos of the Park Central Athletic Association, New York City, has also registered for the national diving championship.

Eddy Crono of Goldsboro, State diving champion for four years will seek the 10-foot spring board title.

Three national events will be the diving, the 100 meter free style for women and the 100 meter free style for men.

The program will officially open Friday morning at 10:30 with a bang. Scheduled for that time is the 100 meter free style for service men in the Carolina AAU events will be ruled off on the morning card and the afternoon will see eleven more pushed off the board.

Features of the Friday afternoon session will be the 100 meter free style Carolina championship for women.

Prince Nuffer, Goldsboro's hope to the next Olympic and Carolyn Perri, Tarboro's famed will seek the title.

Saturday's program will follow closely the Friday slate, with one less event scheduled for the final day.

In addition to the program of national and Carolina events, there will be three open races—220 yards free style, 100 meter back stroke and 200 meter breast stroke—both for men and women. The open events were added to accommodate the influx of swimmers seeking national championships from States other than the two Carolinas.

Midget swimming teams of the two Carolinas will battle it out for their crown.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded for first, second and third places, respectively, and gold medals will be given each member of winning relay teams.

The top teams of the Carolinas who are out to take the meet are Goldsboro, last year's champions, Tarboro, Kannapolis, Greensboro, High Point, Charlotte, and Raleigh, from North Carolina. South Carolina's best bets are Sumter, Columbia, and Charleston.

Norwood Middleton Gets College Work in Roanoke, Va.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Middleton Gets Faculty Job at Alma Mater.

Norwood Middleton, Goldsboro young man who was graduated from Roanoke College, Salem, Va., in June has been named director of public relations and instructor in business administration in Roanoke College.

Middleton was for three years assistant to the publicity director, Miller Ritchie, who has resigned to accept a position with Williams and Mary College. Mr. Middleton was graduated with honors and immediately afterwards went to Martinsville, Va., where he served as the editor of the Martinsville Daily Bulletin. He is now spending a few days in Goldsboro with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Middleton, before beginning his new duties on August 15.

While a student in Goldsboro High School Mr. Middleton was very active in school activities.

Three Well-Known Farmers Named to FSA Advisory Board

C. Best Thompson, James A. Smith and P. D. May Are Named to Board.

C. Best Thompson, of Goldsboro, Rt. 1, James A. Smith of Mt. Olive, Rt. 3, and P. D. May, of LaGrange, Rt. 2, well known Wayne county farmers, have been chosen members of the Wayne County FSA Advisory Committee by the Farm Security Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to assist County Supervisor J. W. Sears in carrying out the Tenant Purchase Program. They went to Raleigh for a conference Tuesday and Wednesday, and plan to hold a meeting in Wayne county soon.

The local committees will study applications for loans, choose tenants who have the character and ability to pay for a farm, and appraise the farm the successful tenants want to buy.

The announcement of the names of the three Wayne farmers chosen for the committee was made by Vance E. Swift, FSA State director through A. K. Robertson, of Goldsboro, district supervisor.

Bugs Jump On Tarboro For 11-4 Decision On Yesterday

Goldbugs Gather 15 Hits To Boost Their Hitting Average As They Take Win.

GAME AT NIGHT TOO LATE FOR REPORTING

Don Kepler Is Wining Hurlier For Bugs; Mullinax Gets a Homer.

Adding much needed points to their batting averages, the Goldsboro Bugs gathered 15 hits and 11 runs off two Tarboro pitchers for a 11-4 decision Wednesday afternoon in the first game of an afternoon-night double bill.

The Bugs played the game with out the services of Claude Capps, who was injured during batting practice. An X-ray of his wrist, which was first thought to be broken, showed that it was badly bruised, and that he would be able to play again in two or three days.

Mack Arnette, who has been out for several days during the sickness and death of his mother in law, returned during the game, and was scheduled to play the night game.

Mule Shurley's hit, his only one of the day, a babe of balls to Kunis, who played left field in the place of Capps, and Kepler's first of two hits produced the Bugs a run in the second.

Polly Pawlak's walk and Sandy Peely's double added another in the third. Mullinax tied the count at three all with a homer over the right field wall. Dallas Thornton had hit for a circuit in the second for Tarboro to send them into a 3-0 lead.

The Bugs picked another in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Kepler and Vaughn. Two more were added in the seventh, and the day's scoring was closed when the Bugs tallied five times in the eighth.

Every Bug contributed to the hitting with Mullinax getting three for five and Kepler and Overton two for four. Swoed, Tarboro's second baseman, paced the Goobers with two for four.

During the week the Bugs defeated Williamson in a double header 10-4, 6-1. Lost to the Martins 6-1, 10-4, New Bern 12-3 and 10-8, won from the Bears 6-1, lost to Greenville 1-0, and won from the Greens 5-4.

