Two Big Weeks At Elbethel
Children baptized. General rules read and observed. Children of the church instructed. But very little assistance in those former days for the itinerant He labored hard and faithful of times remaining upon his knees hours together.

May the Lord ever reward them I can mention a few visits to El-Bethel from the Rev. Dr. Mabry and old uncle Joseph Parker. Whose preaching were very acceptable.

In the early 1850s of this church the pastor and his flock were ever known as Methodist all superfluity of dress gold and silver and costly array were abandoned and forsaken. Choosing to be little and unknown. Prized and loved by God alone.

This sketch supposed to have been written by Rev. Higley Harmon for his mother Rachel B. Harmon.

An Eleven Ounce Peach

Master Aubry Mauney gave the wolf a severe fright Thursday when he through Mayor Cline presented the Herald man a whaling big peach. We didn't weigh the peach but the Mayor said that the good little man whose compliments accompanied the fruit claimed that it weighed eleven ounces. It must have weighed it and it was just as good as it was big.

If you have a good thing and you want it eaten put the Herald man on the scent. He's an expert on devouring good eatables.

Show You

Mr. Merchant,

If you think everybody knows you and knows what you have to sell you are badly mistaken. People move into town almost everyday who never saw or heard of you. Those people are obliged to trade somewhere and they are going to trade with the fellow who gets there first with the goods. A big itemized AD in the HERALD is the best solicitor you can possibly employ.
