TEMPER

When I have lost my temper I have lost my reason too. I'm never proud of anything which angrily I do. When I have talked in anger and my cheeks were flaming red, I have always uttered something which I wish I hadn't said.

In anger I have never done a kindly deed or wise. But many things for which I felt I should apologize. In looking back across my life, and all I've lost or made. I can't recall a single time when I was every paid.

So I struggle to be patient, for I've reached a wiser age; I do not want to do a thing or speak a word in rage. I have learned by sad experience that when my temper flies I meet no a worthy thing a deed or wise.

I understand the men were very popular at the Banker's picnic last week at Lake Montona as the ladies had them outnumbered at the rate of 3 to 1. For the dancing the ladies "broke" on the men which kept the men pretty busy.

The "Motto" girls are politely requesting telephone users to "look up the number and call back" when a person instead of number is asked for. The operators are mighty busy with war calls and the new girls haven't had time to learn the 600 numbers in Kings Mountain, so telephone users are asked to use their directories. Let's help them out.

W. K. Mauney performed a very pleasant duty for his son, Lt. George Mauney who is on active service in the U. S. Navy and could not do it himself. He placed the engagement ring on the finger of Miss Barbara Broward of Atlanta, bride-to-be of the Kings Mountain Naval Officer.

In The Mails: The following is a lady's handwriting: "I double dare you to print this Mr. Editor." The double and dare were underscored. The note accompanied a column by Elsie Robinson dealing with female fighters on both the home and war front. Sorry we can't reprint the column unless permission is received from the copyright owner.

Sgt. W. J. Fulkerson writes from far off Africa that even though the Herald is several weeks old when he receives it that it's fresh news to him.

I think the Banker's picnic was held at Lake Montona so that Cashier S. S. Neill could demonstrate his swimming ability.

I'll be glad when the gas ration is over so we can put in the paper again when someone takes a trip.

President Mr. Robert Lewis, Secretary Mrs. Ruth E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Morgan of Baltimore, Md., are visiting Mrs. Edna Harris and Mr. Claude Morgan here in Kings Mountain.
