

ANNUAL SPRING CLEAN-UP

Just What Transpires When Hectic Magazine Has to Make a Semblance of Order.

"First of all, get rid of that barrel of old stories in which the principals got married at the end of the last chapter. Nowadays they must marry early and separate, or not marry at all."

"Throw out this adventure story in which the man who got shot 'fell backward with a groan.' 'He crumpled up' is the only form permitted for victims of gunshot wounds."

"Here's a whole bale of MSS. in which the characters are not afflicted with dipsomania, neurosis or hookworm. How can a healthy person be interesting?"

"One of our editors went color blind and bought that story with a brunette heroine in it. Our specifications always call for 'sunlit coronets,' or 'hair of burnished bronze' or 'a divine little head covered with spun gold.' Eyes must be 'azure pools' or the like. Let the ashman read about a black-haired heroine!"

"Out goes this yarn! It wasn't so bad except that the heroine, when proposed to, acted like a human being. Our heroines have got to 'flee like a frightened wild thing.'"

ITCHING, BURNING ECZEMA

R. F. D. No. 1, Box 15, Corapeake, N. C.—"My baby began with the eczema itching and burning. It broke out all over his head and face, legs and arms with little pimples. I did not sleep any in about four months. He cried and itched all night and day for four months until his head and face were matter all over. He was disfigured badly. His clothing would be difficult to remove at times. I tried two treatments with no success at all and I had almost decided there was no cure for it. I was told by a friend that Cuticura Soap and Ointment would cure it. I washed the child with the Cuticura Soap and warm water two or three times a day, then anointed him all over with the Cuticura Ointment. He took a great change and slept night and day. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment six months and he was cured completely." (Signed) Mrs. Arma Lee, Mar. 24, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

That Whiff of Violets. "My! what a flowery whiff! That handkerchief must have been literally steeped in violets," exclaimed one girl to another who had just shaken out from its folds a fragrant square of linen. "Not steeped in violets, my dear," was the answer, "but boiled in orris water. The effect is the same. Oh washing day I supply the washerwoman with a good-sized piece of orris root, and she throws it into the water where my handkerchiefs are boiling. When they come up from ironing they are as redolent of orris as can be. Then I slip them between the folds of a sachet filled with violet powder, and they never lose their fragrance. Violets and orris scent together make a real violet odor."

The Same Thing.

Vincent Astor, at a dinner in New York, said of the French evening gowns that have caused so many shocked women to unite in protest. "I heard a story about one of these gowns. A headstrong girl had purchased it in the Rue de la Paix without her mother's knowledge, and she insisted on wearing it, the evening it came home, at Armouville for dinner and at the opera afterwards for the Russia ball. Her mother, however, protested. But the girl, in her headstrong way, declared: "I'll wear that gown or nothing."

"With a shrug and a faint smile, her mother answered: "Well, it comes to about the same thing."

PRESIDENT TALKS OF INDEPENDENCE

AMERICANS SHOULD MANAGE THEIR OWN AFFAIRS IN WAY TO HONOR FOUNDERS.

CRITICIZES THE KNOCKERS

Facts, or Alleged Facts, Being Given Out Do Not Always Tally, Says President Wilson.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Advocating the modernizing of the Declaration of Independence by applying its principles to the business and political and the foreign policies of America, President Wilson thrilled a huge crowd assembled in Independence Square within a few feet of where the original declaration was signed.

The president touched on Mexico, the Panama tolls repeal controversy, his anti-trust program, business conditions and his ideas of modern patriotism. Pounding his fist on the table on which the Declaration of Independence was signed, he declared Americans today must manage their affairs in a way to do honor to the founders of the nation. There are men in Washington today, he declared, whose patriotism is not shown but who accomplish great patriotic things. They are staying in Washington, doing their duty, keeping a quorum in each house of Congress to do business. "And I am mighty glad to stay there and stick by them," he added.

Touching on business conditions of the country, President Wilson said a great many allegations of facts were being made, but that a great many of these facts do not tally with each other.

