AURORA-PIEDMONT.

Editor B. H. DePriest has changed the name of his new Republican paper from "The Aurora-Highlander" to "The Aurora-Piedmont." The first copy appeared Saturday. There was but little of the personality of the editor in evidence.

Mrs. A. N. Harmon and daughter, Miss Rachel, returned last week from Gastonia where they visited Mrs. L. C. Davis.

A DAYS WAGES

Kings Mountain, N. C., Nov. 15, 1915
Whereas, our kind Father above has blessed us with peace and plenty, and in recognition of this, the President of the United States and the Governor of North Carolina have set apart Thursday, November 25th, 1915, as a National Thanksgiving Day; I, Zedekiah Park, President of the North Carolina Orphans' Association, do respectfully ask every citizen of color, politics or religion, to set apart one day's earnings to be on Thanksgiving Day to the Orphans of the State, or some other worthy cause.

LYCEUM

AGAIN FRIDAY

Fine attraction last Wednesday night and still a finer this Friday night

"The Musical Entertainers," held the big audience completely captivated throughout a two hour program at the school auditorium last Wednesday night. It was an occasion enjoyed by everyone. The numbers were all rich, rare and new. One number would be a side-splitter and the next full of pathos, one in the most refined English, another in German and others in negro dialect. The program was full of variations and held the audience always in deep rapture and expectancy.

The company is composed of three talented and cultured young ladies as follows: Miss Edith Hockerson of Lincoln, Nebraska; Miss Ethel Garton, and Miss Miss Fay Ingram of Kansas City. They travel under the auspices of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau and seem to be scoring hits every where.

This was the second attraction of the five which the Redpath Lyceum Bureau is giving here during this fall and winter. On October first "The Carroll Glees" opened the course with an attraction that gave the whole movement impetus and popularity. As a result of the first attraction and the diligent advertising given the second a much larger audience was present Wednesday night than at the first number.

Aside from the season ticket admissions, the door receipts amounted to $24.50

HASELTINE OPERA COMPANY.

"The Haseltine Opera Company," will stage third attraction of the lyceum course at the school auditorium this Friday night. This will be the last until February and promises to be among the very best in the entire course. There are five characters in this attraction all of whom are noted entertainers. The two former attractions, as all well know, met fully the expectations of the public. This one embraces more characters than either of those and costs the committee twenty five dollars more. It must, therefore, be extra good. The admission is as usual 25c for children and 50c for adults. Season tickets are on sale at the Herald office for the three remaining attractions at the following rates, children 30 cents, adults $1.25. Buy a season ticket and save 25 cents. The committee still has a considerable amount to raise and if the patrons don't pay it the committee will have to do it. If you want to know more about the company, call on the Herald office.

Turkey Soars Above the Eagle Today

For Thanksgiving is the day and the turkey is the viand that are peculiarly American. The eagle may appeal to our hearts, but who would swap the Thanksgiving turkey when it is a question of the rest of his body?

Newly formed "The Haseltine Opera Company," and what we are to see Friday night.

THE HASELTINE OPERA COMPANY, with Miss Edna Haseltine

EDNA HASELTINE.

Haseltine, protegee of Madam Emma Calve, in the leading role, presents a vivid portrayal of thrilling Spanish Gypsy life, entitled "The Gypsy Singers," written especially for Miss Haseltine by Musical Calp Berry.

The scenery used is an exact reproduction of the historic viaduct of Saragossa, Spain, built in the dark ages by the Arabs who conquered Spain, and where the Maid of Saragossa saved the Spanish army. The mountains, valleys, rivers and village are all shown.

The Gypsy songs which are woven into this sketch are taken from "Carmen," the "Bohemian Girl" and other opera. Elegant costumes will be used.

that Miss Edna Haseltine was to lead this company the coming season. The announcement of same, including the fact that she was to appear under the management of the Redpath Musical Bureau, was made by such metropolitan newspapers as the Chicago Post, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the St. Louis Republic, the Kansas City Star and other journals—the Chicago Post and Globe Democrat also using Miss Haseltine's photograph.

When Madam Calve made her tour of the United States in 1912, she gave audience to many young women throughout the country, who came to her recommended as possessing favorable voices. In all it is said there were 200 young women heard by the famous prima donna on this tour. Out of this number she selected two who should come to her home in Nice, to receive special instruction from her during the following year. Miss Haseltine was one of the two selected. Madam Calve stated that Miss Haseltine's voice was especially adapted to the part of Carmen.

Miss Haseltine subsequently went to the home of Madam Calve in France and lived with her throughout the school year at her castle, Chateau d'Cabrieves, receiving two lessons a day. She had many interesting experiences in Europe and met many of the leading musicians abroad, including Mme. Sembrich.

Madam Calve spoke of Miss Haseltine as follows: "Edna has a beautiful voice; she is a brave, intelligent young lady, with much energy and a heart of gold."

Before returning to the United States, Miss Haseltine also studied in Paris with D'auvoigne, the noted teacher of voice.

Springfield, Missouri, and graduated from Drury College, and also the vocal department of Drury. She spent a year in the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, taught music in the school at Joplin, then entered the Grand Opera Company of Kansas City, Mo., and there she met Madam Calve and sang for her. Miss Haseltine is a daughter of S. A. Haseltine, a well known attorney and is a granddaughter of the late Ira S. Haseltine, who was a member of Congress from the Springfield, Mo., district.

There will be five in the Haseltine Opera Company in all. Miss Una Haseltine, a sister of Miss Edna Haseltine, also takes a leading part. She is a high soprano. She studied voice in Kansas City with Ottley Cranston, widely known teacher. She has also appeared with the Kansas City Opera Company.

YORKVILLE MATTERS

(Yorkville Equivier Friday)

The Ladies Aid society of the Associate Reformed church will serve oysters and other edibles in the old Rose hotel building this evening.

The Graded school has gotten on a debate on the proposition "Resolved that the United States should have laid an embargo on munitions of war at the outbreak of hostilities in Europe."

At the rate local people have been making applications to Rev. J. L. Oates for the privilege of entertaining delegates to the A. R. F. synod next fall, the outlook is that all the prospective visitors will have been provided for long before the time arrives for taking on the matter.

B. P. UNION

SHELBY SUNDAY

First regular meeting Baraca Philathia meeting a big success

The first regular meeting of the Cleveland County Baraca Philathia Union was held Sunday in the Second Baptist Church of Shelby. The meeting was attended by good delegations from all over the County. Not all the classes in the County were represented but a goodly number considering the fact that this was the first meeting since organization. The constitution adopted was made liberal enough to admit to membership Berean, Fidelis and other organized classes having a president and a secretary. In discussing the membership clause of the constitution, it was pointed out that there were many other organized classes besides Baraca and Philathia that are striving toward the same end as those classes and that would make useful members of the organization would themselves reap a benefit by all working in cord.
