Good Live Matter Crowded Out Last Week.

Bean Panic Broken.
Mr. J. F. Baumgardner, of Long Creek section broke the bean panic here last Saturday for a few days at least. He brought twenty bushels of Kentucky Wonder beans to town and by the time he had finished unloading he had about stocked the market to the handle. Mr. Baumgardner also brought some fresh corn and when he had finished selling out he was $33.35 to the good. We are informed that he picked these beans from less than a quarter of an acre and that the corn on the same plot is bidding fair for fifty bushels per acre.

Pastime Improvement Indefinite

In last week's issue of the Herald we stated that the Pastime Theatre would at an early date close down for five or six weeks for improvements in the building. We now learn that the time is very indefinite when this will be done. It is pending on the disposition the town makes of the side walk situation along that business block. The owners of the building don't care to make any changes in the building until the sidewalk is lowered or until they learn that it will not be done. Messrs V. E. and Henderson Long of Gastonia, who own the building, were in town last Friday looking after the matter.

An Error.

The type made us say last week that Mr. W. W. Reynolds had malaria fever. We tried to say that Mrs. Reynolds had the fever. But we are glad to announce that she is well again and must not have had much of the dreaded stuff.

Miss Margaret Kendrick returned last Thursday from a visit to her sister, Mrs. T. L. Ware of Mt. Holly.

Misses Emily Wright of Clover S. C. arrived Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Herndon.

Miss Stowe of Lowell is visiting her brother, Mr. Charlie Stowe.

not a single puncture! Our companion car, we left at China Grove and it was not until the small hours of the morning that the rode into town.
This ended our delightful journey, our minds filled with pleasant scenes and happy remembrances, but our hearts ready to exclaim with the Poet when he wrote—
"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

A Comfort in Time of Trouble.

A subscriber writes from Gastonia, Route 3, that the Herald is more than welcome at his house. He says "The Herald is a newsy paper and I don't like to miss a copy". This good man has expressed the feeling of thousands of others who anxiously await the coming of the Herald each week.
He goes on to state that he is in the hail district, that we have all read of it but that isn't like having your crop, garden, fruit, melon patches, chickens, and everything that we had or expected to have to eat destroyed at once. People are very busy planting peas and such like trying to make whatever they can for man or beast. It goes on to say; we hope there is a brighter day in the future. Some six or eight hundred dollars have been donated by private parties for the purchase of clover seed. That is very good, but it doesn't help the cropper or renter. Some of the land owners have given up their rent claims. If they will all do that it will look like charity beginning at home and it do a lot more good than a few pounds of any kind of seed.
