Nebo News

H. Y. Balk

I should have said in my column last week H. Y. sent me $300 in Japanese government money, not $3.00. Mrs. Broadus McDaniel, George Shipman, Pat and little Miss Cansingham visited your reporter from the Cora Thursday.

I met Mrs. Nell Barber in the city Monday. She was with a good looking soldier boy — her husband, who has been in the Army for six or eight years, including service in the Hawaiian Isles.

Claude Webb went to Charlotte Wednesday on business.

Joe Russian who works in the ship yard in Mobile was a week end visitor in the city.

Rob Parrish hardly breaks even on his cigars. He gives me one every time he opens a new box.

They say it's against the law to tote a gun. I saw Sheriff J. E. Guyton with one.

You may fool your neighbor for a while, but you can't fool the Lord. He knew you before you were born.

I read in the news where it snowed four inches in Boston the 10th of May. It caused the Yanks to walk fast, I bet.

We got an American, Russian, French push on Berlin, and Hitler got married. (Who's the joke on?)

That's over because of that fellow Hess who flew out of Germany and lit in a corn field like a bunch of wild geese and the old farmer rounded him up with a pitch fork?

F. O. Morris has moved back to his nice home on Waco road after working in Tampa for several months. He gave me two dollars for the paper.

Yes, I know its hot weather but we have no right to fret and fume—look how long some of our boys have been in the tropical jungles.

Just another road house killing, caused by liquor and low down women that crowds the dens, but some get the worst end of the bargain.

Meat's getting so scarce they say we have to raise it or take it. I don't believe meat is good for us no way. Cannibals eat meat.

One could raise lots of chicken (so badly needed) if it wasn't for hawks, skunks and rogues.

I met Mr. Carpenter, our friendly policeman, at Midway lunch stand he searched my grocery bag. He must have thought I had stolen something. I know he wasn't hungry.

If they ever get the Bank done it's going to hold a pile of money, room for all.

Miss Martha Walker is working in the Home Store at her old job.

They say Hitler married a little fool actress and they are now gone to Spain for a honeymoon.

I don't see any sense in hauling flowers out to the cemetery after one is dead. Why not give us a few bouquets while we live. I love flowers.

Paul said, "if eating meat cause my brother to offend, I'll eat no more meat." See, Paul didn't have to have any points to get meat.

When you see a rainbow at night after a thunder storm while the moon's shining out bright, it's a sign the earth's growing old. If you could go to the end of the rainbow you would find a bag of precious gold I am told.

There's a time that folks get smoky at each other. We can't tell why the imagination works the wrong way, or probably they are bilious.

I hate to meet folks today who seem so charming. Tomorrow they don't care to know you. Their digestion may be bad.

Since they claim Hitler's married it just won't do to let a bunch of little Hitlers grow up in papa's foot steps. They might be a bigger set of fools than daddy.

Up in Boston the other day an old man paraded the streets barefooted in the snow with a sign pasted on his back: "Two boys in the Army and no shoe stamp."

I don't care a flip, gals, how short you wear 'em. About 4 o'clock I was standing on Depot street, the wind was really blowing, a flock of young girls headed by for the picture show, skirts were fairly dangling in the breeze. I admire short skirts, no use wasting cloth these hot times. Japs fight fiercely until they die. Our boys fight fiercely until they win.

If a man thought as much about dying as he does living, life would be worth living.

The days are long but the week-roll by fast. It's almost always Saturday before one knows it.

I knew a nice family of Pigs down in Union county. There was Sarah Pig, and Susie Pig. They had a brother named Hoggie Pig.

As hot as the weather is I don't see how Ben Smith stays up in the loft and sells things. He's got John what helping him. John carries the tea and does the sprinkling. John went in handy on a bicycle, John don't like work so much, tho.

I wish I could write a column. I'm just a blotch on the pages of time.

If you like me like I like you, read the column, though.
