THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR SOLDIERS NOT TO BE SKIMPY

ATLANTA, Ga. — Traditional Thanksgiving dinner for the American soldier—turkey with all the trimmings—will be served at Army posts and camps in the seven south eastern states November 23, and there will be no skimpy helpings.

The master menu, which is used as a guide in all mess halls, was telegraphed recently by the Quartermaster Fourth Service Command and specifies 100 pounds of turkey for every 100 men. It's going to be a busy day for the Army cooks, as they are not going to starve the boys for breakfast. Just to what their appetites for the big feed at noon, the soldiers will be served this breakfast menu: Oranges (one orange per man), dry cereal, fresh milk, fried eggs, pork sausage, toast, butter, marmalade, coffee.

It's to be a day of feasting and the mess sergeants will top it up again at night, just like they hadn't had a hell-busting meal at noon. For supper they'll have: assorted cold cuts, sliced cheese, potato cakes, leftover vegetables, bread, butter, coffee, peanut butter.

- And here's what they'll have for that Thanksgiving Dinner:
- Grapefruit Juice
  - Roast Turkey with Giblet Gravy
  - Sage Dressing
  - Mashed Potatoes
  - String Beans
  - Corn
  - Cranberry Sauce
  - Lettuce with Russian Dressing
  - Colony Olives
  - Pickles
  - Hot Bells
  - Butter
  - Pumpkin Pie
  - Coffee
  - Apples
  - Candy
  - Nuts

But there seems to be no cause of civilians to worry about a possible shortage of turkeys for their Thanksgiving dinner. While the total quantity required for the Armed forces has not been disclosed, the War Food Administration has advised that turkeys remaining for civilian consumption this year will be more than the per capita consumption during the pre-war period between 1935-39.

Systems Vary
Results of tests made on 15 varieties of soybeans at Urbana, Ill., show that their protein content ranged from 23 to 44 per cent, and their fat content from 13 to 22 per cent. Increased interest in the crop is probably due to their high food value and possible use as a meat alternate.

SHOULD FUMIGATE CORN IN STORAGE

Small grain in storage can be protected from insect damage by fumigating the grain with carbon disulfide, recommends Dr. E. R. Cullins, in charge of agronomy Extension at State College.

As valuable as the corn crop is this year, he says, every precaution to keep it should be used. He points out that it may be infested with weevils when it is taken from the field, and so one of the first precautions should be to rid it of these pests.

Use 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 gallons of carbon disulfide for each 1000 cubic feet of space, 2 1/2 to 3 gallons per 1000 bushels of shelled corn, or 1 1/2 to 2 gallons to the barrel of seed for the fumigation.

Temperature of the grain should not be allowed to go above 65 de. F., Dr. Cullins says. Level the grain in the bin and pour or sprinkle the carbon disulfide over the surface. Close the storage tightly immediately after fumigating, leaving it closed for 48 hours. After that, open the storage and allow it to air. He advises turning the grain a half once a month and if more insects are noted repeat the fumigation.

Caution should be observed in using carbon disulfide, Dr. Cullins says as it is highly explosive and lighted matches, paper, sparks or other fire should not be allowed near the storage fumigation.

BUT BONDS WILL HELP YOUR BOYS DO IT!

Your fighting men are paying back the Japs for Pearl Harbor, that "dead end will live in infamy." But it's a long way yet to Tokyo—where the final installment will be collected.

We, at home, can't fight shoulder to shoulder with our boys. Yet we can help today by giving behind the 6th War Loan Drive with every dollar we can scrape together. This is every American's cue. Buy an extra $100 Bond—and don't quit till you've asked. For we've a tough job ahead.

Your Bonds prove that you haven't forgotten Pearl Harbor, Bataan and the thousands of other victims against humanity by the Jap horde. Your Bond is an installment on what it's going to cost us to crush the Japs in the long sea lanes of the Pacific—it's going to take more super-torpedoes at $200,000 each, more F-47 Thunderbolts at $100,000 each—more of every type of material.

And remember, when you buy Bonds you are saving for your future and the future of your country. Don't put it off—buy that extra Bond today.
