Charity Bridge, Rook And Bingo Party

The Junior Woman's Club is at work on the Charity Bridge, Rook and Bingo party to be given at the Club House next Tuesday night, November 23rd, at 8:00 o'clock. The main floor upstairs will be used for bingo, the lounge will be used for Rook, and Bridge will be played downstairs in the dining room. All rooms will be heated. The party is to be informal.

TWO FIRES WITHIN 12 HOURS

The Kings Mountain Fire Department was called to two fires within 22 hours, and both fires were within one block of each other. The first fire was at Hinkle McGinnis' furniture store located in the rear of the Kings Mountain Building and Loan Office. Very little damage was done. Several used mattresses were burned.

The second fire was in the alley at the rear of Belk's Department Store when a bucket of tar caught fire as it was being heated to re-roof a nearby building. Firemen quickly extinguished the blazing bucket of tar. The bucket was right beside a fire hydrant in the alley and several spectators laughingly remarked that the fire hydrant was on fire.

The first fire took place Monday night and the second on Tuesday morning.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS THE doctors often have very weird tales to tell about the guys that come in to see them. Also they sometimes have very funny ones to tell about the patients that they have or heard about. Old Doc Sawbones up in New York State was the friend of the entire community and people always came to him for advice as well as treatment.

One day Hiram Jones came slowly sauntering up to his office and sitting in the easy chair started to stretch and yawn.

The Doc spied him and said, "Well Hi, what can I do for you?" "Oh, not much," said Hi, "but I was wondering if you would do me a favor."

"Sure thing, Hi. Just tell me what's on your mind."

"Well, you see, my wife fell down last night and broke her jaw, and if it ain't too much trouble, I wish you'd drop around some time next week and look her over."

Jobless Census Is Being Made

Co-operation of All Citizens Is Sought in Making Count of Those Without Regular Work.

Everything was in readiness at the Kings Mountain post office as well as other post offices in the county for the distribution of unemployment report cards which are being used this week in the National unemployment census which is being undertaken by the Federal government. Tuesday these cards were distributed by city and rural carriers to the homes in the town and county and cards will likewise be placed in all post office boxes.

Persons who are unemployed or who are partly unemployed are asked to fill out one of these cards and mail them before Saturday night, November 20. Questions on the card which must be answered will give the government a true picture of the unemployment situation in the country, and should be helpful in shaping future action or legislation to relieve the situation.

The cards will be distributed to all homes in every section of the United States, Alaska and Hawaii. Over 85 million were printed, requiring more than fifty car loads of paper stock. The card requires no postage for its return to National unemployment census bureau. Additional cards may be secured at the post office.

President Roosevelt in a radio address has asked for the full cooperation of all American citizens in taking the census, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has endorsed the census declaring that business alone can provide employment for those who are out of work.

W. E. Blakely, local postmaster, has urged the people of this community to cooperate in every way possible in seeing that a correct census is made quickly.

Former Postmaster James S. Ware, Frank Cox and J. B. Hord will assist all unemployed to fill out their cards. The above named will be located in the rear of the Post Office.

Robert S. Moore Passes

Robert S. Moore, native and lifelong resident of Cleveland county, died about 8:30 Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. R. Byers, in the Bethlehem community near here. Death was attributed to the infirmities of old age.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock today (Thursday) afternoon at the Grover Baptist church, of which Mr. Moore was a member. Rev. L. Boyd Hamm, pastor of the Lutheran church, here will officiate. Grandsons will act as pallbearers and granddaughters as flower girls.

Mr. Moore was engaged in farming for many years in Cleveland county. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Barbara Rippey Moore; two sons: Ervin Moore of Gastonia and B. O. Moore of Kings Mountain; two daughters: Mrs. Byers, and Mrs. E. A. Dempsey of Landrum, S. C.; a brother, Fulton Moore of Blacksburg, S. C., a half-sister, Mrs. Minnie Camp of Patterson; 24 grandchildren, and 16 great grandchildren.

Special Services At Presbyterian Church Closes Friday

Large numbers are attending the New Presbyterian church at both morning and evening services to hear the inspiring messages of Rev. R. J. McGregor, Th. D., of Burlington, N. C. Services are being held at 7:55 each morning and at 7:30 in the evenings. The public is cordially invited to attend the services, which continues through Friday evening.

