State And National News Condensed In Brief Form

National

Washington, Nov. 3.—Whether teenage soldiers shall be sent into combat without a year of training and whether women enlisted in the Navy and Coast Guard reserves shall be permitted to serve overseas are among issues facing Congress when it resumes business next week.

Jerusalem, Nov. 3.—Prison guards at Tirana, Albania, fired on a group of girls demonstrating for the release of political prisoners recently held sixteen and wounding two reliable Balkan sources reported today.

Women and students were reported taking a leading part in the insurrection movement against their Italian rulers because so many men opposing Italian rule are fighting with guerrillas in the mountains. The director of Tirana police and two guards were wounded recently by patriots, after which more than 100 persons were arrested, informants said.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The migration of the Roman Catholic Church in America for victory in the war effort was placed before the world with authority and great dignity yesterday by Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, during a solemn pontifical mass heard by 21,000 at Convention Hall.

Fort MacArthur, Calif., Nov. 3.—The Army is putting women to work driving trucks.

Ten of them have started on half-ton trucks and command cars, after which they will be assigned to 2 1/2-ton Army trucks of the Los Angeles harbor defense post's motor pool.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 3.—If last poor fish hadn't gone and stuck his nose in—

Dr. D. P. Dyer aimed low and blasted away at some ducks. Four stopped over. Retrieving them, he found a black duck—speckled with spots.

"Oil City, Pa., Nov. 3.—Here it is: Mix five pounds of bran; one can of molasses; two eggs, well beaten; Brown in over three and one half hours."

That's the formula. Driver Jay S. Coleman follows to make his own coffee.

"We've got substitutes for rubber, why not coffee? My formula for home-made coffee will solve the shortage problem," says Coleman.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Because of the looming chopping block and uncertainty about price ceilings, there's many an uneasy head on the nation's turkey farms this year as the Thanksgiving season approaches.

Turkey farmers are more disturbed than are the near record population of birds; they are pampering and fattening for the marketplace such a few weeks hence.

Turkey prices, like those for almost everything else, are higher than a year ago, but what effect Gov. Emanuel Collins will have on growers' ability to convert their big costly birds into a net profit is still being considered.

Moscow, Nov. 3.—Despite the fact the Soviet atomic plant was not in operation, the Soviet took industry produced more steel in October than in September and exceeded its quota, a Tass report said today.

Laughing Around the World With ERVIN G. COOK

When the Sweet Magnolia Bloomed

By ERVIN G. COOK

ACCOMPANIED by a small, shiny black child, a large colored woman entered a railroad station in a North Carolina town. She stopped for a moment on a bench by the stove and announced she was sick.

"I'm sick," she stated. "We have got to take a train to New York. I have to get a doctor and get well again." The woman had a very bad cold and was coughing.

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C. THURSDAY, NOV. 3, 1942

Mrs. John T. Davidson Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. John T. Davidson, age 28, were held at the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. P. D. Patrick, in charge.

Active pallbearers were Paul Neider, J. B. Thomason, Joe Thompson, Paul McNamee, Luther Canler, and Gordon Hughes Jr., all of whom, with the exception of the latter, were selected from the board of deacons and elders.

Mrs. Davidson's death occurred at her home on West Gold street Sunday, following a critical illness, of short duration. Members of her family were at her bedside her son Vester Davidson, of Chicago, having arrived a short time before she passed away.

Mrs. Davidson had long been an honored member of the Presbyterian church and faithful to her vows. Although she had passed her allotted three-score and ten years, her mind and heart and spirit never grew old. She was a living realization that youthfulness is a condition of the spirit and not of the body. Of her religion, was no web sentimental but a real and simple way of believing and living. The true record of her rich full life, graven in living letters upon the hearts and lives of those who knew and loved her.

Mrs. Davidson was before marriage, Miss Martha Bollin, of York county, S. C.

Surviving are four sons, Frank of Bethany, S. C.; Vester of Chicago, Ill.; Carl and Hubert of Kings Mountain; two daughters, Mrs. A. T. Hanwell, of Oak Grove, and Mrs. J. B. Harmon of Greenville, S. C. Several grandchildren also survive.

Also surviving is her step-mother, Mrs. Julia Goforth.

Aged Citizen Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mr. Louis F. Neal, age 86, were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cooper on Piedmont Avenue and interment made in Mountain Rest cemetery. Rev. R. N. Baird, pastor of Boyce Memorial A. M. E. Church, was in charge of the service assisted by Rev. Mr. Echols and Rev. P. D. Patrick.

Active pallbearers were Grier Plunk, P. D. Herndon, M. A. Ware, Luther Harmon, Pride Rutherford and Campbell Phifer.

Mr. Neal's death occurred early Monday morning and came suddenly as he was about his usual duties.

His passing takes away one of the oldest and best known citizens of this section. He came to Kings Mountain in young manhood and will be a greater part of his life here.

He was a member of a well-known family of the Patterson Springs section of Cleveland county. For many years he has been a member of Boyce Memorial Church and attended services regularly when able.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Mattie Falls, who has been very sick for several months. Others surviving are his granddaughter, Mrs. Jacob Cooper, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Helen Galloway Neal, both of Kings Mountain, a grandson, E. W. Neal of the U. S. Army, a sister, Mrs. Clark, and a brother, T. L. Neal, both of Greenville.

Those out-of-town attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Neal, Mrs. R. N. Laflam, Mr. and Mrs. John Biggers of Patterson Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Neal, Mrs. John Clark and daughter of Grover, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Neal, Mrs. Greely Neal of Blacksburg, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karsner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neal, Miss Lucille Neal of Spartanburg, S. C., Mrs. Martin L. Rudisill of Cherryville, Mr. and Mrs. David White of Shelby, Mrs. T. A. Putman of Greenville, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wolf, Mrs. Knox Hardin of Shelby.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

BY WILL ROGERS

THE worst story I heard today was one of the best stories I heard. I can't tell you the bird's name, for then we would have to make the story shorter. A very well and hard-to-do Englishman had a son whose only ambition was to see London. The young man, in order to get the money to go there, manufactured the tale that he had need of a man in London that could teach a dog to talk for 20 pounds, and that what a wonderful thing for his Father if he had the distinction of possessing the only talking dog in Scotland. So the old man thought that was not a bad idea.

Well, the boy had a great time in London, but the money was running short. Then he had a bright idea, so he wrote his father, "Daddy" (that was the bird's name, named after, of course, Bobo). "Daddy," now speaks English fluently. But he is so good a pup and so bright that the professor wants to teach him French. The fee is, of course, 50 pounds more. The professor claims there is only one other dog in the world that can speak two languages, so think it's a good chance. Who's going to pay?

The Professor did. The boy went through the big Congress of Languages, and learned all kinds of languages, and when he got back to Scotland, he was a great hit. The people in Scotland said, "What's this? A dog that can speak English?"

The Professor said, "It's a dog that can speak English, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Russian, Chinese, Japanese, and many other languages." The people in Scotland said, "What's this? A dog that can speak all these languages?"

The Professor said, "It's a dog that can speak all these languages."

The people in Scotland said, "What's this? A dog that can speak all these languages?"

The Professor said, "It's a dog that can speak all these languages."

The people in Scotland said, "What's this? A dog that can speak all these languages?"

The Professor said, "It's a dog that can speak all these languages."

The people in Scotland said, "What's this? A dog that can speak all these languages?"
