To the People of this Community

This is a home front contribution on the most vital war activity now in progress in every community of the land—the Fifth War Loan.

We are advancing our objective. However, we must make certain that we reach and pass our goal by July 8. This can be done if every one of us puts something extra of ourselves into the fight.

No one needs to remind you that it is an American trait to go into a sprint with the goal in sight.

We started this push June 12. Reports from every city and town in America tell us that the number of individual buyers of extra War Bonds today has reached an unprecedented level. We all know that in addition to numbers we need fire power. Your extra War Bond is absolutely essential. The greater the stocks of War Bonds, the easier it will be for us to get this war over.

This very moment our boys are waging a life-and-death struggle. Every additional War Bond you buy will play its part in the outcome. Last month's War Bond, last week's War Bond, yesterday's War Bond are already in the embattled foxholes. Today is another day for the home front just as today is another day for the boys on the battlefront.

GIVE A BOY HIS DREAM

Give a boy some time to dream. Time for thoughts of make believe. Who can say what visions gleam through the patterns he may weave?

Give a boy some time to dream. A Robin Hood he now may be. Who someday, with inspired scheme, may lose a bound humanity.

Give a boy that shining light. The beauty of what used to be. Feed his soul on Truth and Right, let love in him, and set him free.

And if he gazes over long. With brow intent and eyes a gleam, Treat softly as you pass along. O give a boy some time to dream.

—Greta LaFollette

GOOD JUDGMENT

We think the Shelby Board of Aldermen were wise in their decision, at the suggestion of City Attorney O. M. Mull, to investigate school financing before they appropriate city funds for operation of the schools.

Hon. Mull, who is one of the best friends of schools in North Carolina, asked the sensible question: "But what are you doing with the funds received from the special tax levy for the ninth month of school since the state took over the operation of the ninth months of school?" asked Mr. Mull for the board.

According to The Shelby Star: "The board of aldermen did not indicate what they would do with the request made on behalf of the schools, but members said the whole process of financing education is becoming so confused, overlapping and complicated that it needs to be looked into before any specific appropriation is made."

Mr. Mull advised the board that whatever appropriation was made to the schools, honesty with the people should be the ruling factor. "Several years ago," he told the board, the people voted supplemental funds for the operation of a ninth month of school. Since the state has taken over the operation of the ninth month the people should be given a full explanation of why it is necessary to continue the special levy and why the city is being asked to provide still further supplementary support."

Hot Weather Comments: I bet if a vote had been taken at the Union Services Sunday night in the A. S. P. Church every person would have cast their ballot in favor of the severe cold weather of the winter in preference to the extreme heat of the summer.

Dr. E. N. Baird repeated his welcome of the past two years at the first union service in Regis Memorial, as being "As warm as the weather."

Quite a number were at the Lake Sunday afternoon trying to keep cool. Among the witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tolson who were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

I for one, must prefer the extreme heat to the extreme cold weather. I even said that Sunday City Manager H. L. Burdette has a different opinion. He says he can put on enough clothes to keep warm in the winter but he can't take off enough to keep cool in the summer.

Light and Water Superintendent L. C. Parsons is another one who prefers the hot weather to the cold, however for a different reason. He has to take shots for his asthma in the summer.

Preacher Garland Winkler's comment on the weather was "Warm, ain't it hot?"

The boys in the Barber Shop rigged up a fan to try to keep their customers cool but the contraptions made so much noise that the heat was preferred to the confusion.

George Lattimore and E. Y. Ballard at the Park View Mill had the coolest office I visited during the heat wave. It was just as pleasant as could be with the big fans going.

It was so hot Sunday night that J. B. Thompson did not go to church. I found him after services in front of Ruth Thompson's drinking ice water.

Mayor Joe Thomson looked real cool in his white linen suit Sunday night. I have said it before, but I will repeat it, the best thing to do about the hot weather is to keep cool.

Seen On My Rounds: Lawyer J. E. Davis mowing the lawn.

Luther Ware working in his corn field.

B. H. Barnes and little son, L. B. strolling up the street.

Byron Koster and his daughter, Jo, horseback riding.

Mr. Joe Thomson, wife of the Mayor, asking Milton Roth, if it was all right to park facing the railroad, as the certainly did not want to get a ticket for wrong parking.