Beth Ware Faculty To Present Play

On Saturday night, Nov. 20th, the Faculty of Beth-Ware school will present a play in Beth-Ware auditorium. The title of the play is "When A Woman Decides." It is a three-act comedy and will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. If you want a full evening of real laughter and entertainment do not fail to come and see it. A small admission of 10 and 20 cents will be charged and the proceeds will be used for school supplies.

Incomplete reports coming in from various canvassers yesterday indicated satisfactory progress is being made in the Annual Red Cross Roll Call Drive which began the first part of this week. Workers were busy in different parts of Kings Mountain yesterday trying to see every citizen is given an opportunity to contribute to Red Cross.

A large group of workers under the direction of Mrs. Frank Summers was busy making a house-to-house canvass.

Glee Bridges and his coworkers had partially completed their canvass of the business section.

The committee composed of Ladd Hamrick, W. K. Mauney, and Rev. L. B. Hamm were calling on the mills of Kings Mountain.

Supt. B. N. Barnes contacted his teachers, and will probably make his report today.

Workers are also busy in Grover, enlisting members.

Representatives from Beth-Ware School have called for their supplies and will report today.

Haywood E. Lynch, Roll Call Chairman, has been asked to emphasize the fact that only 50c out of each dollar or more contribution leaves Kings Mountain. The rest remains here to relieve suffering among our own people.

The Town of Kings Mountain contributes enough each month to pay the executive secretary's salary, so all the money contributed to Red Cross will go directly for aid to the needy.

There is plenty of time left to contribute, or increase your contribution if you have already made it.

12 Hunters—Only One Deer

The final score: 12 hunters, one deer killed, one missed. The even dozen big game hunters left Kings Mountain this past week-end for the Neisler hunting preserve near Lake Wacamac. Each man was sure he was going to bag a big buck, but the only one of the marksmen who brought home the bacon was Jim Herndon, who bagged a big buck.

W. A. Ridenhour, according to all reports, is in the market for a new shirt, as he lost his after he missed a fine buck. Hunter Ridenhour, whose initials spell "War" must have declared some kind of a peace treaty with the nimble footed animal, as the more he shot the faster the deer ran.

Those making the trip were: Paul Neisler, Hayne Blackmer, W. A. Ridenhour, Jim Herndon, Dr. W. L. Ramsey, George Weber, Gordon Hughes, Bun Watterson, Ed Hord, H. P. Dixon, Joe Neisler, and Mr. Miller, father-in-law of Mr. Neisler.

Every member is urged to attend and efforts are being made by committees to have the largest attendance than ever before.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

(Opinions Expressed in This Column Are Not Necessarily the Views of This Newspaper.)

If all the chuckles which have filled the air around Washington the last few days could be converted into one big laugh, it would shatter all the window panes on the Atlantic seaboard.

Everybody but John L. Lewis and William Green and their followers is laughing. Those two gentlemen aren't, because they are the cause of all the merriment.

The story is as simple as it is funny. Both Lewis and Green have talked for years about the merits of collective bargaining. Their big sales point has been that when groups of workers joined together and selected committees to bargain for them they always got somewhere.

And only a few months ago, both these men expressed vociferous a-

Touching on Our Daily Menu

By IRVIN S. COBB

IF MY memory serves me right, I already have told here the yarn of the patron in the cheap restaurant who ordered eggs for breakfast. "Boss," said the colored waiter, "mebbe you better tek somethin' else. I would not care to reckermend de aigs dis mornin'."

"Why not?" asked the white man. "Aren't the eggs fresh?"

"I don't know if dey is or ef they ain't, 'cause to tell you de truth we ain't got none."

I am repeating this story because it seems to me it should be included with the two others of a somewhat similar tenor which I heard the other day.

Glancing over the fly-specked menu in a short-order establishment in search of dessert a gentleman who had just finished with the more solid parts of the meal, ordered stewed peaches.

In a minute or two the waiter came hurrying back from the kitchen. "I'm sorry sir," he said, "but you'd better order something else. The stewed peaches are pears today and they've turned sour on us."

Here is number three of the series: A County Kerry man, newly landed in the country, was taking his first walk up Sixth Avenue under the escort of his brother who had been living here several years. In the window of a delicatessen store he saw a great mound of fresh cranberries.

"What are them?" he asked. "Them is cranberries," said the brother. "Are they fit to eat?" "Are they fit to eat?" repeated the brother. "Why whin thim cranberries is stewed they make better applesauce than prunes do."
