

Old Mountain Man Receives Supplies To His Letters

The "Old Mountain" writer of letters to men in the service from the Nelder Mills, received quite a number of replies from the boys away from home, in response to his first communication. Excerpts from a few of the replies and the Old Mountain's comments are reprinted here for the benefit of Kings Mountain soldiers, sailors, and marines everywhere, and also for friends at home who would like to know how much the boys on duty for Uncle Sam appreciate letters from homefolks.

Pvt. Frank H. Crowder, Camp 10, Charleston, Ark., is better than the Eye House ever could be. (That mighty hot, Frank?)

Pvt. Willard G. Hartson, Hunter Field, Savannah, Ga.—Please write us more. (We'll try to do so for you.)

Chas. E. Spearman, Camp Lee, Va.—How are all the boys around the Pauline Store? I haven't heard from any of them. (Attention, boys!)

Lloyd D. Early, New Port, R. I.—Tell Ed Ford he should join the Navy and see some of our Nurses. (Ed is practically blind now, 'eh?)

Pvt. Robert C. Cook, Sebring, Fla.—We keep 'em flying and we will slap the Japs and lick Hell out of the Axis. (Go to it, lad.)

Pfc. Vernon L. Smith, Macon, Ga.—I got more kick out of reading that letter than I do out of the M. Herald. (Thanks, bud.)

Pvt. Paul E. Murray, Camp Pickens, Va.—If any of the girls would like to write to anyone, well, it's that be me. (There's your chance, girls.)

Max Biddis, Corpus Christi, Tex.—So until the war is over, keep 'em flying and you keep buying Bonds and Stamps to help us. (I shall be done.)

Pvt. Burton C. Ford, Dothan, Ala.—Tell my goodlooking girl friends in the Window Room, especially the Second Shift, "Hello" for me and to write me some long friendly letters. (Step right up, girls.)

Col. J. L. McCraw, Saulton, N. J.—Tell Gus that I said for him to keep my job until I come home. (It's waiting for you, buddy.)

Pfc. Luthern Morrison, New Orleans, La.—I have passed my tests and am going to Officers' Training School sometime in the near future. (Best of luck, Luke. We're pulling for you.)

Pfc. John A. Royster, Dismouth, N. C.—The news was most welcome. Most of my friends got to read it and they got the most kick out of paragraph four. (Steady now.)

Pvt. C. E. Waterson, Keosauqua, Field, Miss.—It makes a soldier feel lots better to get mail from home. (Right you are.)

Pvt. Raymond H. Hartson, Tampa, Fla.—Was glad to get the News for I have not been getting my Herald every week due to the fact that I have been moving around. (Atten-
