Rev. C. F. Gingles of Dallas, one of Gaston county's leading Negro citizens, died at the Gaston County Hospital at 7 o'clock last Friday evening after a brief illness.

He was born in Gaston County. He was a graduate of Lincoln Academy. He worked in the Gaston county school system for over 40 years, being retired about 2 years ago.

For 15 years he was pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas. At the time of his death he was pastor of Springfield Baptist church, Stanley, and the Ebenezer Baptist church Kings Mountain.

He is survived by four daughters, one son who is in the U. S. Army in France, three grandchildren, six brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Baptist church in Dallas, with the Rev. W. H. Davidson of Charlotte giving the eulogy.

A successful revival was held at the Mt. Zion Baptist church last week with the Rev. Lindsay of Lowell conducting.

Pvt. Boydie Logan of Camp Lee, Va., spent the week end at home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Logan of the Ebenezer community, also their daughter, Miss Lalie Logan of Philadelphia is spending this week with them.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Maude Foster at Wilson street Presbyterian church, Shelby, last Wednesday, August 1. Mrs. Foster had lived in Shelby a number of years. She had taught for 26 years in the primary department of Cleveland high school, Shelby. She retired about two years ago.

She is survived by her husband, the Rev. A. W. Foster, three sons, two of which are serving in the U. S. Army overseas, and one brother.

INTERIOR OF NEW BANK—Shown above is a portion of the interior of the new First National Bank, which is having its official opening today, with open hours during the afternoon and until 3 o'clock tonight. The photographer was unable to get the whole of the bank interior in his lens. The picture shows the teller's booths and the bookkeeping department. To the right of the bookkeeping department, not shown in the picture, is the new safe vault with 500 individual safety deposit boxes.

Plans to extend and improve farm telephone service

Rural telephone service is more highly developed in this country than anywhere else in the world. There are more than four times as many Southern Bell-operated farm telephones in the South today as in 1935. Southern Bell now has underway a wide-range program to further extend and improve telephone service to rural areas.

Our first job will continue to be to help win the war in the Pacific, but as soon as conditions permit, the necessary manpower and equipment will again be put to work on the job of expanding rural service—just as we were busily engaged in expanding this service before the war.

The goal is to bring the telephone to the greatest possible number of farm families.
