ALL THINGS WORK OUT
Because it rains when we wish it wouldn't.
Because men do what they often shouldn't.
Because crops fail, and plans go wrong.
Because of us grumble the whole day long.
But somehow, in spite of the ease and doubt,
It seems at last that things work out.
Because we lose where we hoped to gain,
Because we suffer a little pain,
Because we must work when we'd like to play.
Some of us whimper a long life's way
But somehow, as day will follow the night,
Most of our trouble work out all right.
Because we cannot forever smile,
Because we must tidge in the dust awhile,
Because we think that the way is long—
Some complain that life's all wrong.
But somehow we live and our sky is bright,
Everything seems to work out all right.
No bend to your trouble and meet your ease,
For clouds must break, and the sky grow fair.
Let the rain come down as it must and will,
But keep on working and hoping still
For in spite of the grumblers who stand about,
Somehow, it seems all things work out.
—Tidings.

FAITH

Faith makes all evil good to us, and all good better; unbelief makes all good evil, and evil worse. Faith laughs at the shaking of a spear; unbelief trembles at the shaking of a leaf; unbelief starves the soul, while faith finds food in famine, and a table in the wilderness. In the greatest danger, faith says, "I have a great God." When outward strength is broken, faith rests on the promise of the Heavenly Father. In the midst of sorrow, faith draws the sting out of every trouble, and takes out the bitterness from every affliction. — Cecil.

AMERICA NUMBER ONE REPORTER

Many people speak of foreign trade in relation to this country as if it were an academic question. Usually it is spoken of in the future tense, with the implication that heretofore the United States has had but minor interest in world markets. Also cheap foreign labor is usually thought of as a competitive impossibility, to be avoided at all costs. How uninformative many of us are on the facts of our own national existence!

The United States, before the war was the foremost exporting nation of the world. We could not live alone without benefit of foreign trade and maintain our standard of living, even if we wanted to. The products of our factories and farms go to every corner of the globe. In 1939, our 20 best markets abroad for finished manufactures included Great Britain, Argentina, Philippines, Japan, South Africa, Russia, Brazil, Australia, France, Venezuela, Cuba, Mexico, Sweden, Colombia, Belgium, Netherlands, Netherlands West Indies, Germany, British India, and the Netherlands Indies. Who says we are provincial?

Moreover, our exports were of an almost limitless variety, ranging from toys to tractors and food. Cheap foreign labor hindered us little. For example, we out-learned Japan in Latin America by thirteen to one. For every dollar of goods Japan sold, we exported thirteen dollars worth to southern neighbors. In other words, our share of total imports into Latin America before the war was 26.3 per cent, while Japan's share was 2.6. The question of whether we will trade with the world is little short of silly, just as is the question of whether our mass production and the efficiency of our workers can meet the competition of unskilled producers across the sea. We have done both.

Food Supply

A farm that grows one acre in size, properly fertilized and managed, and located in a region where favorable natural conditions exist, can supply 200 to 300 pounds of fat per year for the family table.

NEWS AND TALKS
Raymond E. Lynch
The fire alarm sounded near the end of the service in the First Baptist Church Sunday night which was the first called service for the new Pastor, Rev. L. G. Pinnix. His first sermon was called with quite a commotion as the first service conducted by Rev. J. G. Whitten, across the street at Central Methodist Church three years ago. Kings Mountain boasts their new preacher in with a "Bang."

Deputy Sheriff Will Blackburn is proud of the vote he received in Brown, as he beat the popular Democrat, who polled 167 while he polled a total of 204.

David Hunsicker called on Tuesday afternoon to tell me about a German parachute which was being proudly shown by James Carpenter at the Millgrove. The camouflage equipment chute, which measured 18 feet across, had been sent Mr. Carpenter by a relative now on duty in France. The chute attracted considerable interest among workers at the mill.

Rev. W. G. Harry, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Warm Springs, Ga., is also the Mayor of the City. He is to preach Sunday evening to members of the Presbyterian Church here, and when he does it will be Mayor William Harry as Joe Thomas, Mayor of The Best Town in The State is just as sure to be present as the preacher.

I stopped by the other day and had lunch with J. S. Hamrick at The Wolfe Shoppes, and it was a most delicious meal. The serving was plentiful and the food was well prepared and tasty. For dessert I had a slice of his delicious cream pie, and if you really want something good, stop in and treat yourself to a slice.

RANDOM NOTES

Mrs. Annie Gantt has on display at her home on Gaston street a most interesting collection of war souvenirs sent her from France by her son, Bill.

The collection includes the following: 5 French coins, 2 French bayonets, 1 German helmet, 2 German insignia, 1 German "Grossen" cap, 5 German belt buckles, 1 German sign (completely intact), 1 machine gun belt (empty), 2 German insignia (armband), 4 Naval insignia, 1 Iron Cross, 1 German Service Record Book, 1 German book (novel).

The above articles were carefully wrapped in what was left of a German parachute and shipped in a wooden box.

Of particular interest to me was the German Service Record Book, in which was posted the picture of the owner, Johannes Weir, the latter a familiar name hereabouts.

The Richmond News Leader, a daily of Richmond, Va., carried a sensational picture of Wave Mary Frances Gantt, Yeoman 3-C and a companion Wave. The picture shows of Mary Frances pulling the cord to ring the Liberty bell and had below the following: "Another Naval Victory was chalked up yesterday in the War Community Fund Campaign. Wave Mary Frances Gantt and her companion ring the bell proclaiming the 119 percent of their goal."

Cecil Cook writes from France that he had recently walked quite a distance for that purpose.

A nephew of mine now in the fighting area of the Pacific sent his father a coconut sometime ago, from Hawaii where he was stationed for a long time. A gifted artist, the young man smoothed and sanded one side of the coconut and painted thereon the picture of a fair young maiden, no doubt the Hawaiian type. His father, proud of his souvenir, is now very much worried at the coconut has begun to sprout vigorously.

"Words sounded so empty," said a local minister of the Gospel Sunday, when he referred to his effort to bring some comfort and consolation to the Mourning Saturday night, and that expresses how we all feel. Kings Mountain people generally were stunned beyond belief when news of the tragic words of the telegram was spread. A boy so bright—so full of promise—an only child and so young. We are glad that lives are not measured by the span of years and that Manly had after all, lived a full life—bringing into his home a lot of happiness—leaving with family, schoolmates and friends a beautiful memory not to be effaced by time. But as the minister said, "Words are so empty" and we find no expression for our feeling at a time like this.

THE TELEGRAM

The same bird is called over and over. Our children laugh by the garden wall. The same been hum in the purple clover— Oh, nothing has changed in my world at all! The same wind lifts and the same wind crosses. The starched white curtains like drifting fumes; Only my life has shattered to pieces. Only the hearth has gone from our home. —Eulive M. Low Cook.

Here's What They Say ABOUT Purrey Blankets
Illustration of a stack of blankets.
"We are so delighted with our Purrey Blankets. They are not only lovely and soft and very rich looking but warmer than blankets I have paid twice as much for. The colors are simply gorgeous. I have one in dusty rose for my bedroom and two in pale blue for the children's room. And I gave a white Purrey as a wedding present to a bride last January and it was the hit of the gifts. Everybody raved about it."