"Are these men trying to serve their country or something 'smaller than their country'?" the president asked. "If they love America and there is anything wrong it is their business to put their hands to the task and set it right."

Eighty-five per cent of the Mexican people, the president said in touching on Mexico never have had a right to have a "look-in" on their government while the other 15 per cent were running it.

"Now, the American people have a heart that beats for them just as it beats for other millions," Mr. Wilson continued. "I hear a great deal about the property loss in Mexico, and I regret that with all my heart, but back of it all is a struggling people. Let us not forget that struggle in watching what is going on in front."

"I would be ashamed of the flag if we did anything outside this country which we would not do in it," the president declared. Speaking of Panama tolls, the president said the treaty with England might be a mistake, but its meaning cannot be mistaken and he believed in keeping the nation's obligations. He believed in keeping the name of the United States unquestioned and unswayed.

Before the president got his speech well under way the crowd surged forward in such confusion that a panic was threatened. Two companies of marines and sailors stood before the speaker's stand and the president was forced to stop several times but finally got the crowd under control.

TROOPS MOVE TO CAPITAL.

Federals Are Recruiting and Preparing to Attack Mexico City. Eagle Pass, Tex.—Information brought by messengers from Saltillo was that troops from the division of the East have been ordered by General Pablo Gonzalez to proceed immediately to Queretaro. This move is regarded as significant of the part the division of the East intends to play in the final assault on Mexico City and the final stand of the Federals probably will be made at Queretaro.

The movement to Queretaro, it is thought here, also was precipitated by the withdrawal of Federal troops under General Pascual Orozco from the Queretaro garrison to reinforce the Mexico City garrison.

Want $10,000 to Fight Plague.

Atlanta, Ga.—The State Board of Health, it was announced a few days ago, has asked the General Assembly, through Governor Slaton, for an appropriation of $10,000 with which to fight possible entrance of bubonic plague into Georgia seaports. In requesting the appropriation the health officials announce they wish to make an investigation, following the recommendation of Surgeon General Rupert Blue, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service now at New Orleans.

Killed by Dynamite.

Dayton, Penn.—An explosion of dynamite here killed William Cleveland, aged 2, and seriously injured Fred Cleveland, age 6, and his sister, Grace, age 4, that physicians said they could not live. John Wargney lost his right hand. A friend had taken four sticks of dynamite to the Cleveland home to celebrate the Fourth and while he was preparing the charge, William picked up one of the caps and bit it. The explosion that followed instantly killed him and set off the dynamite.

Flora-Town Helps

CLEANING AND GROWING

Possible Every One to Plant a Few Flowers on Their Property.

Cleaning a limited in meaning. Homes may be through housecleaning. Householders may clean streets and sidewalks and remove every rubbish pile. In buildings strenuous efforts may be made, will be made, to have every spot of litter carted away. That is a beginning.

The city may be made beautiful by plants. Plants respond to every little care. Flowers bloom when it is not right not to start the habit of growing plants. It is not difficult and almost inexpressible concern in this city, with hundreds of windows in the building, where a thousand work, on every sill. Trailing vines that cover the brick walls, though they are artistic. In midsummer a factory is a joy to these who like to see evidences of nature's handiwork.

Greater things can be accomplished along this line. A space two yards wide and ten feet long in front of factory or store will yield abundantly. The window sashes bear flowers, the vacant spots with a charming mixture of color given half a chance.

One person famed in story and song, had not a wall there came the sprout of a life flower. He nursed it and gave it encouragement from his limited supply. He was well rewarded, as the ambitious flower wanted to grow. And they want to grow on every vacant foot of land in the aggregate.

Clean-up is a proper rallying cry, but add to it a desire to see nature's marvels grow, and the city clean also will be a city beautiful.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

INVITED TO PLANT TREES

Park Commissioner Ingersoll of Brooklyn Urges Systematic Beautifying of Highways.

