

THIS 'N THAT

By Alice Burton

Patterson Grove Section

"If at first you don't succeed"—believe me, it pay to try again. I'd been writing the Patterson Grove News for weeks and there was nary a peep from anyone to let me know that it was being read. Then I changed the name and wrote the 'news' in a chattering sort of way and got quick results. Was flattered by having "George" mention my column. Thanks for your kind words. We just can't think of the adjective that would properly describe, "Star in My Kitchen." So if you'll

TOM AND GEORGE

Tom: "Our colored church was making a drive for funds, and Uncle Rastus refused saying he owed every body in town now; the collector asked him if he didn't owe anything to the Lord, and what do you think he said?" George: "I imagine he said he did, but the Lord wasn't pushing him like the other 'creditors.'" We are pushing our Wicker Furniture and Porch Chairs right now. Look 'em over.

QUESTION BOX

What's the Answer?
By EDWARD FINCH

WHY DOES A HEN CACKLE AFTER LAYING AN EGG?

IN EVERY form of animal life there is a specific way of expressing joy when that animal has performed the mission for which he was created. The hen cackles to notify the chicken world that she has discharged this duty and shouts her joy that the attendant discomfort in the laying of the egg is over. She is proud of herself!
