THE RIGHT MAN . . .

Hamilton C. Jones has proved himself worthy of public service by his record as a private citizen. For many years in his home community of Charlotte, he has been outstanding in political, civic and religious affairs. He is rooted in the traditions of his State. After graduating from the University of North Carolina and its law school, he began the practice of law in Charlotte in 1906. He has been actively and successfully engaged since then. For 14 years he was chairman of his party in Mecklenburg County, giving of his time without compensation, and serving faithfully and fairly.

He has held three public offices. For five years he was Recorder of the City of Charlotte. Later he served as assistant United States District Attorney, having been appointed by Woodrow Wilson. He represented his county in the State Senate of North Carolina in the session of 1925, and there served with marked distinction, heading the important judiciary committee and playing a prominent role in framing the legislation enacted in that session.

He has held many and varied positions of leadership in civic organizations of Charlotte. Among them was the presidency of the Charlotte Rotary Club. In religious and charitable affairs he has worked faithfully. He has been a member of St. Peter's Episcopal church from childhood, and has served as a member of its vestry, as junior warden and as senior warden. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Associated Charities, the Family Service Association, Thompson Orphanage and St. Peter's Hospital.

He has thus been a faithful servant in private life and this bespeaks the assurance of faithfulness to his trust in the public responsibility to which we are confident he will be called.

The marked trend of sentiment towards Mr. Jones gives us confidence that the primary on June 4th will record a very substantial majority in favor of Hamilton C. Jones.