Mt. Olive Highway Is Being Widened

Highway 117 from Mt. Olive to Warsaw is being widened by the State Highway Commission. The project, which has just been started, is scheduled to be completed by October 1.

The present highway is sixteen feet wide. It is being widened by two feet on each side, providing a twenty foot highway.

Rabbi I. L. Freund Accepts a Call For Work in California

After 13 Years of Service at Oheb Sholem Temple He Will Leave Sept. 1

Rabbi I. L. Freund, pastor of Oheb Sholem Temple, has resigned his pastorate here and will go to San Jose within the next week to assume duties in the city and adjacent communities.

Rabbi Freund was extended the call while he and his wife were on a trip to California, and will begin his work there on September 1. He will serve the only Jewish temple in San Jose, which has a population of 90,000.

Oheb Sholem Temple is seeking to secure a new pastor and expects to have the vacancy filled by the first of September.

Contributing a great deal to civic interests during the 13 years of service in the Oheb Sholem temple, Rabbi Freund has attracted wide attention to Jewish educational projects. He served eight years as president of the Wayne Chapter of the American Red Cross and two years as president of the Rotary club.

Mrs. Freund was formerly president of the Major and Minor Music Club, and active in the Goldsboro Co-operative Concert Association, serving as its first president.

"We regret very much to leave Goldsboro and its people," said Rabbi Freund "but the larger field gives greater opportunity for service. We hardly realized how deeply our Goldsboro friends had reached to our hearts until we began to think of saying goodbye."

Winter Legume Seed May be Ordered Now

County Farm Agent C. S. Mintz announced Tuesday that the farm office is ready to take applications for winter legume seeds for farmers who are complying with the 1939 Soil Conservation Program.

Farmers who are complying with the agricultural program may receive as a grant of aid Austrian winter peas at the rate of approximately 4 1/2 cents per pound, and vetch at the rate of 8 1/4 cents per pound.

The value of the seed is to be deducted from the Soil Conservation payment. A farmer may receive 90 per cent of the soil building practice payment in seed.

Experts recommend this as an excellent opportunity for farmers to build up their soil, Mintz said.

J. J. Jackson Files Suit in Wayne County

Suit for $30,000 has been filed in Wayne Superior Court by J. J. Jackson in connection with the death of Mrs. Bessie Jackson in an automobile accident at Dunn on February 18, 1939. The suit is against Robert Suggs, and Carson Gregory.

The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Jackson died of injuries received when the automobile in which she was riding was in collision with one driven by Robert Suggs, an agent of Carson Gregory. Negligence on the part of Suggs is claimed to have been responsible for the accident. Suggs is said to have been driving Gregory's car.

Ben Forehand Dies Of Typhoid Fever

Ben Forehand, 28, died in the Goldsboro hospital Tuesday morning following several weeks illness of typhoid fever. Funeral services were conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Langston of Smithfield, Free Will Baptist minister. Interment was in the family cemetery near Mt. Carmel.

Mr. Forehand operated a store in the Greenleaf section of Goldsboro. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eva Blow Forehand; two daughters, Jo Anne, and Maxine; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Forehand of Mt. Carmel; three sisters, Mrs. Tom Lane of Mt. Olive, Mrs. Mattie Evans of near Pikeville; and Mrs. Henry Kirby of Patowan, and one brother, Bill Forehand of Mt. Carmel.

I ONLY HEARD!

By ISABELLE BADDOUR

Maybe I have this little paragraph misplaced. Maybe it should be on the woman's page. But I can't help but think right here, with the new bustle dress coming out this fall, how some of these squaws are planning to balance the bustle.

Mr. Carroll Bryan said he used to raise a fuss about having to pay full price for a hair cut. But since the barber told him one day that it wasn't cutting his hair that he charged him for, but the time he spends finding it.

Latest definition of a politician: A man who stands for what he thinks other people will fall for.

A wise woman agreed with her husband the other day when he insisted that he led a dog's life. "Yes, dear," she said, "you come into the house with muddy feet, settle down in the most comfortable chair and growl for something to eat."

WELL SPRUNG

Diner—"What kind of chicken is this?"
Waiter—"Spring chicken, sir."
Diner—"I thought so. I've been chewing one of the springs for the last ten minutes."—Clipped.

"Course I'm not very touchy and have been knocked around a little bit in my young life, but when the boss just about knows it's late enough Wednesday to be writing my column and drops a word to the effect that 'we don't need much copy—we're short on space'—oh, it saddens even the toughest heart."

And though it breaks my heart to leave you to go to the ball game, with a couple of morsels for your curiosity I'll bid you adios.

