Several fests out this way reminds us that winter is in the air. Hog killing time next week.

This week is "turkey" week. It's an annual event. I don't know where the origin started but it must of been long ago.

Men tell me that the world is getting so much better. We talk of our American civilization. We forget the alarming increase of crime in our midst. It is said that there is no civilized country on the globe where murder is so frequently committed and so seldom punished.

Some of our fair young ladies quit school, get married to some old stick of a man, get promoted to the kitchen.

And yet still there are 8,000 war brides in London waiting to go to the United States. They will be sent over before the end of the year. Some 800 British war brides have been de-

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR — HIS TRIBE IS VANISHING — Fast fading from the American scene is the country doctor. The ranks of these hardy men who have contributed so much to the rich heritage of the American medical profession are growing smaller every year. As the old timers die or retire, few young doctors move in to take their place, since most modern medical school graduates establish in urban centers. With the shortage of rural doctors now a definite menace to the health of farm families, the State Medical Care Commission has put forth a plan which offers a solution to the problem. The Good Health Association has undertaken to acquaint the people of the state with the Medical Care plan and the urgent need for its adoption.

Discolored Plants
Plants discolored by yellow leaves with green veins may need iron. A cup of iron sulphate (copperas) applied to 10 square feet immediately about the plant will supply the iron which is lacking. Results should begin to show in about three or four weeks. For a slower, but more lasting effect, make a heavy application of decayed grass clippings or other decayed vegetable matter, or a cup of sulphur applied to the soil about the plant.

Fish and game protectors of the N. C. Division of Game and Inland Fisheries obtained convictions of 2,733 law violators in the first nine months of 1944.

BONDED SERVICE

Had you ever thought a bachelor is a man that's willing to let good enough alone? I advise him, don't ever call him a fool.

A man is a fool to borrow trouble. You may not need it and you can't pay it back.

Truman will go down in history as a quitter. When he vetoed the Case bill, he killed off the last bit of respect the people ever had for him or his judgment.

A liar is one who borrows your money and don't pay it back.

A fool is one who pawns his watch to buy strong drink—whiskey.

A loving neighbor is one who knows more about your business than you do, and looks after it for you, but he don't pay your grocery bills.

I have lived much longer than most of my readers, and I do know the way to a woman's heart is through a man's pocketbook. Yes, sure, there's other ways but this is the surest way to ketch her—so when the money gets gone, she gets gone.

A barber is a man that shaves and cuts hair once in a while and talks all the time to different folks.

With most of us it is more blessed to get than to give.

I have never met an honest man that found fault with the Ten Commandments.

If God created this world, He must make some laws to govern it. In order to make life safe we must have good laws. There is not a country the sun shines upon that does not possess laws bad and good.

We divide lies into, white lies, black lies, society lies, business lies and so a lie is a lie no matter what are the circumstances. As a rule women are more often to lie than men, if they lie at all. It's about the price of that new gown, or hat, men lie when they trade horses or buy old plug mules.

Show me a people whose trade is dishonest and I will show you a people whose religion is a sham.

I'd rather a man would tell a lie on me, than a sweet little woman.

They tell me lots of folks up in Alaska starving to death. Its cold, cold up there. A soldier writes me from Ft. Greely that the snow was 8 feet deep and he hadn't seen the sun in six weeks. I'm not going to Alaska soon, now how.

Oh, well, I never thought I'd be a poet.

When you come to my house for a meal, Come across the bridge on your heel; If you haven't got the money of the reel, Bring the meat and the meal and the leard.

It's time to close.

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

As nylon fabrics become more numerous, questions as to proper laundering are also increasing in numbers. Clothing specialists give you these hints to help get your nylons clean safely and with little work.

Use lukewarm water and a mild soap. Use the same soap as you use for any washable fabric. Rinse well without wringing or twisting and your fabric will last longer.

Do not force-dry or hang colored fabrics directly on or above a radiator. They may fade if you do. Direct sunlight may also fade such material.

Properly finished nylon fabric is highly resistant to wrinkling and only requires touching up with a warm iron. Do not use a hot iron. Ironing the wrong side when your garment is slightly damp helps to take out wrinkles.

You can use most cleaning agents on nylon. Because of the nature of some dyes, it is a good idea to try a bit on an inconspicuous part of the garment first. If there is any doubt send your garment to a reliable dry cleaner.

The careless use of non-perspirant or deodorants may do as much or more damage to garments than perspiration, according to textile and clothing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. When a good dress goes to pieces under the arm or changes color, even skillful patching may not chemicals women should be careful to follow directions on the label. Any chemical strong enough to stop perspiration may rot fabric or cause the dye to fade or change in color. Cotton and rayon fabrics especially are likely to be rotted by preparations that are too strong.

and successful living.

Postwar Paints
In a survey of new products and services, the New York Journal of Commerce comments that bright colors, long wear and easy application are features of postwar paints, and that quick drying has been developed without sacrifice of durability. Ease of application is stressed in anticipation of a prolonged shortage of skilled painters.
