MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM K. MAUNEY CELEBRATE TWENTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A reception of unusual beauty and of unending interest in this section of the State, was given by Mr. and Mrs. William K. Mauney at their home on Piedmont Avenue, Saturday evening. The reception given in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary was attended by a large number of friends and relatives from Kings Mountain, Shelby, Gastonia, Cherryville, Lincolnton, Hickory, Charlotte and elsewhere.

The lower floor of the Mauney home was arranged with lavish floral decorations, chrysanthemums and roses predominating. The living room, arranged with palms and ferns, accented with flowers in soft shades, made a lovely setting for the first receiving line. The pinecone-like library, where a second receiving line was stationed and where the registry was kept was also decorated with chrysanthemums and roses.

In the dining room the table was spread with an exquisite lace cover and centered with a bowl of white roses, white carnations, tiny chrysanthemums and ferns, each side of which were tall silver vases filled with white and pink roses. A similar arrangement, on the left and right, flanked the entrance to the dining room. The appointments of the dining room, the silver centerpieces were gifts from Mr. Mauney to his wife on their anniversary.

The punch room was arranged with large baskets of small chrysanthemums in rich shades of orange and gold. The punch table was effectively decorated with clusters of tall berries and chrysanthemums ranging from yellow to the lovely saffron shades.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Mauney welcomed the guests and introduced the first receiving line made up of the following members of the bridal party: Mrs. William K. Mauney, wearing white, non-silken de-sote headed in silver and coronet of orchids; William K. Mauney, Mrs. E. C. Cooper, of Columbia, S. C., daughter-in-law; R. L. Mauney, best man; Mrs. Walter Rhine of Gastonia, bridesmaid; Mrs. Fred Byrum of Charlotte, bridesmaid; May Plunk of Winston-Salem, usher; Mrs. J. Wirt Sumner of Dallas, pianist; Mrs. Lawrence Wilkinson of Charlotte, soprano soloist; Mrs. Corinne Puett of Dallas, violinist; Blair F. Houser of Dallas, ring bearer; Mrs. Hugh Moore, Lincolnton, Va. flower girl; Mrs. Phil Jackson, Gastonia, flower girl; Rev. J. T. Newton of Whitesville, N. C., pastor of the bride and officiating minister; Mrs. J. T. Newton of Whitesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Houser of Dallas received in the hall and directed guests to the library where Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kiser introduced the second receiving line made up of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Mauney and others as follows: Mr. William K. Mauney, Jr. wearing a lovely period dress of green velvet with cascade of white gardenias; William K. Mauney, Jr., George H. Mauney, Mrs. R. L. Mauney, Dr. E. C. Cooper, Mrs. Mollie Plunk, J. W. Sumner, Mrs. Blair F. Houser.

Phil Jackson, Ernest Miller, Mr. Mauney and David Mauney.

The reception was kept by Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Smith, and other guests to the dining room. Individual occupied seats were given with the date 1916-1941 upon the silver white and gold punch were served by Mesdames Julia Cooper, George Houser, Joe Mauney, J. B. Mahoney, of Columbia, S. C., and Miss Martha Lee Mauney, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Neal, seated in the sun room, where a delicious punch was served by Mesdames B. N. Hester, Carl Mauney, Anthony Mauney and Miss Margaret Louise Mauney of Hendersonville.

Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Wolf of Charlotte.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by J. Charlotte orchestra.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Mauney took place in the Baptist Church, Dallas, N. C., and united members of prominent pioneer families of this section. Mr. Mauney is a son of the late J. S. Mauney and wife, pioneer settlers of Kings Mountain, who were long identified with the business, civic and religious life of this community and who lived to see their posterity follow their example.

Mrs. Mauney was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hoffman, of Dallas. Her father was the author of the book "Ends in the Mud" in which he found a place on the book shelves of many homes throughout this and other States.

MASQUERADE DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The young people are looking forward to an unusual event on Saturday night. A masquerade dance is being given in the Woman's Club House at 7:30 o'clock by a newly organized club of girls, "Honey in the Hut" alias "Ends in the Mud" in which the club members carried words "Admission Closed" on their costumes.

With a large number of boys and girls in costume and music by Sking Steaks orchestra, it promises to be a busy evening.
