

Drama Endorsed By Local Women

The mystery drama, "Arsenic and Old Lace," which is being brought here May 6 by the Parent-Teacher Association of Central school has been heartily endorsed by a group of local women who saw the performance on April 2 in Rock Hill, S. C. Mrs. Moffatt Ware, one of the group who has seen the play presented by the Rock Hill, S. C. Little Theatre Group, says "Arsenic and Old Lace" is a good show, full of mystery, comedy, tragedy and in all, an evening of clean entertainment.

William Luther McDermott, Professor of Art at Winthrop College, is the director of the play which is to be presented here in the auditorium of Central school at 8 o'clock on Thursday, May 6. Mr. McDermott has also given of his time and talent in directing for the Rock Hill Little Theatre Group another Broadway favorite, "Dear Ruth."

Among the characters is one who will draw the interest of many local people. Miss Margaret Chreitberg, teacher of English in Central high school back in 1926, takes the part of Martha Brewster in the play. Her fame in making and serving elderberry wine is a highlight of the story. Her sister, Miss Harriott Chreitberg, plays a sister part—that of Abby Brewster. These two spinsters are very sympathetic to bachelors and widows who apply for lodging and devote their lives, to what they feel to be, their Christian duty. They are supported by other characters that are well chosen, especially their six-foot, robust brother, Teddy.

Central PTA members, sponsors of the play, asks that the people of Kings Mountain support their children by attending the performance. Tickets, 75c for adults and 50c for children, went on sale here this week. They may be purchased at the Kings Mountain Drug Store or from Central students.
