A weekly newspaper devoted to the promotion of the general welfare and published for the enlightenment, entertainment and benefit of the citizens of Kings Mountain and its vicinity.

FINE SPIRIT

Grocerymen of Kings Mountain are to be congratulated in the fine spirit of cooperation they displayed in uniting for the anti-inflation campaign now going on. The promotion idea is being sponsored by the Public Relations Panel of the Local Radio Board with Mrs. E. W. Griffin Chairman. Grocerymen are joining hands to make the campaign in Kings Mountain a success, and they deserve the wholehearted support of the entire citizenship.

The way grocerymen work together is typical of Kings Mountain when the purpose is worthwhile, and the sooner we all realize the necessity of holding prices down, the better it will be.

OVER THE TOP

Words of praise are in order for General Chairman Byron Keeter and his committee who put the United War Fund of Kings Mountain way over the top. The goal was greatly exceeded. It took work on the part of the chairman and his co-workers. All of Kings Mountain should be proud of the fine service rendered. They did an excellent job, and citizens of The Best Town in The State are to be congratulated on the generous way they responded to the call. It's just another example of Kings Mountain coming through in fine style. We are proud of Kings Mountain, and our neighboring town of Grover.

NEWS AND TALKS

Raymond E. Lynch
Note to Firemen: You had better be careful or you will be in the "Tells of the Law."
If I was a fortune-teller I would predict that The Best Town in The State will see the beginning of a hospital, hotel and library during 1935.
Just a word of praise for members of the Volunteer Fire Department who meet every Tuesday night to discuss and practice ways and means of fighting fire. They are a sane group who are always on the job for the regular weekly meetings, so that they will know what to do and how to do it in case of a serious fire here.

I was mighty sorry that I could not accept Post Commander Glen Bridges' invitation to attend the annual banquet Tuesday night. But that's one of the penalties of a newspaperman. He has to work or printing night and the night before.
The horrible auto accident which claimed ten lives in our adjoining county of Burke, should be a lesson to all of us to be more careful. Cars are a great blessing but they are also killers when not properly used.

Columnist H. V. Bell is gaining quite reputation. A Herald subscriber way out at Archdale told me the other day that he could hardly wait for his paper to read Bell's philosophy.

Seen On My Route: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adair going to their store. Ladd Emrick taking Harvey Bythe to school. W. K. Manney and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Manney, going to work. Nell Thomson in the Building and Loan Office. George Manney in the Station Office. "Major" Shaky coming down the street. Clyde Bennett getting a shave. Byron Keeter all smiles over the success of the United War Fund.
Frank Summers crossing the street. William Plank in the bank. Andrew Jenkins waiting for the children at school. E. E. Heston and W. A. Frederick talking. Otto Hahn entering the Post Office.
