FORESTRY MEETING GOES TO NEW BERN

ASSOCIATION MEETS IN EASTERN P/ TT OF STATE FOR FIRST TIME -- JANAUARY 18-19.

DASPATCHES FROM RALEIGH

Doings and Happenings That Mark the Progress of North Carolina People Gathered Around the State Capitol.

Raleigh.

The executive committee of North Carolina Forestry Association has decided to hold the Sixth Annual Foresty Convention in New Bern on Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 18 and 19, 1916. This is the first time the association has been called to meet in the eastern part of the state, and it is expected that the departure will amply justified by the increased at-

The coastal plain region of this state is the seat of the North Carolina pine industry and is the greatest lumbering region northeast of Lousi-New Bern can well be considered the heart of this industry, and a large number of those whose chief interest is the utilization of timber can most conveniently attend.

One of the largest lumbering concerns in the country has tendered the convention an excursion over one of its operations. This trip will be arranged for the second day of the meeting. In this way the delegates will have an unequalled opportunity of learning of some of North Carolina's most pressing forestry problems

Mrs. Nathan O'Berry, of Goldsboro, is president and Mr. J. S. Holmes, of Chapel Hill, secretary of the associa-

Demonstration Work Interesting.

One of the most interesting reports that will be submitted to the state board of agriculture at the annual meeting during the first week of December will be on the home demonstration work, a division of the departmental service directed by Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon. The reports will show the addition of quite a large number of workers, giving special ser-vice in many counties. Within the four years 43 counties have taken up this home demonstration work in peration with the state department and 20 of these counties are employing whole-time supervisors. women who are devoting their entire time to the work among the counties' rural women and girls. One of the most valued additions to the staff has been Minnie L. Jamison, who came to the department from the State Nor mal College at Greensboro to become assistant to Mrs. McKimmon. Miss Jamison's wide nequaintance with the women throughout the state gained during her service with the State Normal College and her practical knowledge of home demonstration work make her a most valuable acquisition. She is serving the depart ment on leave from the State Normal College, to which service she will re-turn at the conclusion of her engagement with the department of agricul-Other recent additions to the staff engaged in this home demonstration work are: Miss Cornelia Morris, Alamance county; Miss Grace Shaffer, Guilford county; Miss Celeste Henkel, Iredell; Miss Beulah Arey, Durham county Miss Eunice Penny, Davidson, Miss Grace Bradford, Moore county.

Reclamation Company Increasing.

An amendment was filed for the charter of the Southern Land Reclamation Company of Swan Quarter, Hyde county, increasing the capital Hyde county, increasing the capital from $150,000 to $300,000 and changing the name to the New Holland Farms D. N. Graves is president and C. E. Watson is secretary of the corporation which is draining Mattamus keet Lake and adjacent swamps. J. P. Keer, private secretary to Governo Craig is designated as in charge of the affairs of the corporation.

Craig Considers Two Requisitions.

Governor Craig Issued a requisition on the Governor of Virginia for Allen D. Stephenson, who is wanted at Fayetteville on a charge of immoral conduct and breach of promise. He is under arrest at Hopewell, Va. Governor Craig honored a requisition from the mor of South Carolina for C. J. Pitt county, and is wanted in South Carolina on the charge of forg-ing the names of J. A. Jeffcart to three checks amounting to $15.80.

For Community Service Work. The Community Service Executive Committee held a special session in the office of Supt. J. Y. Joyner for the purpose of devising ways and means of raising tunds for extending the propoganda in the state Participating in the conference were Maj. W. A. Graham, President D. H. Hill of the A. & M. College, Mr. Joyner; Clarence Poe and Secretary Crosby of the Farmers' Union. The result of the conference was the appointment of a sub-committee consisting of Maj. Graham, Drs. Hill, Poe and Crosby.

Soy Beans Gives Bright Promise

The soy bean crop in North Carolina this year will reach over a million bushels, according to estimates of Mr. C. B. Williams, of the Division of Agronomy. It is apparent that Hyde county growers alone will produce at least 200,000 bushels. This production of the soy bean on a large scale in North Carolina has interested manufacturers of other states who have been securing the bean with great difficulty from other sections. Experiments being conducted at Elizabeth City oil mills for the conversion of the bean into oil. For some time Manchuria has been shipping into America and into Europe meal and oil from this bean.

Chief C. B. Williams, of the Division of Agronomy, is very optimistic with reference to the future of this crop. He has recently visited cotton oil mills in the eastern part of the state with the idea of inducing them to conduct trials along the line of using the soy bean to supplement their operating season.

