NEBO VALLEY NEWS
 By H. Y. Belk

Had a letter from Forrest Sipes, in the hospital, Mountain Home, Tenn.

Mrs. J. C. Crashaw and her two children of Burlington spent last week with her father, R. N. Parrish.

Charles Gantt is visiting his parents at Nebo. He is attending school at Mars Hill.

Rev. Jim Hicks sold his home and is moving to Old Fort. We regret the loss of these good people.

Rev. A. E. has a call from the Methodist church at Rock Hill, moving from Mt. Airy.

Pat Belk was a dinner guest at his grandpaw's Sunday.

I told the reader public that Harry Smith had gone to work. Four different girls called him over the phone and asked him if he had a flat pocketbook, he didn't.

Rob Parrish bought Claud Stroppe's interest in the wine shop on the Western Front.

What I met in town Monday—Chief Tommy Farr getting a shoe shine at Wright's barber shop — Constable Will Blackburn coming out of the town hall — Arthur Crouse on the street — Haywood Allen at the drug store — Clarence Gladden at the Cafe — Mr. Crowell at the beer shop — several women swinging on to their pocketbooks a yard long and a foot wide. Also met Martin's Medicine banging away on typewriter, taking notes. Next thing I saw was Ben Smith leaning up against the bank when I left town for home.

It's not the gal with biggest pocketbook under her arm that carries the most money. I met a little country woman, she had a roll looked like she had a hundred dollars in it, right down in her stocking, she took off her shoe, kept her foot right on it. How did I see it? She showed it to me. When she pulled her shoe off she told me not to say anything about it. I didn't.

Let's get this.—The relation between nations are not those between our love-sick boys and their sweethearts, and they cannot be said with flowers.

We are urged by many to have good will toward the Soviet Union but peace just didn't come just by goodwill. It doesn't come by just liking some country. The Englishman like the Americans in 1776 yet they fought against us for five years in the very midst of a great friendship. To make a long story short—the next fight will be with Russia—it's not too far off.

Next month is September. The War Lords are calling for $25,000 or rather they are going to draft that number to meet the crying needs of our Army.

Now the government is fixing to send 2,000 WAC's over to entertain our home sick boys. Wonderful world but you can't but like it.

Looks like South Carolina will just have to change their election laws. On the present set-up there's no way to make the voters vote the way they are told to vote.

America would lose one of its richest assets if the individual citizen did not feel a compelling responsibility to care for his less fortunate neighbors. The old age assistance in North Carolina is a burning shame on the state. I'll say no more.

Let's send our money to Europe. I've never heard direct of anyone starving over there. I've a boy over there. He writes me he hasn't seen anyone looking like they were hungry.

Praying for rain dates back long before the birth of Christ. Elijah prayed for it not to rain and it rained not for the space of three years and six months, then he stretched out his hands to heaven and

Now in the early August each year the Hopis Indians in the Northwest stage their annual snake dance with live poisonous reptiles. This is the Hopis way of praying for rain and of course it rains, snakes or no snakes.

Certain women suffer from a strange compulsion to buy anything that's scarce. The day of the false rumor got around that dried fruit was going back on points, one woman who had not bought five packages in the past five years walked off with one dozen packages. Why are women more sensitive about things that are hard to get than men. If a man has only one shirt to his back his wife can't hardly get it off of him on wash day. I have often seen a man up town with a half shirt on. It's not the wife's fault. She'd buy all the shirts in town if she only had the points. You brag on a woman and in turn she'd die for you, points or no points.

When Gene Sawyer saw a dime on the sidewalk he stopped to pick it up and dropped his glasses, then he stepped on the glasses, slipped and fell and broke his leg, but he got the dime.

America, wherever one goes we see America.

In strong young faces, in faces that smile,

In faces that frown, in face all around America the strong, America the free, Brave America we see.

A fool man came by my way and tried to argue me that the unions were taking the country. He was from Morganton, so he said. I let him go.

7,000 blind people in the State of North Carolina. Let's all give to the blind on that day.

If an automobile has been driven or towed through deep water, its a good idea to make sure that no water has gotten into the crankcase. Drops of water can usually be seen on the oil checking stick if there is any in the crankcase.—General Motor's User's Guide.

SELF REGULATION

Our Responsibility

The sole aim of the United States Brewers Foundation is that the sale of beer in North Carolina shall conform to the highest plane of social responsibility and law observance.

Toward this end, a definite program of education and self-regulation within the industry, and in full cooperation with law enforcement agencies, has been in operation for more than seven years.

Field men regularly check on the places where beer is sold. Where necessary, the state director warns an operator concerning certain corrections that must be made. In such cases, most retailers respond quickly. As to the few who do not, steps are taken to eliminate them.

All branches of the brewing industry are pledged to the maintenance of wholesome conditions wherever beer is sold.
