THE HUMAN VIEWPOINT

As seen by

JACK DOCK and REGGIE

Well, here we are again with our Bab and Gossip and just plain neighborhood talk. We had a swell time and we sure are glad to be back in the BEST CITY IN THE STATE, KING MOUNTAIN, NORTH CAROLINA. We saw lots of nice looking girls to Jacksonville but we still think that our hometown girls are the prettiest. Since we arrived back in town at such late date we did not have time to acknowledge the swell letters and cards that were received during our absence but we hope to do so next week. Thanks for each swell letter and card. Well, we are always splitting the beans we had better start now. Just before we left Jacksonville we happened to see someone which we thought we recognized but I don't suppose it was a Kings Mountain boy. We thought it was Ben H. Goforth but there was no way of telling. We received several cards and letters while we were in Jacksonville and we want to thank our friends for them. Sorry that we did not get a chance to visit Ben H. out at the Jacksonville Air Base. The card arrived too late. We sure would like to have seen and gotten to speak to Ben. Thanks for the card anyway. On our journey home, The Trio had the opportunity of eating lunch at the Miami Naval Air Training Station. It sure is a beautiful place. We sure did like the C. O. (Which is a friend of Reggie's father) at the base. He gave us swell entertainment and while we were there he informed Reggie (YORK U. S. N. R.) that he would most likely be called into active service in late August or early September.

For this reason, Reggie York is resigning this week, although we hope to continue the column under his name. At this time, We, Jack and Dock, wish to say that we have found Reggie to be a swell fellow to work with and it is with the greatest of regrets that we give him over to The United States Navy. But our loss is really The Navy's gain. It is our hopes that he will have as much of a good fortune in the Navy as he has back home and we know that he will make a big success with his dual personality and everything. This, his last column, is dedicated to him and him alone. REGGIE YORK U. S. N. R. (Reggie says that he will most likely spend the next few days, before he is called into active duty, with his sister in his home in Miami although he has not yet made exact plans.) Although the column will continue next week under Reggie's name we hope to have a new member with us. We hope to be able to secure a girl columnist to take the place of our beloved Reggie.

After returning from vacation we did have time to take in a small part of our regular rounds. Want to know and who we saw: Curved over with a "slight" cantina.... Bob-

...Bob Baker home on furlough... Carolyn Prince walking down the street... Bobby McDonald home for a few days (Glad to see you home Bobby)... Phil Austin home and walking down the street in a nice cool check suit... Billy Jones riding his bike... Eddie Campbell looking better than ever in his Army Uniform (and cute, my gosh)... Tom McDonald and Zeb Falls riding their bikes up Cherryville way... Bill Gault looking out at the projection room of The Imperial Theater and yelling at us; Hi You, Bill... Jackie Falls and Henry Neider talking on Jackie's front porch... Mrs. W. W. Tolson and Doty at the Postoffice... Dot Harmon and all the "Rose Giddy" working hard... Evelyn Edens behind the counter at Rose's 5 and 10... Could only see your head, Eddie. You ought to grow some (no offense, Evelyn)... Patsy Ballard and Marion Arthur riding up the street in a nice looking auto... Doris Phifer helping out in the Hardware Store 'round the corner... Reggie York writing a letter to his favorite Edgerton (Or is she a blonde, Reggie?)... Tom's Gillespie and Avis MacWarlick and a host of other girls sitting on Tootsie's front porch... Well, it's better close but we have a swell riddle. Figure it out for yourself. Go to bed tonight. Get up tomorrow will be Saturday, and remember, if it's a secret we'll find it out. (All cards and letters, appreciated.) we are sincerely,

JACK DOCK and REGGIE.
(P. S.: So long, folks, I'll try to write you sometime, meantime, I am glad to have been of service to you, and to my friends which receive letters and comic cards from me in Jacksonville, they were all in fun so long. (I'll not say Bye, because I'll see you again sometime. REGGIE.

Cut Hay Early For Best Quality

The best time to cut hay is just as the plants approach full bloom because good hay should be leafy and green in color, say say Extension agronomists at N. C. State College.

They point out that as the plants mature, they lose more and more of their protein, vitamins, and minerals. The leaves begin to shed off of the plants, the stems become hard, and the hay becomes inedible. Much of the so-called hay in North Carolina is nothing but a mixture of ripe seeds and straw.

The agronomists suggest that the hay be cured so as to preserve the leaves, which contain most of the nutrients, and also the green color of the hay. Damage from dew and rain and also from mold should be avoided in so far as possible.

They also suggest that hay should not be left on the ground very long after cutting, but raked into small windrows as the leaves begin to wilt. The leaves are the first part of the plant to dry out after cutting. They may become so brittle as to chatter off in ordinary handling, while the stems are still green. As long as the leaves are kept alive, they help to cure the stems by drawing the moisture out of them and this is the reason for putting the hay into windrows.

The agronomists say that the hay should be put into windrows after three or four hours of bright sunshine under ordinary conditions. Where there are heavy crops, the windrows should be turned over again in the afternoon. The side delivery rake and hay tedder are excellent implements for curing heavy hay crops.

COTTON SEED
Cotton seed should be promptly marketed and crushed. The WPA estimates that civilians will get 10 percent less edible fats and vegetable oils next year.

COTTON LOANS
The 1943 cotton loan program of the CCC has been announced by the War Food Administration. The average loan rate of 7-8 inch 50-ding cotton, gross weight, will be 18.41 cents per pound. The loan rates will vary because of location.

SMALL GRAINS
All wheat, corn, and barley should be treated with arsenic before planting to prevent some of the more serious diseases affecting the crops, says Dr. S. G. Lehman, plant pathologist of the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station at State College.

COTTON
Pick cotton only when dry, keep trash out, pick before weather dam age, and don't mix good cotton with bad, says C. L. McCaslin, Extension gin specialist at State College.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

We were sittin on Bill Webster's back porch Saturday complainin of the heat.

"Reckon this is the hottest day on record," Homer Bentley observed. "And the thirstiest," says Bill, taking a long draught of buttermilk.

That got us on the subject of thirst-quenchers and Bill allowed as how nothing was as cooling as a tall, cold glass of buttermilk. That Philbs and I both voted for a glass of cool refreshing beer. Dan Miles said he'd take lead tea, "with a sprig of mint in it."

"Anyway," says Bill, "we all got a right to our own tastes... and that ought to leave everybody happy."

And from where I sit, Bill's right. It's a small point of course—but tolerance of what the other fellow likes and his right to enjoy it—whether it's buttermilk or beer—is the important thing in any argument.