Who went around bragging that her boy friend called her long distance to the tune of $5—and forgot to mention that he was a wee bit on the side of spirit imbibing—who said, "Gosh, wouldn't I like to write his wife about this?"—who practically asked to be entertained at wedding showers—who had a heckuva time explaining what she did from 11 till two when the horse folks found out that the little girl next door went to the same party and was home at 11—who was slipping up the stairs with shoes in hand, dropped one of them and promptly stumbled over it—who was climbing out the window in a big hurry, only to have the screen fall and pin them in half way—under what circumstances did an embarrassed lad say, "Pardon me. I thought you were my husband"—and how does a certain young man know when to expect the folks back in time to enable him to do some record making shifts.

Five Newton Grove Men Hurt In Wreck

Three young men of the Newton Grove section were brought to the Goldsboro hospital Saturday morning, and two others were taken to a hospital in Fayetteville, all having been injured when their automobile ran into two wrecked cars about ten miles from Clinton on the White Lake road early Saturday morning.

Albert Bryan, 21, Henry Boyd Futrell, Jr., 21, and John Futrell, 23, are in the Goldsboro hospital. Bryan, who had been employed as a workman on the building project at the State hospital here, suffered a fracture of the skull and left arm, and severe shock. Henry Futrell suffered a fracture of the lower jaw. Barring complications they are expected to recover. John Futrell suffered minor injuries.

Earl Hill, 21, reported driver of the car, was taken in an unconscious condition from the wrecked automobile, and died later in a Fayetteville hospital. Grantham Thornton, 23, believed not so seriously injured, was taken also to the Fayetteville hospital.

T. C. Alford Hurt By Falling Auto

T. C. Alford, mechanic employed at the Wayne Motor Company, was caught under the front end of an automobile on which he was working at noon Saturday when a hoist chain slipped allowing the car to drop. He suffered a fractured leg and possible other injuries.

He was carried to the Goldsboro hospital where X-ray pictures were made to determine the extent of his injuries.

Goldsboro Swimmers Make A Big Splash At Wrightsville

Carlton Grading House Burns Here

Carlton's Grading House, located on East Atlantic Street and containing an estimated 75,000 pounds of tobacco belonging to Wayne farmers was destroyed in a five hour fire early Sunday morning. The building was owned by Mrs. Sallie Taylor Carlton and operated by Robert W. Carlton. The value of the tobacco destroyed was estimated at $13,000.

Origin of the fire is unknown. The alarm was turned in at 3:28, and firemen fought the flames until 10:20. When they reached the scene the grading house was ablaze all over, and adjacent homes were in great danger. The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lane was saved with difficulty, but their coal and woodhouse and tool house, garage and chicken house were destroyed. Vegetables in the garden, fruit trees, nut trees, and a grape vine were burned to a crisp. The Lane's had no insurance.

Tobacco Sorting Schools Prove a Benefit To Many

Seventy-Five Farmers Attend Schools Held For Two Days In The County.

Demonstrations of marketing, packing and grading tobacco conducted in Wayne county this week by W. L. Bradsher, tobacco marketing specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have been helpful in securing higher prices for the weed according to farmers who have attended the demonstrations.

Seventy-five farmers attended the demonstrations held Monday and Tuesday and directors report that the farmers displayed a great deal of interest.

Bradsher was assisted in conducting the schools by W. P. Hedrick, tobacco specialist of the N. C. Department of Agriculture, and Wayne Farm Agent C. S. Mintz.

Final demonstrations were held Wednesday in connection with the annual Wayne county farm tour, that began at the agriculture building, covered several farms over the county and wound up at Mrs. F. S. Sutton's farm.

This is the fourth year that the county has secured the demonstrations with the attendance and interest has increased each year.

Tadpole Gobbled Up In Pet Show

A pet tadpole was about to win first prize in the pet parade held in Goldsboro the past week end, but a tiny terrapin ate the tadpole and then won first prize himself for being the smallest pet in the parade.

The tadpole belonged to Teresa Kannan, and the terrapin to Noll Burns. Both pets had been entered for the prize offered for the smallest pet. They were put in a bowl of water together. The judges had decided upon the tadpole as the winner and started to get it to display among other prize winners, when it was discovered that the terrapin had made a meal of it.

The Local Goldfish Are Invited To Attend the Meet and Get Attention.

Members of the Goldsboro Swimming Association were the big splash in the aquacade of the second Annual Water Carnival held at Wrightsville Beach over the week end.

The Goldfish were the invited guests of the carnival association and made two presentations of the miniature aquacade which proved popular with the crowds that gathered on the south side to see the events. The ("Wilmington Star-News") reports that "the miniature aquacade presented by the Goldsboro Swimming Association was one of the most attractive events of the entire three-day carnival."