Mrs. Eugene Matthews matching me for a Coca-Cola and winning.

Hinkle McGinnis in the Station Office.

Don Barton talking War Bonds.

Red McClain driving a truck.

AMERICA IN ACTION

AIR CADETS MAKE PLANS FOR POSTWAR LIVING

America's fledgling fliers are training hard to make history on aerial battlefronts but they're also looking ahead to plan a world where "Molly and me, and baby'll make three."

Postwar homes and garden layouts are running a close second to academic, physical and military training interests of aviation cadets and students at the San Antonio aviation cadet center.

Along with their domestic and scholastic interests, many students are studying intensely to learn the fundamentals of starting small businesses, such as grocery and other commodity stores.

Literary tastes seem to run to fiction rather than non-fiction, with emphasis on mystery yarns. Runner-up in the fiction class is the historical novel, with Lloyd C. Douglas' "The Robe" topping the list.

Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage," "Riddle in Arms" and "Armed" run a close second, followed by political and travel novels such as "Inside Latin America" by John Gunther, and "Spain" by Salvador de Madariaga.

Library facilities available to students include 6,000 fiction, non-fiction and technical books; monthly subscriptions to 68 magazines and current issues of 24 newspapers covering the United States.

The library, open daily, has a monthly circulation of 2,500 books, with 2,500 current borrowers. Standing orders are maintained with publishers for current best-sellers.

In addition, a complete "War File," with newspaper articles; magazine pictures; charts and maps and anything dealing with the progress of the war or development of new weapons or techniques in warfare, is maintained.

Large wall maps and aeronautical charts, criss-crossed with colored strings and pins, enable the students to follow the progress of the war, and now in process of construction is a complete War Exhibit, in miniature.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Here we are on time as usual! to report the latest events of the past week.

It seems David N. got home pretty quick. A week isn't very long you know. The two Charlestonians who were with him seemed to like South and North. And we saw who David dated!!! We wonder if Toots and Ralie had a good time? We wonder when Jimmy S. is coming back? We sure do miss him and we know South does!

We bet Jeanie had a good time with her two soldiers Saturday night at, Jennie! We bet your heart skipped a beat when you saw "Pucker"—better come home quick, Marion!! Come on Henry—let us know who your heart think is. Seems to be a different girl for every boy.

We see Robert N. is sitting alone in the picture show these days—since Frances W. is out of town, eh, what? We bet Sam C. is certainly missing his girl from Gastonia. We wonder if he goes to see her very often? It seems Avis lost her heart when Bobby Graves was here — and we think Bibby did too! A cute couple—eh, what?

It won't be long before Bouts will be going to Morehead City — we bet Jerry can't wait 'till she gets there. We know she can't.

We bet Dork is missing Gene. M. since he started working at differ ent hours.

There's one person we haven't seen much since Marie A. left. Come over and see us sometime, MAX!

We bet Jackie hears from Suzy every day. Do you miss him Jack?

We see Jimmy Barnes is home. Doesn't he look swell in his uniform girl?

It seems Mahie is playing the field these days. What about the Johnny and Otis?

Keep out of sight, Especially at night, And when you hear the wolf howl, We'll be on the prowl!

Wheat Chief Food

Wheat products are the largest items on the Italian menu. Before the war Italy was the third largest wheat-growing nation in Europe with a crop more than a third the total for the United States. In addition, up to 25 million bushels of wheat was imported from Argentina, Australia, the United States and Russia. About a third of the imports went into the manufacture of macaroni and other food products for export. A 15 per cent decrease in wheat consumption in recent years had been caused by the use of rice and fish.

What can you say to a wounded soldier?

Never mind the sympathy—he doesn't want it! In his mind, he did his duty, and part of his duty was stopping an enemy bullet.

You have a duty, too, in this war. Part of your duty is to buy War Bonds with every dime and dollar you can. So simply say "thanks" to a wounded soldier, by buying your full share of War Bonds in the Fifth War Loan. Don't expect credit—you can't match his sacrifice by merely leading your money. But don't be ashamed, either—if you've done your duty, you've done your gratitude—the way you want to.

Say "thanks" to every American soldier—double the Bonds you bought before.
