Will Rogers' Humorous Story

TEACHERS that try to teach the kids manners have an awful hard time of it. Some of the kids have got some manners already, and they get terrible bored while the teacher is trying to get some of the other kids to act kinda half civilized.

FOX TO PREACH FAREWELL SERMON SUNDAY MORNING

The Western North Carolina Methodist Conference, meeting in Greensboro last week, appointed as pastor of Central Methodist Church, here, Rev. Henry C. Sprinkle, Jr., to succeed Rev. W. Fox, who was superannuated last week.

Rev. Sprinkle comes to Kings Mountain from Black Mountain, where he has served for the past three years. Rev. Sprinkle graduated from Trinity College (Now Duke University) in 1923.

Rev. Fox will preach his final sermon Sunday morning, as Rev. Sprinkle telephoned late Wednesday night that he would be unable to arrive before the first of next week.

At his own request, Rev. Mr. Fox who has served Central Methodist so acceptably for the past four years was granted the superannuated relation by the bishop and will retire from active service, after serving as pastor and presiding elder for a period extending over 44 years.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

(Opinions Expressed in This Column Are Not Necessarily the Views of This Newspaper.)
Headlines about Europe's war and America's neutrality fight have over shadowed one of the most important pieces of news to emanate from Washington in months — the forthcoming "purge" of radicals from Government service.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

A Little Bed Time Tale By IRVIN S. COBB

A VERY dignified Bishop, who was hard of hearing, was attending a dinner party. Seated next to him, on his deaf side, is a young lady who, being naturally diffident is now deeply awed by her proximity to so famous a man.
