Overweight Aggravated by Worry and Fear, Doctor Says

Overweight is aggravated by emotional tensions, such as worry, fear or insecurity, which lead to an increased intake of food, according to Dr. S. Charles Freed of San Francisco, who questions the belief that obesity results from glandular disturbance.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Freed deplors the fact that "overweight is discussed only occasionally, and education of the public in this regard is sadly neglected, although the prevention or treatment of obesity has a far greater benefit in increasing the life span and combating degenerative changes than that of practically any other disease or dysfunction."

He states that "while there might be doubt as to the shortening of life by such factors as smoking, tobacco, alcohol and exercise, there is unanimous agreement of all authorities that overweight has a decided effect on decreasing the span of life. Statistics overwhelmingly show that overweight not only results in an increased death rate but also is responsible for the earlier development of cardiovascular-renal (pertaining to the heart, blood vessels and kidney) diseases, diabetes and even cancer."

Freezing Rolls

If you plan to freeze rolls ahead of time for a party or for unexpected company, it's better to freeze the shaped rolls rather than to freeze the dough in a large ball or in a sheet, according to Dr. Faith Fenton, who has conducted research on frozen cooked foods at Cornell. She reports that some of the frozen unbaked rolls used in their experiments were excellent after eight weeks' storage. As to whether the rolls should be allowed to rise or not to rise, Dr. Fenton says that fully-risen rolls that were thawed before they were baked tended to lose volume and flatten out during thawing. The half-risen rolls did not rise completely and also flattened out and had a coarse texture. The rolls frozen before rising were excellent when all precautions were used. These included keeping the rising period to a minimum and not storing the rolls too long.

The number of veterans awaiting admission to Veterans Administration hospitals is showing a downward trend because VA is able to take care of more patients every month.

Central Drops Finale To Lincolnton, 20-4

Central high Mountaineers dropped their last conference game of the 1947 baseball season in City Stadium last Thursday night, going down to the Lincolnton nine by a 20 to 4 score. Central held a 4 to 2 lead in the seventh but blew sky-high, allowing the Wolves to tally 16 runs in the last three times at bat.

Bud Medlin started on the mound for Central, walking off in the 7th in favor of Bill Caldwell. Don Ellison and F. C. Humphries finished the struggle.

Shoes of Berliners 'Lost' in Repair Shop; Courts Helpless

BERLIN. — Berliners, distrustful of neighborhood service shops, have started having only one of their shoes soled at a time. They have found if they leave only one shoe in the repair shop they are more likely to get it back.

Lower German courts have been flooded with damage suits against shoemakers, tailors and laundries by customers who left shoes, watches, wearing apparel and linen for repairs or cleaning, only to find that the items were "lost."

Testimony indicated that the items found their way into the black market where heavy prices are paid for scarce consumer goods articles newly repaired, while tradesmen showed a "willingness" to refund the original purchase price.

Complainants, however, are not satisfied with such a settlement because they are unable to replace their belongings at that price.

The lost and found department of the Berlin police reports that around two hundred persons come daily looking for lost goods, most of them fruitlessly.

One item, frequently lost but never turned over to the lost and found department, is a food ration card.

Vanishing Birds

Many North American birds are in a precarious situation. The great white heron population of southern Florida shows no appreciable increase. The roseate spoonbill is possibly in more danger as a nester in the United States. None of the existing races of prairie chickens is in any too satisfactory a position, with one race reduced to approximately 8,000 birds. The masked bobwhite, formerly occurring in fair numbers within the United States, has become extirpated except for local colonies in Mexico. The largest and most magnificent woodpecker in the United States, the ivory-billed woodpecker, now is reduced to a few individuals in a heavily forested tract in Louisiana.

Almost four times as many veterans are receiving Veterans Administration outpatient treatment now as a year ago, making additional VA hospital beds available for the more seriously ill veterans.

BC 1, DP—McDonald to Lohr, Dixon to Franklin to Sherman, none. SO—Mincey 4, Haynes 3, Hinkie—Off Mincey 12 in 7 innings. Mincey 5 in 2; Haynes 7 in 9. PB—Millwood, WP—Mincey 3. Wining pitcher—Haynes Losing Pitcher—Mincey, Time

Veterans with chronic ailments who can not support themselves are cared for in VA homes. The number now in homes is the largest since the beginning of World War II.
