

NOTICE OF SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale as provided by a judgment in the Special Proceedings entitled "J. H. Ware and wife, vs. W. E. Ware, et al," said judgment having been signed by his honor, Hoyle Sink, judge presiding over the October, November term, 1946 of the Superior Court for Cleveland County, North Carolina, I the undersigned, will sell for cash on the premises of the land hereinafter described on Saturday, February 8th, 1947, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., or within legal hours, the following described real estate:

All of lots Numbers 1 through 75 inclusive as shown on a map or plat made by L. B. Falls, Surveyor, on the 20th day of December, 1946, of the N. M. Ware estate which plat is now on record in the Register of Deeds Office for Cleveland County in book of plats 5 at page 1.

The lands of the late N. M. Ware, deceased, have been surveyed and platted and same will be offered for sale in lots separately and then as a whole. There is located on lot No. 1, Ware, deceased.

The above described property is located near the Waco Road about one mile northwest of Kings Mountain.

Ten percent (10 pct) deposit will be required on all sales and the sale will stand open 15 days for raise of bid. All sales must be confirmed by the Court.

A plat of the property is in the office of J. E. Davis Attorney and may be seen by a prospective purchaser.

This the 4th day of January, 1947.
B. D. Batterree,
Commissioner.

Inflate or Deflate?

Inflation is one of those things you talk about when you do not have it. We have a mild case of inflation now. We do not want it, but we are perhaps less scared about it now than we were before it came. Most of us do not mind adding to the spiral a little bit, though we may dislike to see other folks do so. We seem assured that there is "turn about for everybody" in the inflation spiral.

Some features of our snarled up labor-management relations, with the consequent petty production and lower income for strikers, would represent deflation of a sort. But we must know that when we push our wages up and up, we simply must have production to justify these increased costs. If we do not, we shoot ahead, as the laws of economics begin to make adjustments.

Plain Economics
Higher wages without increased production create a situation that bears some resemblance to strikes without production. Either one will cripple American industry, and this is a time when labor cannot afford to contribute to industrial chaos. People the world over need goods desperately, even people with an inflation already well past our own. The only answer is production! We must produce, produce, produce.

Without production, any wage premiums which labor asks and wins represent the direst sort of inflation and public liability. We have already approached the danger point. Now, without price control, it is easier to see plain economics in operation. Labor costs represent most of the cost of our manufactured goods. Any increased costs, as well as the costs of scarcities, will be passed directly to the people.

Coal, For Example
Suppose the nation's coal supplies are shut off. Bituminous coal provides 55% of our industrial energy, 62% of our electric power, and 65% of our industrial power. No coal means no steel, and the shortage pressures then begin operating to force up prices of everything we buy. Higher prices for coal mean higher prices for steel. Steel is one of the basic ingredients of thousands of things we require daily, and soon up goes the general level of prices for consumer goods and for services as well.

Suppose the miners win wage increases. Their success is eyed by wage earners in varied other industries and crafts. Already the industrial unions have made top billing of a new drive for increased wages. Up go prices again. That's plain economics.

We like inflation for ourselves, when it is going our way, but generally we prefer to deflate the other fellow. It is time somebody thought of the Golden Rule. May I submit that production is the Golden Rule way to steer ourselves out of this jam and to keep the traditional American freedoms we so much cherish.
