National Education Week To Be Observed

American Education Week, which is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, will be observed in the local schools November 7-13. It was announced today by J. E. Hunsycutt, Principal of Central School.

On Thursday evening Nov. 11th, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Hunsycutt will be in charge of the program for the Kiwanis Club. This program, which will be announced later, will be on the subject of education.

WHAT MAKES CROONERS POPULAR WITH WOMEN?
The amazing appeal some crooners have with the feminine sex is explained in an intensely interesting article. Don't miss this enlightening feature in the November 7th issue of THE AMERICAN WEEKLY.

Billy Ruth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ruth, who one of the many happy youngsters who enjoyed the P. T. A. sponsored Fallown's Parade Saturday night, slipped out in his costume to be up armed with a rabbit's foot and a blackjack. He said he hoped the rabbit's foot would do the work but he had the blackjack "just in case."

George Allen who is proud of his "Old Furniture," showed us a real antique this week he picked up on his last trip north. It's an old fashioned Swiss Music Box, which is said to be over 100 years old. It plays beautiful music and is really a treat to see and hear.

Seen On My Round: Attorney Ector Merrill and J. R. Davis in the middle of the street talking.

L. George Mounay stopped by the office Tuesday afternoon to say hello, and he was wearing the new battleship gray uniform. It was the first one I had seen and it looked real handsome.

The committee on the War Fund Drive is really doing an excellent job and I want to thank them even before they complete the campaign. Gratitude To: Mrs. E. W. Griffin, Central School P. T. A. President who made possible an enjoyable and orderly Fallown's for the young folks and their parents.

Luz Jackson, one of our colored subscribers of Route 2, stopped in the office last week to renew. The first thing she asked was: "Are you Haywood E. Lynch, the writer of Here and There?" I told her I was and she said, "Your column is the second thing I read, first I read the Negro News and then I turn right to your column." She made me feel like I was Walter Winchell or Paul Mallon or some of those other big-shot columnists. If she had bragged just a little more, I guess I would have given her a ten-year subscription.

KEYHOLE PEEPERS

Shush..... Hush! Look out for us. Despite your attempts to be alone we have searched and found your family skeletons.

Have a scary Halloween? Did you see Batman and Robin Squal in a Squal? We always thought Bruce Wayne was Batman, instead of Tater.

Get Detsy T. Innocent, and Betty L. hope Bobby W. and Harvey H. are along next year to carry their coats.

Mr. Hunsycutt and Foots looked cute when they tried to cut a rug at the dance Friday. Lastways, that's what we THINK.

Are James H. and Jean W. going to follow Frances and Roberts' example.

Nook P. seems to sport a cat most every Sunday. Maybe we'll take to hitch-hiking after we have asked Donald G. if its worthwhile.

The chef's really a love nest. If you don't believe it ask Mildred, May G. and Betty C.

Hope you had a happy birthday, Gene H.

The boy visiting the Arthur's covered cuts.... that is what we could use of him crowded in with all those girls.

Jimmy G. has been looking over the younger set and seems to have come out with Dutch R.

We Keyhole peepers have very large eyes.

Our ears are open and we are wise.

So, stop and look and listen for other things than trains.

'Cause we'll be watching in dark love lanes.

P. E.—Due to circumstances, this is the last of the Keyhole Peepers. If we have offended anyone, we are sorry.

THE END.

Large advertisement for City of Kings Mountain Water and Light Department. Text: 'Conservation is Vital. Electricity is in the war! Government authorities state that if we are to get the increased production and supplies needed to win this war, we MUST HAVE conservation that will decrease demands which consume. FUEL . . . MANPOWER . . . CRITICAL MATERIALS. Every time you snap off a light you can do without . . . lower the burner when boiling . . . turn off the radio when you finish listening to a program . . . you help swell the conservation total that will speed the day of Victory. Seven industries—coal, oil, electricity, gas, water, communications and transportation—have been asked by the Government to cooperate in making voluntary conservation an effective wartime aid. The purpose of this national campaign is to save COAL and OIL used in producing these services the MANPOWER it takes to provide this fuel and the TRANSPORTATION required to deliver it. If every user will be a conserver for the duration millions of tons of coal and millions of gallons of oil can be made available for war purposes. The voluntary conservation measures which the War Production Board wants everyone to observe are not severe. Guard against waste. Economize wherever possible. No curtailment is to be made that will endanger health or, sight, reduce safety or protection, or interfere with war production. WHAT YOU CAN DO AT HOME . . . TO CONSERVE ELECTRICITY. Turn off lights and appliances when not actually needed. Keep lamp bulbs and reflector bulbs clean to get maximum light from smaller bulbs. Don't leave lights burning in unused rooms, cellars, attic. Don't have radio on when no one is listening. Use all appliances carefully so that current is not wasted. Defrost refrigerators regularly and don't keep temperature lower than necessary. SAVE WATER. Reduce our Water Department's enormous considerable electricity in the pumping of water from the lake to the filtering plant, then to your home. Do not heat more hot water than is needed, and repair leaky faucets. So . . . use electricity and water for your essential needs! BUT DON'T WASTE these services because they are cheap and not national. City of Kings Mountain Water And Light Department
