In a copyrighted editorial in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, former President Taft shows that the covenant of the league of nations is strong and enforceable, and in no wise contravenes the policies or interests of the United States.

Regarding the misconception to which critics of the covenant have given currency, Mr. Taft said:

"The attitude of those who favor the covenant has been misconstrued, increasing the confusion in the mind of the public in respect to the inestimable value of the covenant as it is. Were the alternatives presented exactly as it is, or of postponing the coming of peace and continuing the state of war until the conference could reconvene and make other provisions for peace, I should without the slightest fear as to the complete safety of my country under its provisions vote for it as the greatest step in the betterment of international relations for the benefit of the people of the world and for the benefit of my country in recorded history."

Answering the contention that the covenant is without provision for enforcement, Mr. Taft continued:

"The proposed league has real teeth and a bite to it. It furnishes real machinery to organize the power of the peaceful nations of the world into economic and military action, which by its very existence and certainty will keep nations from war and will force them to the acceptance of a peaceful settlement. This will dispense with the necessity for the exercise of economic pressure or force.

The best way to build up a city is for each and every man in it not to strive to read and tear down. Whenever a man in a town is doing well do not try to tear him down. All the residents of a town are partners, not opponents. In all likelihood the more business done by our firm the more you will do.

Sometimes it is like making bricks without straw to get items in a small community where a lack of putting them in the reporter's way is often noticeable. The power of the printed word is unlimited and the advantages of publicity often given freely by the local paper to village news, is worth many dollars to its readers. It is also not the local items that sometimes are already familiar to the home reader before publication that is to be left unrecorded, for the absent ones living away from the native home town thus get the village news and form a large number of subscribers scattered all over the country who take the home paper for this purpose especially.

UNFILLED PLEDGES STILL HOLD GOOD

Earnest Request is Made to All Subscribers to Redeem Promptly Their War Savings Stamp Pledges.

Pledges made to invest in War Savings Stamps have been automatically extended to 1919 by the government, which has made official announcement that persons who, for any reason, did not complete their pledges by December 31, 1918, may and are expected to liquidate these pledges by investing in War Savings Stamps of the new 1919 issue.

The 1919 War Savings Stamps are blue in color and a trifle smaller than those issued last year. They bear a likeness of Benjamin Franklin, the apostle of thrift and economy. The 1919 War Savings Stamps which yield their owners four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, may be obtained from any postoffice, bank, or other authorized agent.

Thrift Stamps and Thrift Cards used last year remain in use during 1919, and filled Thrift Cards, that is, Thrift Cards on which sixteen Thrift Stamps have been affixed, may be exchanged for 1919 War Savings Stamps upon the payment of the few additional cents which represent the difference between the price of War Savings Stamp and $4, the value of the sixteen Thrift Stamps.

Purchasers of 1919 War Savings Stamps should bear in mind that 1919 War Savings Stamps are to be affixed only to 1919 War Savings Certificates. Although one may have a 1918 War Savings Certificate (the parchment on which War Savings Stamps are affixed) which has unfilled space on it, such 1918 certificate should not have 1919 War Savings Stamps pasted on it; nor should 1918 War Stamps be placed on the new 1919 War Savings Certificates. Keep the two years separate.
