MRS. HUMES HOUSTON

Miss Frances Goforth Honored By Mrs. Ware.

Mrs. M. A. Ware was the charming hostess on Thursday night when she entertained a number of guests at a dinner party honoring Miss Frances Goforth, charming actress daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Goforth who spent the week with her parents here.

The dining table was spread with a white linen cloth and centered with an artistic arrangement of mixed flowers.

Covers were laid for Miss Goforth, Mrs. E. D. Goforth, Mrs. Jim Mercer, Mrs. Ertle Powers, Mrs. O. W. Myers, Mrs. P. D. Herndon, Miss Mary Frances Gantt and Mrs. Ware.

Mesdames Beam, Osborne Entertain First Grade

Mrs. Ben Bam and Mrs. Bill Osborne were hostesses at the former's home Thursday afternoon at an Easter-egg hunt, entertaining pupils of the first grade of West End school and the teacher, Miss Marjorie Hord. The hostesses are the grade-mothers of the class.

The children had a most enjoyable afternoon hunting eggs and playing games. Mary Ellen Baker was awarded a prize for finding the largest number of eggs.

Mrs. Beam and Mrs. Osborne served ice cream later in the afternoon. To show appreciation for the interest shown them by the grade-mothers, the guests presented each hostess with a lovely crystal vase.

Gaffney Party Feted

Miss Hord, bride-elect Mrs. W. M. Oast of Race street, Gaffney, S. C., entertained at a party last week in honor of her sister Miss Mary Frances Hord of this city, whose engagement to Thomas Cochran of Shelby was announced recently.

Bridge was played during the afternoon, and high score prizes went to Mrs. Harry Caldwell of Gaffney and Mrs. W. H. Brown of Shelby. The bride-elect was presented with iced tea glasses as a gift.

At the close of play a tempting salad course was served.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Paul Kennedy attended the party from Shelby and Kings Mountain, guests included Miss Hord, Mrs. J. A. Harris, Mrs. John Gamble and Mrs. Carl Davidson.

Mrs. Davis Hostess Honoring Miss Gallant

Mrs. Helen Faye Cash Davis was hostess on Tuesday night at a week at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Irene Gallant, bride-elect at the lovely Cash home on York road. A profusion of gorgeous flowers decorated the attractive party rooms where games and contests were enjoyed during the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Grady McCarter, Miss Evelyn Edens and Mrs. H. Y. Ballard. The prizes were presented to the honoree.

Harold Davis, young son of the hostess, pulled in a decorated wagon filled with lovely gifts to the honor guest.

Mrs. Fred Bourque and Mrs. Charlie Harrill were presented stork gifts by the hostess.

Mrs. Davis served a delicious salad with accessories, cake and pineapple juice. Salted nuts were served throughout the evening.

Mrs. Lovett Honored At Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gates gave a birthday dinner, Sunday, April 21st, in honor of Mrs. Gates' mother, Mrs. I. G. Lovett.

Those who attended the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Lovett, Jr., and children of Moravian Falls; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lovett and sons of Martinsville, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lovett and daughter of Durham; Misses Imogene and Niba Lovett of Hudson; Miss Billie Sue Gates and Mr. and Mrs. James Cole and children of this city. Dinner was served picnic style on the lawn.

Cooke-Elliott Wedding Attended By Griffins

Miss Doris Elliott became the bride of J. W. Cooke on Saturday at Hampton Street A. R. P. church in Greenville, S. C.

Mr. Cooke is the brother of Mrs. E. W. Griffin, who with several other members of the Griffin family attended the ceremony. Wilson Griffin and R. W. Kurfees acted as usher and best man respectively.

Preceding the ceremony, the wedding party and guests from this city were entertained at a luncheon at Hotel Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke visited at the Griffin home here on Tuesday.

Miss Griffin Presented In Graduation Recital

Miss Jeanne Griffin, student at Virginia Interment college in Bristol, Va., was presented in her graduation recital in dramatics on last Wednesday in the college auditorium. She read scene I, act I of "Peer Gynt" and "The Show Goose" by Paul Gallied as her recital pieces.

Miss Griffin, outstanding student and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Griffin of this city, is a member of Delta Psi Omega National Fraternity of Speech. The fraternity is a very honorable society for both men and women, who become members only by merit.

Miss Griffin was chosen recently to represent her college at the annual Fine Arts Forum which was held at Woman's college in Greensboro.

Following the recital Miss Griffin entertained the faculty and her guests at a reception in the student's lounge. Guests attending from Kings Mountain included Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, Wilson and Walter Griffin and R. W. Kurfees, Mrs. Griffin's father.
