Will Rogers' Humorous Story

by WILL ROGERS

In a small town, a group of children were playing in the park. One of them, a little girl, came running over to Will Rogers and said, "Mr. Rogers, would you like to hear me sing?"

Rogers, looking somewhat surprised, said, "Sure, I'd love to hear you sing." So the little girl began to sing, "Oh, Susannah, don't you dread the morning when death will come."

Rogers interrupted her and said, "Wait a minute, Missy. You're forgetting the next line." The little girl looked up at him and said,
"Oh, yes, Mr. Rogers. It's, 'I'll be there to meet you.'"
