Newton Licks Gridmen, 19-0

NEWTON. — Newton-Conover high school Red Devils kept their Western Conference sheet clean here last Friday night as they scored three touchdowns in defeating Kings Mountain Mountaineers 19-0.

Kings Mountain had trouble on the Newton's side. Principal highlight of the Kings Mountain lads was a last quarter passing attack in which they manipulated the lone first down, the defensive play of Dettmar and Neill, and the performance of Backs Cashion and Stowe.

The Devils held the upper hand throughout, as the statistics will show. Nine first downs were counted by the home team while the visitors made only one. The Devils fell down in passing, however. They completed only two out of five, while the Kings Mountain passers and receivers connected for two out of three.

Epps started the game rolling by smashing through the line for a first down early in the first quarter. A pass, Moseley to Link, accounted for another. Punting by Burgess and a fifteen yard penalty assessed against Kings Mountain pushed the visitors back to their own five yard line, but Eden punted to safety. Midway in the first period Burgess raced thirty five yards down the sidelines for a touchdown, but it was called back because of an infraction of rules. The ball was set up for a Newton-Conover score as the first quarter ended, and Burgess made it on the first play of the second quarter, on a ten-yard run. The try for an extra point failed.

The crowd was treated to much excitement in the second quarter. Huffman fumbled for Newton-Conover, but Moseley recovered. A well-placed punt by Burgess caught Kings Mountain in dangerous territory and Eden tried to punt from the five. The kick was partially blocked, but Kings Mountain recovered. A second punt was attempted and blocked. Moseley covered the ball for Newton-Conover's second touchdown. Again the try for an extra point was nil.

Playing on the Kings Mountain team was Payne, an ex-sailor, who is continuing his high school education after seeing service in the war. He left the game with an injured shoulder, though. Huffman and Burgess paired off in the third quarter to add the last touchdown. Huffman ran fifteen yards to set the scene for Quarterback Burgess' 25-yard sprint that ended in pay dirt.

Epps added the only extra point of the evening with a line kick. Kings Mountain came to life in the last quarter and made its only first down of the game. The Mountaineers turned on an aerial attack, too. They got started when Medlin intercepted a Red Devil pass and continued with a 25 yard pass from Cashion to Dettmar. This same combination accounted for another completed pass, but Hewitt of the Red Devils broke up Kings Mountain' offensive by intercepting a third pass.

At least ten players had a part in a fumble that cost Newton-Conover over fifteen yards. Player after player placed hands on the ball as it tumbled down the field — Newton-Conover recovered. The ball then went over to the other team on downs. Outside of the offensive thrusts of Burgess and Moseley, individual performers by the Newton players were not outstanding, but the line worked as a unit to play a good game of ball.

Neill and Dettmar gained defensive honors for the visitors, and Cashion and Stowe showed up best of the offensive.

Songs for a Better World

We were sitting around the embers of Ed Crumppit's bar because last Saturday night, finishing our beer and hot dogs while Ed strummed the guitar... picking out old, friendly songs.

Soon everyone was singing. The harmony wasn't too good... but the spirit was—a spirit of friendship and good humor.

And it made me think how music—music of the people—overcomes barriers of prejudice and intolerance. A Yankee folksong or an English carol or a Southern melody—they all speak a common language of the heart... bind folks together... help us forget our grudges.

From where I sit, music can help to make the whole world kin. Maybe we ought to have a lot more of it... informal sings around the fire, and in the home. And it's sure true that a mellow glass of beer fits into the picture. It just naturally goes with that kind of music.
