Three Children Learn A Lesson

NEWARK, N. J.—Four men, discharged from a shipyard on the ground they had played cards on company time, received War Manpower Commission certificates permitting them to take other jobs on ly after facing three soldiers who lost limbs in the nation's service.

"I can tell you men this war is just getting started," said Sgt. Lawrence McAllister of Denver, Colo., who lost his left leg in Tunisia. "When we hear of a strike or a shutdown, we feel our planes should come over here bombing. We, who have been sleeping in foxholes, wet and without food we want and need can see no reasons for delays."

Corporal Jesse M. Allford of Thomsville, Ga., who lost his left leg when he stepped on a booby trap in Haiti, said "I'm surprised at the scrambling and strikes while we give up our lives if we were to strike over there, not only we but you would suffer. We don't fight for money. We fight and die for America."

Corporal Vernon Meter of Monticello, Va., lost his right arm in the Sicilian campaign when a land mine exploded.

"We can't fight unless the workers are behind us," he commented. "They are not over there, but they are playing a big part in the game too."

The soldiers formed an informal panel which heard the applications by the three men before Howard J. Lepper, director of the Newark area for the War Manpower Commission. Unless the workmen got certificates of availability, no defense industry could hire them for 30 days.

They got their certificates after the veterans had their say. The discharged workers had no comment.

Lepper said he had arranged the hearing to impress on all workers the need for maximum production.

Plan For Saving Good Cotton Seed

North Carolina growers will soon face the problem of saving planting seed for the 1946 cotton crop and J. A. Shanklin, Extension cotton specialist at State College, suggests that they make definite plans now for saving seed of highest quality.

The germination of cotton seed may be affected by weather damage in the field, by heating of the seed-cotton after it is put in the house.

and by heating of the seed after the cotton is ginned.

Shanklin advises that the cotton in the field should be fully and fully matured to give seed with high germination. It should be picked when there is no dew on it and not too soon after a rainy period of weather.

Cotton should not be picked and carried directly to the gin under average conditions. The specialist suggests that it be put into the cotton house and turned for several days so as to be sure that it is thoroughly dry and does not have the opportunity of going through a heat.

When the cotton has been ginned, he advises that the seed be immediately taken from the sacks and spread out in thin layers so that they may dry out. Too much moisture in the seed will cause them to heat and reduce the germinating qualities.

"This War Will Become Bigger and Tougher... During The Long Months To Come"

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Italy has fallen—but the war is not over and you know it! Think of Berlin and Tokyo—think of the men dying at this moment.

Can we, you and I, afford to let them down—to turn their battlefront victory into a home-front defeat? Let's buy more War Bonds than ever... let's back up their victory with ours—the success of the 3rd War Loan!

There are battles coming—tough, bloody, hard-to-win battles—before this war is over. And it's the last battle that counts. We've got to back up our fighting men... we've got to buy War Bonds with every dollar, every dime we can scrape up.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT said it, as Commander-in-Chief:

"I say that we Americans will not be satisfied to send our troops into the fire of the enemy with equipment only equal to that of the enemy. We are determined to provide our troops with overpowering superiority of quality and quantity of arms and armaments..."

Our fighting men will do their job—it's up to you, personally, to keep their victories safe by buying War Bonds NOW with every dollar you can—not with what you'd ordinarily save or invest, but more—every bit more you can manage.

World's Safest Investments
