

Mrs. William Sage Fulton, Jr., whose marriage took place at First Baptist church in Waynesville on Saturday, June 8th, prior to her wedding was Miss Ruth Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Greene, of Fines Creek and teacher in the Kings Mountain city schools.—Engraving courtesy of The Waynesville Mountaineer.

Greene-Fulton Vows Were Spoken At Waynesville Church Saturday

Waynesville.—The marriage of Miss Ruth Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Greene, of Fines Creek, to William Sage Fulton, Jr., of Kings Mountain, was solemnized here at the First Baptist church at 5 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 8th. The Rev. L. G. Elliott, pastor of the church, pronounced the vows, using the double ring ceremony.

Ferns, branched candelabra and large baskets of white gladioli were used to decorate the altar while lighted cathedral candles burned in the windows against a background of greenery.

A program of music was rendered prior to taking of the vows by Mrs. Fred Campbell, vocalist, and Mrs. W. L. Matney, organist. Mrs. Campbell, accompanied by Mrs. Matney, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "Because." Mrs. Matney played "Indian Love Call" and "Liebestraum," by Liszt, using a traditional wedding marches for the professional and the recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory Duchess satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a high neckline, trimmed down the front with tiny self covered buttons, and the sleeves were three quarter length, fashioned of satin, with a net undersleeve ending in points over the hand. The finger tip veil was of French illusion and was worn with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book to which was attached a white orchid.

Miss Margaret Green, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of pink mousseline de soie with a fitted bodice, with a sweetheart neckline, and the skirt fell in full lengths in bustle mode. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers in pastel shades.

Miss Dorothy Green, another cousin of the bride, and Miss Sue Kelly were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of green net fashioned on similar lines as that of the maid of honor, and their flowers were also old-fashioned nosegays of mixed pastel shades.

Bill Davis, of Kings Mountain, served as best man and ushers were Martin Harmon, Mariott Phifer, Drace Peeler, all of Kings Mountain, and Warren Belk of Orangeburg, S. C. Mrs. Greene, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece ensemble of pink crepe. Her accessories were in white, while Mrs. Fulton, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of black, with black and white accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony at the church, the parents of the bride entertained with a reception at the hotel Gordon. The receiving line was composed of the bridal party and parents of the bride and bridegroom. Assisting at the reception in serving were: Mrs. Claude Rogers, Mrs. Wayne Corpening, Mrs. John Carver, Mrs. Frank Kirkpatrick, Miss Edith Noland, Miss Sara Queen, and Miss Hilda Jones, while Miss Zodie Graves presided at the gift table and Mrs.

Needle Knack
If the homemaker has a knack with a needle, she may make some of the clothes, curtains, or slip covers. Repairs, painting, and even simple furniture may be the contribution from the men in the family. Of course, say the family economists, when doing a job at home, make sure the saving is worth the time and effort it takes. Sometimes materials and equipment cost almost as much as the ready-made article. Also, if family members are inefficient in doing a job, they may waste valuable time and materials. But most people can readily learn some skills that are real money savers.

Chameleon's Eyelids Fused
The lids of the chameleon's eyes are fused, leaving an opening no larger than the pupil.
