opring house cleaning: 1. Take one room at a time-so you the house, and the family aren't completely upont.

2. Before you begin, sert out the bings to be given or thrown away and the winter clothes to be closped and stored. Dispose of them first. 3. Another early frick is to guther up all the mashable brie-a-brae and wash it. You may wish to put part of it away for the summer. 4. When you wash your windows try polishing them with erunipied paper. It will do a wonderful job. 5. Grease spots on wallpaper may by removed if you does on Prench chalk Leave on for several boots then brush off with soft clean cloth

6. Hon't best your rugs. Its hard on them and doesn't do nearly athorough a cleaning job as your vacsum cleaner or the dry such method. 7. Slip covers will dry with fewer deep wrinkles if you shake them out vegorously and hang on two paral-lel clotheslines — the back pinned to one end and the front of the seat to the other. While slip covers are etill damp, iron just the flounces and then work the damp slip cover over the chair. You needs t iron the

Her Devotion to the Past-and Her Determination for the Future Gives Us Faith

JUST a worn baby shoe . . neglected tennis racket . . or melle wed high school diploma to anyone else . . but to her they are finks between the past and the present. At their touch her heart bests faster and memories of your childhood come racing back to her mind's eye. Then, softly sighing, sho'll closs the squesking trunk - square her shoulders and face the future. Yes, it was hard—there were dark days and selfless sacrifices to make, but in a mother's eyes they were glezious adventures. To watch you grow . . see love and worship reflect in your eye was her reward. Unfalteringly her faith inspired courage and comfort in your living—gave purpose to your pursuit of happin ess. Now, in a world recked to its foundations by war, she still remains a bulwark of strength unchanged in a changing world. Her implicit faith in America and the freedoms for which you fight coupled with simple trust in your sincere efforts to do your best . . and to succeed wherever you are—in whatever you do . . is ammunition for your soul. It gives power to your conviction to win this war and confidence in the peace to come.

Tradition claims the second Sunday of each May as HER day. . . as a tribute to the magnitude of her loving devotion. Make it another day for her collection of memories . . try in some small measure to brighten the life of one who shaped and guided your life as an American . . YOUR MOTHER!
