There were four pairs of twins born in Kings Mountain last week we understand. They were born to Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wray, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartson, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, and the fourth party we haven't learned the names. That's what we call "Preparedness."

We are also informed that were four pairs of twins born at Rosemer City last week and five pairs at Cherokee Falls. Here's hoping the war is at least eighteen years off.

Mr. M. L. Brown of No. 6 township came into the Herald sanetum Monday a week ago and gave in an interesting story of why he was absent from Sunday school the day before. He had a bad omen Sunday morning and went back to bed for a short nap. From the nap he was aroused about the ninth hour by a great stir among the fowls of the barnyard. He sailed out of the bed and grabbed his old shot gun and marched forth to master the situation. As he drew near he saw a monster white hawk making a desperate effort to catch a chicken and a flock of crows trying as hard to get the hawk. As the hawk was an old offender he proceeded to square up with him first. As he was about to sail forth from his quest Mr. Brown took decided aim and let a load of No. 6 shot loose in the direction of the bird. The hawk was dismounted by a broken wing and the crows dispersed and the chickens found peace, but Mr. Brown had to shoot the huge bird again before he could shake hands with him. He states to the Herald that the hawk is very white, measures four feet from tip to tip, and if anybody doubts it he's hanging to a walnut limb in the selfsame barnyard as prima facia evidence. He shot him about a hundred yards. The old fowl has been a pest to the community for a long spell and a general sigh of relief has gone up since the old "Villa" has been done for.

The Book Club was charmingly entertained on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Lovell as hostess.

Potted plants and bowls of violets, the crisp sign of spring, added a charm to the attractive home.

The program consisted of "Tea, Timely topics, and Talk".

Mrs. R. C. Baker gracefully poured and served the delicious tea and accompaniments of dainty sandwiches and stuffed dates.

The lovely china tea set used was over one hundred years old, and an heirloom in Mr. Lovell's family.

Several timely topics were read and discussed and after an hour of pleasant talking, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Elmer Herndon and Mrs. Eugene Lipford served ice cream and cake.

A pleasant surprise and one enjoyed by every one was the delightful music that floated through the rooms.

The invited guests present were Mesdames L. F. Neal, J. G. Hord, J. F. Thomason, L. M. Logan, E. W. Herndon, Floyd, R. C. Baker, Lipford and Geo. Kendrick.
