Seeks To Continue Summer Program

Definite plans are underway to bolster the fast-fading city recreation program it has been announcced, with a meeting scheduled for last night at the Woman's club build ing after the Kiwanis meeting, of all persons interested in providing recreation for the youth of Kings Mountain.

City recreation plans for the coming year took a re-bound last week with the action of the city council that it was unable to budget funds for the needed program.

with the idea in mind to gain funds for the carrying out of the full program as announced by Clyde Canipe city recreation director, two weeks ago.

At it's June 10 meeting, the city fathers found no surplus from sources of revenue other than taxes to provide funds for the city recreation commission. State ruling is that no funds received from taxes can be used for recreation.

On June 3 the city recreation com mission met with the city council to discuss problems relative to bud geting funds for recreation.

Cash balance of the recreation commission at that time was $4.80. and recreation officials were anxlously awaiting a report of whether the city would have a 1946-47 surplus on its water and light operations or from some other non-tax source of revenue.
Plans announced by Mr. Canipe on June 1 called for a well-rounded program, including a men's softball eague, bantam baseball league, o pening of Central playground and gymnasium, girls softball and vol-ley ball, and a swimming program.

The system was installed in the county by the selling agent and according to county officials, is near perfect communication.

Deputies Haywood Allen and Bob Kendrick, along with Officer Spake of the Shelby police department and the test operator, picked up Com-missioner Glee Bridges and the Herald correspondent in Kings Mountain Tuesday afternoon and, while traveling south on U. S. 29, reported location to Sheriff Logan and carried on a lengthy conversation.

Sheriff Logan stated that the sys tem had been tested in the mountainous northern part of the county and worked perfectly, "like sitting on my desk and carrying on a conversation" he said. Commissioner Bridges asknowled