Park Commissioner Raymond V. Ingersoll of the borough of Brooklyn has published a pamphlet entitled "Tree Planting on City Streets," which is to be sent to property owners whose trees are removed as dead or dangerous.

"Citizens are urged to plant trees in front of their property," the commissioner writes. "Still better than individual planting is co-operative planting by blocks or streets. This method secures uniformity of treatment and has been done successfully in several sections. Fuller particulars will be furnished if requested. The department cares for the pruning and spraying of street trees and the removal of dead trees. It has no appropriation for street planting. The number of street trees in Brooklyn is growing less than about fifteen hundred yearly."

Commissioner Ingersoll recommends the Oriental acornore, the Norway maple, and the oak for city streets and for suburbs. The poplars, silver maple, catalpa and willow are classed by him as undesirable.

Some Gardening Advice.

When he begins gardening the amateur calls a spade a spade. After the third blister his vocabulary expands. Don't expect your hellebore blossoms to smell like the cologne named after them.

Trailing Arbutus should be hunted, not planted.

Wistaria grows well, but it takes its own time about it.

When introducing tomato plants to their summer home be gentle and courteous. A little kindness at this time will make them happy all the season through.

Cultivating a hedge is like acquiring an accent. You always prefer the way the natives do it.—New York Telegraph.

Keep on Cleaning Up.

Gratifying results followed the titular clean-up week, but these will be of little importance if the spirit does not continue throughout the year.

Philadelphia is now in its best bib and tucker, and it would remain so. Much as we necessarily depend upon the authorities for the larger part of the work that is most essential is that every householder shall make up his mind to maintain existing conditions. It is the bits of paper and clusters of dirt that offend the eye. They are easily removed and ought not to be allowed to accumulate. Let every week be a clean-up week.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Coming Fast.

"Business must be picking up with you," said the postman, as he threw down a bundle of letters.

"No, it isn't," said the man at the desk replied, with a sigh. "My two sons are away at college now. These are demands for more money."

Business Men About to Start on Their Summer Vacations.

Business men about to start on their summer vacations are advised to read dime novels, smoke cornstalk cigarettes and act like "kiddie" again, by Dr. Louis R. Weismiller, physical director of the West Side Y. M. C. A. of New York. His prescription for the rejuvenation of business-worn members of the association has been posted all over the association's building. It reads: "Forget your dignity, throw away your staidness, and be a kid again—a wholesome, fun-loving, bolstering, dime-novel-reading kid—during your vacation. Many of you men, when youngsters, used to think it great fun to sneak out behind the barn, with a cigarette made of cornstalk and brown wrapping paper. It won't hurt you to try the same thing again. You won't be able to smoke enough to hurt yourself, and there's no danger of contracting the cornstalk habit.

"Dime novels make good summer reading. They are next to the bible for vacation reading, but take the bible along, of course. Many great men read Nick Carter, Jesse James and like writings for relaxation. Most of you men have come to New York and have made good. Help yourselves to make good again next winter by being a boy again on your vacation.

LAUGH ON OLD CAL CLAY

Jack London Makes a Comparison in Story That Has the Elements of Humor.

Jack London said in Vera Cruz, where he was sojourning as a war correspondent: "Some of these young war correspondents whom I see about me are as ignorant of war correspondence as old Cal Clay was ignorant of astronomy."

"I found old Cal Clay sitting in his shirt sleeves on his front stoop one day, puffing like mad on his pipe, and never getting a puff of smoke from it.

"As I drew near he struck three matches and held them to the bowl; he sucked and sucked till his cheeks seemed to meet inside; still never a puff of smoke.

"And burnt matches lay all round his chair. There must have been a boxful of them.

"Why, Cal," said I, "what on earth are you doing?"

"That chump of a Wash White's been tryin' to fool me, I expect," said he, and he took another futile puff and put his pipe down in disgust. That chump Wash told me if I smoked a piece of glass I could see the spots on the sun."

For Warm Days.

"Why do you call so often on Miss Haughty these evenings? You never did it before."

"I know, but she has such freezing manners."
