

N. C. Dairymen Need Pastures

A shortage of good pasture is considered the weakest spot in North Carolina's dairy cattle feeding program.

Because of this shortage, milk production is more costly than in States where pasturage is more abundant, said John A. Aref, extension dairyman at State College.

Under a good feeding schedule, nearly one third of a cow's feed comes from the pasture, but the pasturage accounts for only one seventh of the total feed cost.

In other words, Aref pointed out, the nutrients gained from a pasture are much cheaper than those from other sources.

Tender, succulent pasturage is nature's most perfect milk producing food, Aref stated. At this stage of growth the feed nutrients in pasturage are easily digested and the mineral and protein content of the grass is high.

Unfortunately, Aref remarked, many farmers think that pastures should be only on land too poor to raise other crops profitably. Such is not the case, he declared.

A good pasture can be grown only on good soil. On most farms, he added, are sizeable cut over areas of fertile land suitable for pastures, but now covered with brush.

Where the slope of this land is steep enough to make erosion a serious problem, row crops should not be cultivated. But a good sod of pasture grass will hold the soil in place.

It is better to seed pastures in February than in March, Aref said. Seed mixtures adapted to different sections of the State, and other details of pasture growing, are covered in extension circular No. 202, 'Pastures of North Carolina,' which may be obtained free by writing the agricultural editor at State College, Raleigh, N. C.

FARM QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Can baby chicks be fed immediately after they are hatched?

A.—Nature has given the chick a balancer ration in the form of unabsorbed yolk which should maintain the chick for 72 hours. However, satisfactory results are obtained if feed and water are given the chicks as soon as they are placed under the hover, or in the starter battery. The chicks usually go to eating in several hours and do well under these conditions. If the baby chicks are to be shipped, however, it is best not to give any feed until they arrive at destination.

Q.—How should I arrange my garden?—Much time and effort can be saved by arranging the various crops in units or sections. Two or three sections should be planted to the annual crops, one section to the quick-maturing spring crops such as garden peas, green onions, lettuce mustard and spinach, and still another section planted to early cabbage, beets, carrots, and the first planting of snap beans, early corn, and early tomatoes. The main summer crops such as summer cabbage, lima beans cucumbers, squash, okra, peppers, and sweet corn should also have a section. As soon as one section is harvested, it should be plowed up and prepared for later plantings.

Q.—When is the best time to plant a pasture in North Carolina?—New pastures should be seeded in this State during the early fall or late winter. If the land selected is low or on a hillside, al bushes and briars should be taken off in January and the land prepared for seeding by disking or coulturing. The seed should be sown in February using about 40 pounds per acre of a mixture made up of grasses suitable to the section. Broadcast the seed and cover with a drag harrow or by dragging a heavy brush over the land.

MAUNEY MILL NEWS

By Rosa Whittington
The Goodwill Club of the Mauney Mill held their joint meeting Saturday night. They had a very delightful time. There were twenty three members and three visitors present. They presented a very good program by the children of the Mauney Mill. Mrs. S. M. Cordrey was called to Shelby to be at her mother's bedside who was very sick week before last, but is very much improved now. Mrs. N. T. Mullinax is very ill at her home at the Mauney Mill. Her two daughters, Mrs. Mozell Eldridge and Mrs. Euzulla of Belmont were called to her bedside.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dover Tuesday morning, a seven and one half pound boy.
Little Earline Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jom Neal, is sick at her home on the Mauney Mill section.

Says Lespedeza Is Valuable Farm Crop

It will soon be time to sow lespezeza, E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College, reminds North Carolina farmers. Lespedeza is one of the most valuable crops that can be grown on the farm, he stated, and it can be grown under a wide variety of climatic conditions.

Lespedeza makes a good hay that is relished by stock and is high in proteins and carbohydrates. It also makes good grazing in the hot summer months when other pasturage is dormant.

Blair also pointed out its value as a soil builder when plowed under at maturity. Even when the crop is cut for hay, he added, the roots and the lower part of the plant that is left in the field will improve the soil to some extent.

Eight tests with lespedeza showed that on an average, where corn was producing 21.3 bushels to the acre without lespedeza, the same land would produce 44.1 bushels to the acre after a growth of lespedeza had been turned under.

Similar effects have been noted on small grains, cotton, soybeans, and even weeds.

Lespedeza grows best on medium to heavy bottom lands, but on most uplands satisfactory yields can be obtained.

Common, Tennessee 76, and Kobe varieties of lespedeza grow well in most parts of the State, but are hardly worth planting on coarse sandy soil. The Korean variety does not grow well on poor or acid soils.

Lespedeza should be sown in February or March in most sections, as germination should be late enough to avoid freezes and early enough for the plants to be well established before hot, dry weather comes.
