Bold Theft Attempted In Mid-Afternoon

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Gault at the corner of Deal and Ridge Streets about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, a heavy built negro boldly walked up and tried several screens, he finally got in through one from the front porch while neighbors looked on thinking the negro hired help. With the aid of a coat hanger, which put the robbing in the professional class, the negro unlocked the screen.

Mrs. Gault coming home, saved what might have been a big loss. The negro made his escape through the same window by which he came in when he heard Mrs. Gault enter.

The only loss was a gold wrist watch, but drawers were turned inside out in his attempt to find valuable to pawn. It was supposed. Clothes of the Gaults were piled in the bed right ready for a get-away. Police made an investigation but the negro made good his escape.

"Star In My Kitchen" Will Glorify Home

Motion Picture Cooking School Offers Helpful Suggestions To Housewives.

Going to school in a theatre! It sounds a bit strange, doesn't it? But that is what women of the community will be doing when The Herald's Motion Picture Cooking School comes to town on Sept. 22nd.

The school will feature lessons, 100, lessons in measuring, mixing, and blending the ingredients for many recipes; in the preparation of such triumphs as a lattice-top fruit pie; in making delicious frozen desserts and salads; in laundering fine fabrics; and in planning healthful meals for growing children.

The camera has assembled all the expert information of trained home economists — not as a routine lecture, not as a formal "high-brow" demonstration, but as a real romance of home-making, full of suspense and charm, and informal chats from one good cook to another.

There will be remarkable close-ups of each process in a series of model, conveniently equipped kitchens — real, workable kitchens, (not the synthetic, false-front variety), where trained home-makers will plan and complete the preparation of several meals so the entire audience can see the process step by step.

The finished dishes, which will be shown in full color, will look as though they could be picked right out of the picture and eaten on the spot.

The class won't be all work, for there is the constant play of sparkling humor, the appeal of tender romance, the suspense of a coherent intelligently directed story, which dramatizes everyday happenings — the human sort of things that really do happen.

Blending the attractive story together is the romance of home-making, a subject that holds the interest of every woman young and old. Even the Herald knows that all women — brides, business types, and experienced housekeepers — respond to the fascination of looking in on another woman when she is at work in the kitchen.

Particularly do they like it when they are allowed to sit quietly and watch her prepare some dish in which he specializes. They know that if they watch closely, while she measures and mixes and completes the entire cooking operation, this close-up personal study will be more helpful than hours of ready recipes or blind experimenting.

The motion picture camera was leisurely, completely unhurried and painstakingly accurate in recording "Star in My Kitchen." There is no trickery in the cooking, baking, and preparation of appetizing ice-box wonders. Competent cooks who have drifted into bad habits will be able to check their own mistakes by study the systematic routine revealed in those close-ups.

"They make cooking and housework seem so easy," the audience will say after watching the experienced home-makers in "Star in My Kitchen" instruct the eager, young Dede Abot. And cooking will become easy for every woman who attends the Motion Picture Cooking School, where the lessons will be simple yet remarkably effective.

It sounds like a real re-union for women of the community, even to The Herald, which is getting a steady stream of congratulations on booking this profitable cooking school.

A generous store of gifts are destined to be carried back to many a home from Dixie Theatre. Local merchants and firms and nationally-known companies are joining with this newspaper in making the school possible.

Don't miss the 1938-model school Sept. 22, 23 and 24, in the Dixie Theatre.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASS TO ATTEND

The Home Economics Class of the Kings Mountain High School, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Fulkerson, has been invited and will attend the opening session of the Movie Cooking School, Thursday morning.

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR HERE

Postoffice Inspector Murray arrived in Kings Mountain Tuesday and will finish today his inspection and survey of the sites for the new $75,000 Federal Building. Inspector Murray carefully checked the sites offered after bids were submitted several weeks ago. He also conferred with Town Officials, and had pictures taken of several of the sites.

Bridge Bond Signed

W. P. A. SIDEWALK PROJECT STARTED

Actual work began Tuesday morning on the $47,000 street and sidewalk paving W. P. A. Project. The first clod of dirt turned was on East Mountain street in front of the Woman's Club Building. About 80 workers are busy grading getting ready for the pouring of the concrete. It was thought the number of workers will be increased to about 100.

About six miles of sidewalks will be paved and the parking space on both sides of Railroad Avenue between King and Gold will be paved.

Band Gets New Uniforms

Following a meeting of those interested in Kings Mountain's School Band, member of the Finance Committee met last Thursday night at the High School and decided to raise the money and purchase new uniforms for the band members. In about two days members of the committee almost reached their goal and the handsome uniforms have already been ordered.

The new uniforms will be black burnt orange and of the military style.

About $1,700 was needed to purchase the 60 uniforms for the band members, the band color flag, and uniforms for the flag bearers. Approximately $1,400 was raised by the committee during the canvass, and the balance needed is in site.

Those who met in the second meeting were: Ladd Hamrick, W. K. Mauney, Charles Thomasson, Haywood E. Lynch, B. S. Neill, Gleo Bridges, B. N. Barnes, D. M. Bridges and Director Paul Hendricks.

