SCHOOL RULES

BY SUPT. J. Y. IRVIN

Rules for teachers and pupils in Cleveland County schools

1. All schools shall open November 15, 1915.
2. The daily sessions of the schools shall begin not later than 8:15 a. m. and shall continue not less than six hours exclusive of all recesses, with a morning and afternoon recess of not more than 10 minutes and a noon recess of not more than one hour.
3. All teachers of the county shall attend all meetings of the Teacher's Association. These meetings will be held in Shelby the first Saturday of December, January, February and March.
4. All teachers shall be in their respective school rooms at least 15 minutes before the time fixed for opening the school and at least one teacher shall remain on the school ground at noon and after school until the building has been safely closed and all the children sent home for the day.
5. All pupils doing damage to the school property shall pay for same, and upon failure to do so, may be excluded from the school and for willful damage may be prosecuted.
6. The teachers shall hold an examination during the last week of school, and shall promote those making an average of 80 per cent. The questions for the seventh grade examination shall be prepared by the County Superintendent and sent to the teachers upon application.
7. The County Commencement shall be held the first Monday in April [April 3, Monday]. All pupils who have passed a successful examination in the previous school branches shall be given a diploma, but no pupil shall be given such diploma unless the teacher certifies the completion of the 7th grade work.
8. The teacher shall look after the library during the school term and shall endeavor to get pupils and parents interested in books.
9. All teachers are urged by the County Board to enroll all eligible material in the Boys' Corn Club and the Girls' Tomato Club and to organize in every district a Club.
10. All teachers are asked to organize a debating society, to hold spelling bees, to hold parents' meetings, to have a school exhibit and entertainment at the close of school.
11. All teachers are asked to bring their schools to County Commencement First Monday in April and to take part in the spelling contest, the oratorical contest, the athletic contests, and the school exhibit.
12. All teachers are asked to prove their school grounds and organize a Betterment Association to improve the school building.
13. The Compulsory period was to begin December 6, and the attendance officers are to receive $1.00 for each trial and $1.00 for each conviction.
14. I. C. Griffin was employed to hold all Teachers' meetings for the year. All teachers are required to attend, and any teacher failing to attend will not have his salary paid.
15. Since there were only 23 schools that called on the county for window lights, it is the opinion of the school Board that it is not just for the districts that take care of their window lights and have the ones who break them put them back in to help pay for lights in districts that do not take any care of their buildings, so it is the ruling of the Board that no county money shall be paid out for window

Patterson Grove Debating Society

The Patterson Grove Debating Society is a thing to be admired and encouraged. The society was organized about a year ago and has been in vogue ever since, didn't even let up for hot weather. The society consists of thirty of the young men of the community led by Mr. Grady Goforth as president. The young men meet each Friday night and debate the issue of the day. They talk of having a public debate soon. Hope they will and we will all go. Go ahead boys.

Editor G. G. Page has been invited to address the Baptist Sunday School at Patterson Station next Sunday. Unless providentially hindered he will be there. He will speak on the general conditions existing in the Kings Mountain Association.

15. Since there were only 23 schools that called on the county for window lights, it is the opinion of the school Board that it is not just for the districts that take care of their window lights and have the ones who break them put them back in to help pay for lights in districts that do not take any care of their buildings, so it is the ruling of the Board that no county money shall be paid out for window

The McSwain Tour

By E. S. McSwain

(Cont'd from last week)

The building is made of fire proof material. In the center of the arc is erected a great dome with steps leading down to the lagoon in a beautiful setting of shrubbery, composed of Montgomery Cypress and other evergreen trees, which in all forms what is the prettiest vista of the whole Exposition. As the name implies this building is the home of the Paintings and Sculptures gathered from all nations of the globe, artistically arranged, and representing the best there is in this line by the most prominent Artists and Sculptors there are in the world are have lived in days gone by. The exhibits are only grand and beyond description, but to add to their magnificence the epic schemes of the galleries were to serve as a sympathetic background for its contents. It is a Paradise for the Artist and the lover of art in paintings or in bronze or other sculpture work, and many days can be spent here by these so inclined viewing the seemingly endless collection.

Next we visit the Palace of Education which contains exhibits that show the latest developments along educational lines, and specializing on progressive movements and reforms seeking to forecast the education of tomorrow. This is also contrasted with a comparative exhibit of the educational systems of all the nations of the world, and a comprehensive demonstration of the educational work being done in the United States from the Kindergarten to the University. This is well worth a great deal of thought and your time is well spent here.

