Davidson Alumni To Meet Tonight

Davidson, N. C., Oct. 15.—Davidson College alumni in the Gastonia area will gather Thursday night at the Armington Hotel in Gastonia at 7:00 o'clock for their first meeting in several years. W. J. Pharr of McAdenville, president of the local organization, will preside. Dr. John R. Cunningham, college president, will be the principal speaker. Also on the program will be Bill Story, new coach of the Wildcat football team. In addition to the alumni and their wives, the parents of students now attending Davidson and special guests are also invited to be present to receive the news from the campus.

The meeting is the second in a series scheduled for North and South Carolina this fall in the College's alumni reorganization program. The purpose of the meeting is to perpetuate the friendships formed in college, to promote the welfare of Davidson and its alumni, and to promote the cause of education generally. The only business to come up during the conclave will be the election of officers for the coming year.

All alumni and parents of students in the area who plan to attend should contact Fred P. Herndon in Gastonia before the meeting.

Someone has come up with a key made by use of a skeleton key. The gimix fits into the keyhole and only the proper door key will open it.