It was decided by the committee to keep the old uniforms to be used on rainy days and the new ones will be saved for "state" occasions. The uniforms will be the property of the School, and not the individual band members, this is in keeping with the policy of other bands throughout the state. A rental fee of 50c per month will be charged band members but those who bought suits or made a donation will be credited with the amount paid on the rental.

Boy Hit By Car

Tommy Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson, was painfully but not seriously injured last Thursday evening when he was hit by a car driven by Loy Minch. The Thompsons had had started home on his Dixie-flyer from across the street, and before Mr. Minch could stop his car, a Buick roadster, the child was struck.

The boy was rushed to Garrison General Hospital in Gastonia, where it was found that his left arm was broken between the shoulder and elbow, a severe gash had been cut over his left ear, one foot was injured, and he was badly bruised.

The Thompsons live on Gaston street. The many friends and classmates of Master Tommy, who had just started to school this year wish for him a speedy recovery.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

FELLER called up a lawyer and said as he was always fighting with his wife, he guessed he'd get a divorce. He got an appointment with this lawyer for about 3 o'clock in the afternoon the week later, and when he got there he was shoved in an ante-room because the lawyer feller was pretty busy trying to separate another pair of gamecocks in a legal manner. The feller listened for about two hours to the scraggins pair and the strain on his ears got so bad that he decided to walk out. 'Bout this time the lawyer walked out and spotted him on his way to the door and hollered, "Hey you, come back here, I got your case all ready. Your divorce is in the bag." "Well," said the feller, "you can burn the bag up, becuz after listening to them two birds awjating at each other, I've decided that they're all the same and one's as bad as another."

Playgrounds And Park Projects Are Requested

Proposals to request W. P. A. and N. Y. A. funds for two local projects were approved by the Town Council at their regular meeting Monday evening.

The first project is a request to be made to the National Youth Administration to furnish labor and supervision in the construction of a school property at the corner of King Street and the York Road. The Town has in this property twelve acres. Part of this property is included in the ball park and tennis courts.

The project includes the landscaping of the property, the construction of drives, a band-stand, an ornamental pool, parade grounds and soft ball fields. The plan calls for planting this fall and winter of a large number of trees.

Also in this same request are improvements and beautification work on the grounds at Central School, East and West Ends schools and at Davidson Colored school.

In this project the Town and School offer to furnish material required and working equipment.

The second request approved covers a $3,000 W. P. A. project to make a Town Park and Swimming Pool at the abandoned water-works plant just inside the Town limits at the north side. The area in this property is six acres.

The property is covered by large and beautiful trees and there is an abundance of clear and pure spring water which supplied the Town for more than twenty years.

The plan calls for $900 from the Town as sponsors but revenues from operation are expected to liquidate this so that the cost to the Town is expected to be of small consequence.

The project calls for an improved sand-clay road to the Park, the reconstruction of the old Mauney pond for a swimming pool, the construction of a rustic building for dressing rooms and concessions, and facilities for picnic parties.

To complete these plans the Town appointed a Parks and Playgrounds Commission. On this commission are Aubrey Mauney, Will Parrish, Glee A. Bridges, H. Tom Fulton and B. N. Barnes.

Commissioners Tom Fulton, Geo. Allen and Aubrey Mauney made a trip to Charlotte Friday and conferred with W. P. A. officials about the W. P. A. project at the old water works site.

The Assistant State Supervisor of N. Y. A. was in Kings Mountain and discussed the project at the corner of King Street and Cleveland Avenue. He also assisted in making the formal application for the project.

Last Out-Door Supper Of Men's Club This Evening

The final outdoor Men's Club supper of the season will be held this evening at Long Creek Presbyterian Church. The time for this last supper has been moved up to 6:30 P. M. and it is asked that all members be on time.

The direction to Long Creek Church is: Take the Cherryville Road to the old McGill saw mill place, then turn to the right and go about two miles, to the Church.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

(Opinions Expressed in This Column Are Not Necessarily the Views of This Newspaper.)

The British still believe in the principle that the best government is that which governs least; they remember that LIBERAL and LIBERTY are akin, and that the more liberty the individual has in modern society the more likely he is to do what is best for his fellow man.

That is the real between-the-lines lesson in the report by the Presidential Commission on labor relations in Great Britain.

The Commission made no recommendations and expressed few opinions. But its report is studded with references to the British Government's efforts to avoid compulsion and let the individuals and groups solve their own problems. The result is a system which functions so smoothly that America sent this Commission abroad to study it.

Commentators have remarked that the report indicates a general acceptance of the principle of collective bargaining.

The Exact Locality

By IRVIN S. COBB

LITTLE Willie came running into the house stuttering in his excitement. "Mommer," he panted, "do you know Archie Sloan's neck?" "Do I know what?" asked his mother.

"Do you know Archie Sloan's neck?" "I know Archie Sloan," answered the puzzled parent, "so I suppose I know his neck. Why?" "Well," said Willie, "he just now fell into the back-water up to it." (American News Features, Inc.)