For a number of years soy bean meal and oil have been exported into this country and into Europe from Manchuria and other points Orient where this bean is grown in considerable quantities. The meal has been used chiefly as a feed for cat-To a limited extent it has been put up and distributed as a food fo diabetics. It seems to be specially adapted for the latter purpose because of its high food value and its freeness The oil that has been from starch. exported up to the present time has been used chiefly by soap manufacturers. The oil, too, has value in the manufacture of paints as a substitute in part for linseed oil. The chief of the division of agronomy has eaten muffins made from soy bean meal, and he pronounces them to have been of excellent quality,

Edgecombe Cotton Exchange Charter

The Edgecombe County Cotton Exchange, Tarboro, received a charter the purposes specified being to cooperate with the bureau of plant industry of the United States Department of Agriculture and the division of agronomy of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture in the se lection of seed and the improvement in the varieties of cotton as adapted for the soil and market demands of Edgecombe, also to develop for Edgecombe county a variety of cotton best adapted to the needs of the North Carolina cotton mills and to co-operate with the market division of the North Carolina Experiment Station and Department of Agriculture; and find out and keep in touch with the best markets for cotton in and out of the state. The capital is $10,000 authorized and $1,500 aub scribed. The incorporators are B. F. Shelton and M. T. Edwards of Speed, N. C., and Thomas B. Jacocks of Tar-

Geologists at High Rock.

Prof. Collier Cobb of the depart ment of geology at the University of North Carolina, and his class in ad-vanced geology have been at High Rock on the Yadkin River this week studying the geological there, especially as they relate to the disturbance in the earth's crust at that place. A few months ago there was general rearrangement of the surface of the earth covering area of sev eral acres in the vicinity of High Rock. Depressions appeared suddenly in places that were elevations prior thereto, and mounds sank into depres sions. The readjustment of the earth's crust caused considerable local com ment at the time.

Stock Law Fight Complicated.

Complications have developed in Duplin and Pender counties through the stock-law fights that these cour ties fell heir to through legislative acts of the 1913 and 1915 legislatures Duplin county has just voted to re-peal the stock law provided by the 1913 legislature; but friends of the nock law movement insist that a ma-iority of the latest registered votes was not shown to be for the repeal and that therefore Duplin will continue stock-law territory. The Sunday services of the North Carolina Conference of the Metho dist Protestant church, being held in Grace church, this city, consisted in a strong sermon by Rev. John Burgess, of Mebane, pastor of of Or ange Circuit, and a memorial service for those who died during the past year, and the great address by Dr. William A. Brown, field secretary of the International Sunday School Arso

Divine Mission

Mr. Burgess took for his theme. The Ministers Divine Mission and Rosponsibility." In beginning he said. that man's responsibility is in proportion to his possibilities.

He then spoke of man's possibility in the material world, saying that man had gone into the very heart of the earth and had laid bare the riches hidden for centuries; that he had built magnificent railroad pulled down the mountains, filled up the vallies, built great canals and many other things of which the ancients never dreamed. He reviewed man's possibilities in the spiritual world by holding up, the life and works of Jesus Christ as the ideal of all humanity. He then made the statement that man will be held accountable for his possibilities and that unless he makes use of the possibility that it will be taken away

As this was an ordination sermon some remarks were made with the special reference to the young men just entering the ministry. He appealed to the ministers never to be discouraged and said that a great many times the minister was silently but steadily belping men to lift themselves out of their low estate and to discover the great possibilities of the human race.

Two Ordained.

At the conclusion of the sermon two young men, Rev. E. R. Williams of High Point and Rev. E. O. Pritchett of Brown Summit, were ordain ed as elders. Those assisting in the ordination service were the conference president, Rev. C. W. Holmes, Rev. N. G. Bethes and Rev. R. M. Andrews

In the afternoon service there was young people's rally in which sev eral short addresses were made This service was followed by a me morial service in memory of Rev. L. H. Hately of the North Carolina Conference, and Profs. J. Allen and M. H. Holt of Oak Ridge, who were lifelong members of the Methodist Pro-

The boundary committee ded several changes, some of them being as follows: That the new work in Charlotte be detached from Char-lotte circuit and be made a station; that Gillburg be attached to Vance.

Watching the Seals.

Visitors at the Aquarium never tire of watching the harbor seals, and one thing that pleases them particularly is to see the seals fall off their table when they go to sleep. In the middle of the pool for the scals there are two low tables, their tops are just above the water, on which the seals climb out to sleep or to rest. times one or another of the seals will climb out of the water to one of those tables and He there on it, maybe clos along the edge of one side and per-haps with its head and forward part of its body hanging over the edge the table in front, apparently all time in imminent danger of r the table at the side or of off head first into the water in And when a seal lies on a table that, sleeping or dozing, people i around the pool watching and wait for the seal to fall off. himself when he does fall, he will ain ply fall off into the water; but old an young men, women and children, wil ly watching and waiting for that are to fall.