The Department of School Economy has brought together a comprehensive collection of exhibits illustrative of the conditions and necessities of man considered as a member of organized society and government, together with displays showing the agencies or means employed for his well being. All matters pertaining to commerce, business standards and systems; labor problems, domestic science and woman's vocations. The latest discoveries of hygiene; missionary work, international and universal peace institutions; diplomatic and consular systems, as well as many other kindred subjects, all well treated.

The Palace of Liberal Arts covers nearly six acres of ground and ranks high in the classification of exhibits, and embraces the applied sciences which indicate the results of man's education and culture, illustrating his tastes and demonstrating his inventive genius and scientific attainments in expressing his artistic nature. This indeed is a place to hold your interest.

The Palace of Manufactures and Varied Industries, as the names implies, contains the exhibitions of the finished products of all nations of manufactured and manual skill; the objects of utility, luxury and taste in which constitutes the most part of its valuable foreign trade. The reader can well imagine what this will include and again recall the best of our own products.

careful examination, and your interest will not lag here.

Next we come to the Palace of Machinery, which is the largest building erected on the Exposition site, being 968 by 368 feet. Four car loads of nails were used in the construction of this building as well as 1,500 tons of bolts and washers.

This is not only the largest building but contains one of the most interesting exhibits. In it are assembled not only the most modern machinery of all classes and types, but as a contrast, the machinery used in its stead a century ago, thereby showing the wonderful improvements that have been made in the various kinds of machinery used in the short space of one hundred years; it is truly marvelous to look at as you vainly try to imagine how our fore-fathers managed to get along with just such and such a machine. The collection embraces almost all kinds of machines imaginable, and time takes wings as you pass from one to the other, though it is well spent.

Next we pass on to the Palace of Transportation, in which the vast field of transportation in all its phases are well represented, from the submarine to the aeroplane. These are not only gathered from the United States but from all nations of the globe and differ from the exhibits of Palace of Machinery, since they show only the latest achievements in the various lines represented.

The next number on the free course will be given on November 15th. This promises to be a most splendid attraction. It is musical and will be given by Yoles. The local committee has exhausted the Herald's November Chapter's stored up funds for this annual concert.

MRS. SMITH

PASSES AWAY

One of East Kings Mountain's oldest citizens dies

Mrs. Eve L. Smith of East Kings Mountain died at the home of her son, Bennett A. Smith, Sunday October 8th, at the age of 86 years. She had suffered with asthma for several years and it is thought it caused her death. She had not been seriously sick but had been a little worse than usual for day or two. When she failed to report for breakfast Sunday morning her room was visited and she was found in the very throes of death and died a few minutes later.

Mrs. Smith was a consistent member of the Methodist church and was known for her strong Christian character.

Deceased is survived by two sons, J. North Smith and Bennett A. Smith of Kings Mountain. The funeral was conducted at the home of Bennett A. Smith at two p. m. Tuesday by Rev. E. O. Cole pastor of Kings Mountain Methodist church assisted by Rev. B. A. Culp, pastor Grace Methodist Church, and Rev. Edw. M. Graham pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Interment followed in Mountain Rest Cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the good people for their kindness to our family during the sickness and death of our mother, Mrs. Sue L. Smith. May the Lord bless you. Bennett A. Smith J. North Smith.

Children's Day at Bessemer

(Crowded out last week)

The Baptist Sunday school at Bessemer city observed Children's Day Sunday night. The house was crowded to the overflowing with anxious hearers. The exercises by the children were the best selected, best prepared and best rendered this writer has ever had the pleasure to enjoy. The pieces were short and pointed and all had the right smack about them.

The editor of the Herald was present and made an address on "The situation which confronts the Sunday School and the church in the Kings Mountain Baptist Association." While the per cent of church members enrolled in the Sunday Schools of the association average 85 per cent of all the church members, Mr. Page stated that the Bessemer school averaged 50 per cent of its church members enrolled in the Sunday school. The Sunday school making the best report in the Association is Grover with Sixty per cent of its Church members in Sunday School. The one making the lowest score was 18 per cent but Mr. Page would not divulge the name of that school.

The children's exercises were prepared by brethren Rollins, Hall and others of the Bessemer school greatly aided by Prof. C. E. Gardner of Kings Mountain who is teaching a music school there. Mr. Gardner about the best help we ever had in a thing of the kind.

The Bessemer Church will be closed for a week or so.
