SPORT SHOTS

BY CHARLES CARPENTER

Joe Lee Woodward, P. D. Herndon, and Tom McKee went down to the Monday night session of the N. C. Wildlife Federation meeting in Raleigh and report that out-of-staters there stated they'd never seen such a determined bunch of anglers and hunters, determined that is to do something about the lack of game and fish. 'Divorcement' should come soon is the majority opinion and any member of the KMSWC who would write Mr. Mull and Mr. Weathers and any other representative they know would certainly be getting in a good word at an opportune moment because now is the time — who knows; the legislature is probably in a 'hot' debate over the issue right now and only course they can take is one that will best serve the voters. So write and let them know you want some game and fish around Kings Mountain.

played at home and all were loop games — all four wins came against "C" teams: Cliffside, Cherryville, Charlotte (Tech), and Caroleen — they have four losses to their record, all away from the home hardwood, and two of them Western conference losses—Friday night they go to the county capital, Shelby, and tangle with the vaunted Lions — perhaps if more local fans would follow the team they would pull a victory away from home — SPORTSHOTS thinks there will be plenty of Kings Mountain traffic on the Shelby highway come Friday night. James Amos, local veteran and student at the University of North Carolina this year, is a member of the Tar Heel boxing squad this year. James fights in the 175 pound class and, although he lost his first go, is determined to stick it out. He likes the game and we hope he's right in there slugging leather on the next ring card up there. Conduct of fans at Central gymnasium is vastly improved and it looks like sportsmanship is gaining ground. Remember, if you can't always be a winner, you can always be a GOOD SPORT. An Revolt!

DRESS UP FOR SPRING

French Influence

Johnnye Junior brings enchanting foreign flavor to your very door-step! It's colorful two-piecer with the peplum jacket in an exclusive abstract print copied from a famous French painting . . . laced at the waist with an inch-whittling basque belt. The trim and slim skirt affords dark contrast in this favorite for spring.
