

Help Feed Uncle Sam's Army

ATLANTA, Ga. — With America locked in a death grip with three of the most barbarous nations the world has ever known, the time has come for civilians to pause and re-view the situation.

Although most of us will never see the firing lines of World War II, still our role in the present conflict is important.

Who are left behind, who must supply the American Army with food and clothing from this day until peace once again is declared?

Farmers who once tilled their acres with an eye to economic security must now be prepared to sacrifice, if necessary, to grow those products which the khaki-clad Army will need.

Factories which now can envisage the heaviest profits since the lush days of 1928-29 must turn their machinery to making war products, even if at a heavy loss.

All of us will be required to pay more taxes until, perhaps one day we will think the "breaking point" has arrived.

In the face of all this, Americans at home must realize that even at the worst they are making only slight sacrifices in comparison to the boys who have gone to battle, so intent on defeating the enemy who threatens our homes that they are prepared to give even their lives.

Middlemen between the producers at home and the combat forces in the Quartermaster Corps — trained during peacetime to supply front line troops under the most difficult of conditions. Each officer and soldier in the Quartermaster Corps is armed and he is ready to get supplies through to Infantrymen, Cavalrymen, Engineers, Artillerymen and other combat forces to assure that they remain the best fed and best clothed in the whole world.

No let us resolve to deliver the goods to the Quartermaster Corps. Every farmer, every manufacturer, owes it to his country to invest his money fully in the manner in which his products can be used by the armed forces and to do everything in his power to forget personal welfare and profits to so that this great nation may continue as a leading light of the world.

The Quartermaster Corps has shown more than once that it is on the job and can supply the Army. It is now up to us to supply the Quartermaster Corps.

COLLEGE COMMENTS

(By Carolyn Prince)

Among those registering at the First Board Monday was Charles Alexander, student at Blanton's Business College, which reminds me — do you know what his Cuban student's name is? Hold on — because here it comes — Luis Manuel Francisco Perez Soto.

Marine Rules Feet! There's nothing about that!

At WCUAC, Marg says, ambassadors from various countries spoke to the students in assembly. Of course, that must have been interesting.

Cadet Charles Carpenter, of Clemson College, deserves a medal or something. He gets to Sunday school more often than some of the other members who live in K M. The Kester sisters were home from Mars Hill College last week-end. Of course everyone knows about the fine band work they're doing there. And Sybil Davis, at NCQT, is doing excellent solo work.

SUPER SNOOPERS

Here we are again with the latest news of all these bright kids.

The High School dance was the fun who would think we had such grand sports as our teachers, and Mr. and Mrs. Principal just beat it all!

Rumor spreads that "Blip" at last has a terrible crush and on some other than Martha H., cute girl, eh?

It seems Puff's and Estline's week-ends always work out perfectly. You know they were both home this week-end. "Ho" was too, and he escorted some other than Fay Moss, Saturday night.

Fred Wright and Lillian Moss like to take in the home ball games together. By the way, Jim Mercer and Lib Plunk aren't doing so bad — you know.

Saturday was Valentine's Day? Some of the laughs at the Forest City game were Gogie and Douglas, Sona Ruth and Sully, Happy and Charles A.

They're at it again — Feuda! McClain-Lattimore and Crouse-Neteler just hope for the best.

What is this between Otis Falls and Doris? Louise Wright and Jimmy Barnes just can't seem to stay apart. Betty Falls and Helen Hardin had a little spat over a certain boy at work. To settle it — Frederick dated Vivian Monday night.

We hear some of our younger crowd are beginning to step out. There's Stacie and Lenora Plunk, and David and Patsy W.

This wasn't to be repeated but Fergie Gibson has her eye set on a certain Senior boy. We hear she's doing alright, too. Peggy Wilson and Harvey Lougher enjoy their walks down to Home-room every day.

Johnny Rowland seems to be beating "Roundy's" time where Margaret Cashion is concerned. Dannie Green, who is it that you have such a sudden interest in?

Margaret Dunnagan and Garrison missed out Saturday night — No wicker coast — No dance.

Well, we'll be snooty so until next week, same time, same paper, same game.

We are the Snoopers And Super We Are We've Got Your Number Right Up To Par.