Eight girls—Prince Nuffer, Mary Louise Thomson, Hortense Liles, Lessie Pratt Mallard, Marie Crono, Shirley Lancaster, Lou Parker, Dorene Brown, and four boys—Bill Nuffer, Ernest Crono, James Kennedy and Ed Shumate and accompanied by Coach Chas Stapleton made the trip. The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. W. F. Nuffer. Ralph Miller of Goldsboro announced the events.

Participants in the aquacade have in three years competitive swimming gained national recognition and hold numerous State and Southern records and a few national titles. The first number was a demonstration of the three most popular swimming strokes, the back strokes, the broadstroke and the American crawl.

Lessie Pratt Mallard and Shirley Lancaster in a tandem demonstration displayed skill in the backstroke, the double backstroke, the breaststroke and the roll-over.

Prince Nuffer, 15-year-old girl, was featured in the next event. In this she swam 50 yards, with the American crawl and 50 yards in the backstroke exhibition. Miss Nuffer holds seven junior and senior records in the Mid-Atlantic Swimming Association, and three junior records and two senior records in the Carolina AAU.

In other events, Ed Shumate, holder of the Carolina AAU 200-meter breaststroke record and the 300-meter individual record, demonstrated the butterfly, or new breaststroke. James Kennedy, holder of the state high school back stroke mark, Carolina AAU backstroke and Junior Men's title, swam a backstroke exhibition.

The finale was a "snake swim" in which the swimmers demonstrated all types of swimming while moving in a snake-like line which finally became a tight circle.

Youth Is Injured By Falling Tree

Alton Williams, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Williams, of near Elroy, is in a serious condition in the Goldsboro hospital with injuries received late Friday afternoon when he was caught under the trunk of a falling tree. He suffered a fractured spine and internal injuries. He would undoubtedly have been killed had there not been a bend in the tree trunk above him.

Engineers Are Busy Now Putting Finishing Touches on Local Station.

ORGANIZATION IS SET READY FOR THE OPENING

Station Is One of the Beautiful in Section, According To Opinion.

Tentative plans call for the official opening of Goldsboro's radio station, WGBR, on or about August 15, according to announcement of A. T. "Bert" Hawkins, general manager of the station.

Radio men are at present engaged in putting the finishing touches on the station equipment. Work has just been completed on the grounding of the aerial. Some hundred wires were attached to the base of the tower standing behind the station and then buried over the eight acre plot on which the station is constructed.

Local men who are backing the installation of the station in Goldsboro say that the building, which has been constructed to house it, is the most modern in this section of the state, far surpassing any in Raleigh as to outside and inside beauty. For approximately $500 and the necessary permission from the F. C. C. WGBR's equipment could put out the same power that WPTF does in Raleigh.

An outside view of the station from the overhead bridge just as one leaves Goldsboro is one of beauty and modernistic construction. The plot on which the station is constructed has a four-acre front and is two acres deep, giving a wide expanse of land for landscaping.

Entering the station one comes into the main reception room with the control room in front of him. To the left of the door is two offices, one of which is an information desk and the other for the program director. On the right there are also two offices, one for the general manager and the other for the commercial manager.

Walking into the main lobby one is able to look into both the large and small studios where all the broadcasting will originate. Each studio is finished with a concrete floor resting on two inches of cork, which is entirely separate from the remainder of the building. This cork acts a reducer of the noise in the studio. The walls and ceilings of the studios are finished with a special fiber which absorbs any unnecessary noises. Entrance to both studios are so constructed as to make it necessary to enter a sound lock before entering the studios. This also keeps unnecessary noise from getting into the studio and on the air during a broadcast.

The building is equipped with a basement for the furnace, two rest rooms and a work room.

The opening of this station will bring to Goldsboro a long needed asset, and it will quickly find its place in the business and professional life of the city.

The Goldsboro Herald offers its congratulations to Mr. Hawkins, and to the other Goldsboro citizens backing this enterprise.

Delvert Caraway Is Kicked By Mule

Delvert Caraway, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Caraway of Route 2, Goldsboro, was severely cut about the mouth and nose when he was kicked in the face by a mule Saturday afternoon.

He was brought to the Goldsboro Hospital, and many stitches were taken to close the wound. Sunday afternoon he was taken back home.

Local Negro Shot By Local Negress

Leslie Hines, 27 year old Goldsboro negro, was shot in the face, neck and breast Saturday night by Sarah Battle, negress, about 27, and is in a serious condition in the Goldsboro Hospital. The woman escaped, and has not yet been captured.

The shooting followed a row in the Webbtown section of the city. Hines is said to have cursed the woman, and she went home, secured a shot gun, and stood by the corner of a store, and as Hines came out of an alley shot him with a full charge. His physician said that he supposed as many as four or five hundred shot were embedded in the negro's body, some of which could be removed.
