

WASHINGTON. — The Presidential C-54, known to most in the service as the "Sacred Cow," which was used by General Eisenhower on his return to the United States recently, since it went into service in June 1944 as President Roosevelt's personal plane, has flown across 44 countries. It was used to bring Madame Chiang Kai-Shek from Rio de Janeiro to New York. It is a stock model plane with an elevator and special deluxe interior. It is not being used by President Truman.

V-E Day did not end the critical fat shortages, and patriotic housewives will continue to use every precaution to waste no fat until V-J day, says Mrs. Estelle T. Smith, assistant State demonstration agent of the State College Extension Service.

Why I didn't write a column the past week, I went to the beach to see my peach—they were all about half naked.

Bill Mitchem wants me to write the story of his life. Bill, I wouldn't know which end to commence at.

Brand new police Clay Williams. I regret that Mr. Carpenter took off the gun. Clay will make a good officer, though.

Henry McCarter is home from overseas after serving for five years.

Harold Smith is home after serving many months overseas. He reports to Raleigh.

Buddy Fletcher is home from the Navy after riding the high seas for two years. He reports back to California.

I said in my last column that Harold Barber was proudly showing his wife's picture. I should have said, Ray, Harold is in faraway climes helping keep the devils back.

George Shipman and wife spent Tuesday afternoon visiting Mrs. Brodus McDaniel who underwent a serious operation. She is now better.

R. N. Parrish is figuring on cutting a big ham. I figure on getting a nice slice. I love ham and the rich gravy. Darkies love the watermelons that grow on the vines—fish, too.

Well, we got the hospital. What you going to name it? I named it before it was born—"Lottie Goforth."

Folks turned up their nose at fatback. Now they go from store to store hunting dear old fatback.

Tobe Bell's sister from Charlotte came us the other Saturday driving a Hudson, crossed Nebo bridge. Some thing got wrong with her car. She left it side of the road and caught a ride out to her brother's at Oak Grove.

Tobe came to bring the car in. He found a five gallon can beside the car and a ten foot pipe sucking the tank dry. Tobe says, come and get your can and pipe, but no gas.

I am sorry Glee Bridges lost his shirt tail. Wouldn't make any difference if he had lost his hat.

NASHVILLE. — The Bureau of Aeronautics of Tennessee is offering scholarships this summer for aviation teachers at six colleges. The scholarships provide 192 hours of ground school instruction and 10 hours of flight training.

CHICAGO. — The private flyer in the future may depend upon push-button control to fly his plane under any conditions due to a newly developed high precision gyroscope. This newest "gyro" not only keeps the plane on its course more steadily than the human hand but permits automatic turns, banks and other maneuvers. In addition engineers expect it can control all phases of flight including takeoffs and landings. It is necessary to use only a few instruments to insure positive control of a plane, than the million
