W. A. Ware Honored At Dinner On 84th Birthday

Miss Ava Ware honored her father, W. A. Ware, on his 84th birthday at a dinner party on Saturday night. The guests included the elders of the Boyce Memorial A. B. P. church.

The home was lovely in decoration and in the dining room the color note of red, white and green was used entirely. The beautifully appointed dining table was graced with a cloth of white linen set with a graceful centerpiece of white pompon chrysanthemums and red carnations.

Miss Ware was assisted in serving a delectable three course turkey dinner by Mrs. John McGill and Mrs. W. S. Fulton.

At the completion of the main course, Miss Ware presented her father a beautifully decorated cake and all those present joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

"Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance" Held Friday

The younger set of this city held a "Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance" at the Woman's club on Friday night with a large attendance.

The situation as to dates for the occasion was reversed to the effect that the young ladies made the dates and escorted the young men. Some of the young men were presented bouquets by their lady escorts. However, at the dance, it was permissible for either to break on the desired partner.

Misses "Nook" Plonk, Jean Webb and Dorcas Carpenter worked as a committee as to plans, organization, etc.

Punch and cookies were served by Mrs. Troy Carpenter, Mrs. Greer Plonk and Mrs. Halbert Webb who also acted as chaperones at this most enjoyable affair.

Foreign Mission Study Set At Lutheran Church

On Friday evening January 11, at 7 o'clock in the recreation room at St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Mrs. T. A. Putnam of Greenville, S. C., will conduct the foreign Mission Study Class presenting the book "Cross over Africa."

Mrs. Putnam is president of the Women's Synodical of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church which covers all of the southern states, and a speaker who is tremendously interested in this work and most capable of presenting the book, according to the pastor, Rev. W. H. Stender. "We are anxious to have a large class to hear this challenging study for we need to know more about our Christian brothers in other parts of the world and we hope that all of the ladies as well as the men of the church will attend," Mr. Stender stated.

Mrs. Lattimore Honors Houseguests At Party

Mrs. George Lattimore entertained on Thursday afternoon at a dessert rook, honoring her mother, Mrs. R. T. White and a friend, Mrs. J. J. Fleetwood, both of Hertford.

The beautifully furnished home was decorated throughout with asters, gladioli and other cut flowers. The card tables were covered with white cut work pieces and each was centered with a miniature arrangement of narcissus.

When the guests had assembled, a delicious sweet course with coffee was served; after which, rook was played at four tables with Mrs. W. K. Mauney winning the high score prize.

The gracious hostess presented her houseguests with lovely gifts.

The guests included Mesdames White, Fleetwood, M. L. Plonk, Lawrence Mauney, W. S. Dilling, W. K. Mauney, Arthur Hay, Doris Mauney, C. E. Neisler, W. A. Ridenhour, H. N. Moss, H. T. Fulton, Sr., Meeb Ormand, E. C. Cooper, J. E. Anthony and L. P. Baker.

Buffet-Bridge Held At M. A. Ware Home

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ware entertained a number of friends at a delightful buffet-bridge party at their attractive home on Gaston street.

The receiving rooms were beautifully arranged with poinsettias, nandinas and lighted red tapers. The dining room, entirely in candle light, was particularly lovely with artistic decorations. The dining table was spread with an exquisite white Italian cut-work cloth and was set with a most unusual and beautiful centerpiece of "floating candles."

The charming hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. P. D. Herndon and Miss Ava Ware.

Following the delicious dinner, bridge was played at six tables.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Biser, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mauney, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neisler, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Hamrick, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hoke, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Crook, Mrs. Fred Finger, Mr. and Mrs. John McGill and William Plonk.

Mrs. Paul Mauney and Mrs. Fred Finger were presented gifts for winning high score and second high respectively. For the men, B. S. Neill scored high and N. F. McGill second high. Each was presented an attractive prize.
